Inverness Hashish Raiders Arrest 10

'New Faces' Caught In A Record Haul

Federal, state and Marin narcotics agents yesterday converged on a secluded hilltop house near Inverness to confiscate what was termed probably the biggest haul of hashish ever made in the United States.

The eight-hour raid started about 2 p.m. as agents staked out the intersection of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Balboa Avenue, where they hoped a large buy of hashish would take place.

The whole affair almost collapsed, however, when the suspected sellers' borrowed car stalled on the way to the house where the drugs were stashed.

Helpful agents, however, gave the suspects a push up the hill toward the house at 1000 Drakes View Drive.

IN SALE

Soon the red sports car returned to the intersection, and agents nestled in nearby trees and other hiding spots watched the exchange of $6,000 for 11 kilos of the powerful form of marijuana.

They then arrested the three men involved in the sale, James Willard Clapp, 21, of La Habra; John Brad McCall, 22, of 593 Ethel Avenue, Mill Valley, and John Peter Sindicich, 23, of Richmond.

A search warrant was obtained from Judge David R. Baty of Northwest Marin Justice Court, and 15 agents and deputies in several cars headed for the Drakes View Drive house.

The residents, apparently having become suspicious of the unusual number of cars in their secluded neighborhood, seemed on the verge of flight, according to Lt. James C. Schwedhelm of the Marin Drug Abuse Bureau.

The three residents of the house, rented about 10 days ago for $275 a month, were arrested, however, as well as three young women and a man who said they were just visitors.

RENTED 10 DAYS

Booked on charges of possession of hashish for sale and possession of dangerous drugs were the renters, Eric Gerald Monde, 21; James Gordon Dyer Jr., 20, and Craig Ritchie Westling, 22; and their guests, Patrick Bell O'Regan, 22, of 654 Woodland Drive, San Rafael; Joann Myers, 19, and Linda Eleanor Penn, 22, both of San Francisco, and Kathryn Ann Schwacker, 18, of Cedarberg, Wash.

"We found hashish all over the place," agents said after the search which took several hours. One agent accidentally kicked a rock outside the house and uncovered a large cache of the drug. A trunk containing more contraband was found outside, also.

By the time the agents had weighed all the half-pound bricks of the drug they found, they totalled the haul at 11,783 grams which would retail on the

Reagan Tax Plan Stalled

BULLETIN

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly formally killed its version of Gov. Ronald Reagan's $6.23 billion budget today, leaving the budget for the next fiscal year solely in the hands of the Senate.

Democrats refused to grant reconsideration of the budget bill, which was defeated yesterday, and have it sent to the Assembly's inactive file.

COMBINED AP & UPI

SACRAMENTO — Gov Ronald Reagan's tax program remained stalled in committee today while an informal legislative group worked on its own tax reform package.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, said the bipartisan group probably would agree by next week on the basic contents of the package. But he could not estimate when the complicated program would be drafted into legal language and brought out for action.

Meanwhile, Democrats tried to pry Reagan's tax bills out of Bagley's Revenue and Taxation Committee during a meeting yesterday afternoon — just a few hours after Democrats had blocked passage of Reagan's $6.23 billion budget.

One of their conditions on passing a budget — the governor needs some Democratic support — is a hand in writing whatever tax revision program is approved by the legislature this year — if any.

During the budget debate, Assembly Democratic Leader Jesse M. Unruh challenged Republicans to put the governor's tax plan on the floor for full debate and a vote.

"I challenge them now and I intend to challenge them every day from now until the end of

I-J REPORTER LOOKS INTO 'DRUG CULTURE'

After a while, Mark got up and left the room. A short time later, he returned with a hypodermic holding a faintly cloudy substance. "That's speed," Linda said quietly as he looked at me—defiantly, I thought—and injected himself. His arm bore evidence of previous needles.

"You want me to go?" I asked as he sat down again, still silent. "Why?" Linda asked. I stayed . . .

Foreign Aid Request Is Least Ever

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Richard M. Nixon asked Congress today to authorize $2.58 billion in foreign aid spending, the smallest request in the 22-year history of the overseas assistance program.

The requested amount, actually an increase over the $1.75 billion appropriated last year, almost certainly will be trimmed further by Congress, according to Capitol Hill observers.

Nixon's plan, including major innovations in the foreign aid program, calls for authorization of $2.21 billion in economic assistance and $375 million for military assistance for the year beginning July 1. The economic request was $138 million less than recommended by the previous administration for the same period. The military aid

Directors Fight Lagoon Measure

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

SACRAMENTO—Bolinas Harbor District directors, despite the March vote by the citizens of the district that the lagoon be turned over to the county, are promoting a strong campaign against the bill that would carry out the mandate of the voters.

The bill (AB 2295), by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, is due for a final vote in the lower house, and from there will go to the Senate for committee hearing.

But frequent telephone calls and a barrage of letters have been thrown at legislators in an effort to have them either weaken the bill, or to kill it by shipping it off for an interim study.

Thomas J. Barfield, president of the harbor district board, testified against the bill when it was heard last week by the Assembly Natural Resources and Conservation Committee, but the committee approved it after Bagley argued that it was a matter that had been "settled locally" by the March dissolution election.

But the committee, at the urging of Assemblyman Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles, amended the bill to require the county to submit its plans for the lagoon to the State Lands Commission within three years. If the commission rejected the plans, the

PUC Would Underground All Utilities

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California Public Utilities Commission moved today in the direction of putting all utility lines in the state underground.

Commissioner A. W. Gatov of Kentfield, and PUC Examiner John R. Gillanders issued a proposed order which would establish as a statewide standard the undergrounding of all utility lines in new construction, except high voltage lines and their steel supporting towers.

The order would also treat any relocation of presently overhead lines as new construction to be undergrounded.

The order came out of an investigation started four years ago. Final decision will be made by the full utilities commission after reaction from utilities and other participating parties are received.

Novatan May Get Moscow Job

The new U.S. Embassy in Moscow may be designed by Novato City Councilman Douglas M. Merrrill, Mayor Harley A. McAskill announced at the close of last night's council meeting.

Merrill could not confirm or deny it. He said that he knew that his employer, Skidmore, Owings and Merrill, architects of San Francisco, had been negotiating with the State Department on designing the new Embassy, but had not been officially notified to date whether or not it had the job.

If he gets the job, it would require one or two trips to Moscow to get the site requirements, Merrill said. (Other Novato Council stories, page 12.)

Hub Council Finally Has New Mayor

The San Anselmo City Council, ending clannish allegiances, selected Woodrow V. Capurro as the city's new mayor last night. (Other San Anselmo City Council stories, pages 10, 11.)

The council had failed to name a mayor in the last three meetings, but hope was high when the matter appeared as the first item on a tedious agenda and Mayor Duane C. Ragan announced his determination to settle the issue.

Capurro was selected in one ballot by a 4-0 vote, Capurro himself abstaining.

"I must say I'm quite surprised," he said.

The finale started when Councilman Robert M. Scott, who was vice mayor under Ragan and normally would have become mayor, nominated Capurro. Ragan, who had earlier declined to support Scott, nominated Scott, but Scott curtly declined.

Then the vote was taken putting Capurro in office. James F. Reed was unanimously named vice mayor.

On April 8, the council, in five 2-2 votes, deadlocked in the choice of a mayor, with Reed and Kenneth L. Anderson voting for another term for Ragan and Capurro supporting Scott, who voted for himself. In refusing to vote for himself Ragan caused the deadlock which was unbroken until last night.

Capurro, 48, is in his second, four-year term as councilman and served as mayor in 1965.

'People's Park' Pressure Rises; Reagan Stands Pat

BERKELEY (AP) — The University of California, owner of the controversial fenced-in three-acre lot known as "People's Park," faced growing pressure today to change its mind about it.

A protest demonstration of 50,000 is planned for Friday over the park.

The university's Academic Senate at Berkeley urged yesterday that the fence be removed from at least part of the park to make it "open to public use this week." The senate also urged the university to lease the land to the city for a park, and asked Gov. Ronald Reagan to lift the state of emergency and withdraw National Guard troops from Berkeley.

In Sacramento, Reagan said the guard would remain in Berkeley at least through Friday to handle the mass protest march.

"Whatever force is needed will be on hand," he said.

Asked if the fence would stay up, he replied, "Yes."

Reagan took the approach that the march is to tear down the fence.

March sponsors say it is planned as a Memorial Day tribute to James Rector, 25, who was fatally shot May 15 in disturbances that followed the fencing-in of the park which "street people" had planted with grass and flowers.

Berkeley's city councilmen defeated a motion last night that called for the city to lease the

Yorty Bounces Back —Voted Third Term

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mayor Sam Yorty, an underdog after running second in the primary, bounced back today and captured his third term in a runoff election with Thomas Bradley, a Negro councilman.

Voters of the nation's third largest city turned out in record numbers in the climax of a bitterly fought campaign, upsetting pollsters' predictions.

Supporters of Bradley said they had lodged a complaint with the state attorney general's office over a "candidates card" widely distributed in areas where the city's 15 to 20 per cent Negro population lives.

They claimed the card said Bradley votes should be made on hole No. 3 of the punchcard-computer ballot. If voters did so, they would have voted for Yorty.

Bradley, 51, a former police lieutenant who hoped to become the third Negro mayor of a major U.S. city, refused to concede.

He won 42 per cent of the vote to Yorty's 26 per cent in the April primary, but was forced into a runoff when he failed to gain a majority. Pollsters right up to election day had him maintaining a margin.

Semiofficial returns from all but six of 2,890 precincts in yesterday's runoff gave Yorty 447,000, or 53 per cent, to Bradley's 392,379, or 47 per cent.

For the 59-year-old Yorty, running on his eight-year performance as mayor, the heavy vote turnout appeared the key to victory.

Bradley's 100,000-vote edge in the primary came as 66 per cent of the 1,127,000 registered voters went to the polls. This time the

Warning Bill Passed In House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Commerce Committee approved legislation today that would strengthen the health warning on cigarette packages but bar advertising curbs aimed at smoking.

The committee voted 22-5 to extend until 1975 the basic cigarette legislation of 1965.

Under the bill, the new labeling requirements would say: "Warning: the Surgeon General has determined that cigarette smoking is dangerous to your health and may cause lung cancer or other diseases."

Demos Seek Stiff War Profit Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern and 14 other Democrats are seeking a new 37 per cent tax on defense industry profits generated by the Vietnam war, but even promoters of the measure concede they won't get it.

A similar McGovern move in March 1968 failed, 74-18.

A skeptical Republican said congressional approval of such a measure would amount to acknowledgement the war is going to continue for the foreseeable future.

"You just don't take that kind of step," said Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del. "We all hope the war is about over."

Williams, ranking Republican on the Senate Finance Committee, said he sees little chance McGovern's measure will generate much support.

It did generate a series of speeches yesterday, with the South Dakota senator declaring that no one should be "permitted to make unrealistic profits from war."

McGovern proposed the tax on excess war profits to supplant the 10 per cent income surtax. He said his measure would produce $9.5 to $10 billion a year.

"I'm for it," said Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield. "I look upon it as a realistic proposal."

But Mansfield said "The prospects are at best fair" for congressional approval.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Ethics Question

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Upjohn Co. enclosed $5 checks with materials sent to doctors that promoted the firms product, says Sen. Gaylord Nelson, who added, "I think it raises a number of ethical questions."

Nelson produced a copy of promotional material accompanying the company's drug Lincocin yesterday before a Congressional drug subcommittee. The advertising said the firm hoped to use the canceled checks as an indicator of how many doctors were actually seeing the material.

Exchange Fire

TEL AVIV (AP) — Four Israeli civilians and a soldier were wounded today by gunfire from Jordan near the Sea of Galilee, the Israeli army reported.

A spokesman said mortar and small arms fire from across the Yarmuk River ripped into a group of laborers at El Hamma, five miles south of the biblical lake.

Dionne Birthday

MONTREAL (AP) — The four surviving Dionne quintuplets are 35 years old today but plan no special celebrations. They don't even plan to get together.

"The sisters are not fussy about a celebration," explained Germain Allard, who is married to Annette and acts as an unofficial spokesman for her and her sisters Marie, Yvonne and Cecile.

General Leaves

LONG BINH, Vietnam (AP) — The first Negro general to command a U.S. brigade in combat bade his men farewell today after 18 months in Vietnam.

"Thank you, good luck and God bless you," said Brig. Gen. Frederick E. Davison, his voice quavering, after making his last review of the 199th Light Infantry Brigade.

Davison, a 51-year-old veteran of the segregated U.S. Army in Italy during World War II, was close to tears as he turned over command of the 4,500-man brigade to Brig. Gen. Warren K. Bennett, 50, of Buffalo, Mo.

Chicken Meat?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Should chicken meat be allowed in hot dogs without saying so in large letters on the package?

Consumer and industry reaction to that question was mixed, the Agriculture Department said yesterday, announcing the end of a 45-day period to collect comment on the proposal.

A new regulation would allow up to 15 per cent poultry meat in federally inspected sausages, hot dogs and bologna without a large-letter label. Poultry ingredients in excess of 15 per cent would still require a large label.

Fund Rejected

NEW YORK (AP) — A decision by the United Methodist Church Board of Missions to give $300,000 "for the economic improvement of black people" has been rejected by both a group of black Methodists and James Forman, militant spokesman for the "Black Manifesto."

Both the amount of money and the means of administering it came under fire yesterday.

The Rev. Cain Felder, a black Methodist who supported Forman's demand for $500 million in reparations from churches and synagogues for injustice to black Americans, had demanded the mission board give Forman $750,000.

Girl, 10, Scratched As Bike, Car Hit

A 10-year-old girl suffered minor scratches yesterday when her bicycle struck a moving car, Petaluma police said today.

Police said a bike ridden by Kristy Smith, daughter of Kenneth C. Smith, 1216 Kathleen Way, ran through a stop sign on Samuel Drive and hit a car driven by Marilyn Clements of 752 Paula Lane. The accident occurred at 6:48 p.m.

Some Troops Still May Be On Mountain

SAIGON (AP) — American paratroopers moved out from the crest of Dong Ap Bia, the 3,000-foot mountain they seized a week ago, and pushed their search operations today along the nearby A Shau Valley.

"They have completed their search of the mountain and now are continuing their reconnaissance in force mission," said an officer of the 101st Airborne Division, which seized the mountain.

He added that the troops began moving off the top of Dong Ap Bia shortly after daylight.

Hours later, however, a spokesman for the U.S. Command in Saigon said some American forces, described only as "a considerable group," still were on top of the mountain.

There was no immediate explanation of the discrepancy in the two accounts. The fighting for Dong Ap Bia cost 50 Americans killed and 300 wounded and 600 North Vietnamese soldiers were reported killed.

The action has become a matter of political controversy in the United States. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and others did not think the battle and the American casualties were justified.

There are at times conflicts in accounts from the field and from headquarters in Saigon during actions, sometimes because of communications difficulties or other reasons.

Viet War Costs Pass $100 Billion Mark

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vietnam is fast becoming a hundred-billion-dollar war.

Government figures show the 1970 defense budget will add $25.4 billion to officially admitted expenses dating back to 1965, raising the price of the conflict to $103.2 billion.

Hidden or indirect costs probably add hundreds of millions to the real expense of the war, although the scope of these items is sometimes difficult to assess because of official secrecy.

For example, the American government is doling out millions in economic assistance to reinforce such Vietnam border countries as Thailand and Laos which could sway the balance of power in the area.

The Pentagon budget lumps admitted Vietnam war costs under a category entitled "Estimated Special Support for Southeast Asia Operations."

This covers the acknowledged U.S. expenses of maintaining dozens of ships, hundreds of planes and helicopters and 634,000 military personnel in and off Vietnam and outlying areas; certain military assistance in the way of weapons and equipment to not only Vietnam but also Thailand and Laos; and outright grants of foodstuffs and other materials to Vietnam which have totaled over $1 billion since 1965.

The Southeast Asia category does not, however, fully reflect some other war-related expenses such as construction of the Thai-owned airfield near Sattahip, Thailand, which the United States built in 1965 to handle KC135 tankers and B52 bombers flying missions into Laos and South Vietnam. This base cost well over $150 million.

The general financial bookkeeping for the war back to fiscal 1965, which began in mid-1964, reads this way:

In 1965—$103 million; 1966, $6.094 billion; 1967, $20.557 billion; 1968, $26.839 billion; 1969, $29.192 billion; and, proposed for fiscal 1970, $25.4 billion.

The U.S. cost for fighting the 37-month Korean War was about $18 billion. The American cost for World War II ran about $250 million a day.

The figures for the current war include economic aid to Vietnam ranging from $282 million to $424 million during the war years.

Economic assistance includes grants in the form of foodstuffs, cement and other construction materials and support for the building of roads, new schools and other facilities.

Ukiah School Tax Increase Defeated

UKIAH (AP) — Voters yesterday solidly rejected a 95-cent tax rate increase for Ukiah Unified School District, raising the spectre of "severe cutbacks" in school programs.

The vote was 1,850 yes and 2,627 no.

Oakland's New School Chief Quits

OAKLAND (UPI) — Oakland's new school superintendent has resigned his job without ever having held it.

The Oakland Board of Education announced yesterday that Dr. James I. Mason had withdrawn from the post after consulting a number of Oakland citizens opposed to his appointment.

Mason, 42, resigned as superintendent of the Clark County school district in Las Vegas when Oakland school officials announced plans to hire him starting July 1 to succeed retiring superintendent Stuart S. Phillips.

Mason's appointment immediately drew a storm of protests from the Oakland Education Association, the Oakland Federation of Teachers, and a variety of community groups. The complaints centered in two areas—a possible conflict of interest and the method by which Dr. Mason was selected for the Oakland job.

Commuters Flee Burning Train

NEW YORK (AP) — An electrical fire billowing clouds of acrid smoke disabled a Penn Central commuter train in a Hudson River tunnel forcing passengers to walk a half mile to safety. One man was killed and 100 persons injured.

Coughing and choking on the blue-gray smoke, most of the more than 200 passengers climbed out of the stalled train last evening and groped through the darkness on a concrete catwalk to the New Jersey end of the tunnel.

The dead man as identified as William J. Thompson, 63, of Rahway, N.J., an off-duty conductor. He had stepped out when he was struck by the train, apparently as it lurched backward after coming to a stop, police said.

Astronauts Start 11 Days Of Debriefing

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Less than two hours after they got home it was back to work for the Apollo 10 astronauts, helping the space agency prepare for the moon-landing mission in July.

Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Cmdrs. John W. Young and Eugene A. Cernan spent only a long lunch hour with their families yesterday. Then all three reported for extensive medical examinations by National Aeronautics and Space Administration physicians.

The medical examinations were the first phase of an 11-day debriefing which will provide a detailed account of what they saw, what happened and how they stood up physically on their round trip to the moon.

Today's program called for a technical debriefing with Donald K. Slayton, chief of the astronaut office. Further sessions, eight hours daily, are scheduled until June 6.

The space trio will pour out information while tape recorders take in every word and save it for later study by experts.

Space officials regard the data and observations of the Apollo 10 crew as vital to the success of the moon-landing attempt by Apollo 11 spacemen.

The Apollo 10 crew arrived looking rested and eager to start helping to tutor the Apollo 11 astronauts, even though they had had only six hours sleep since returning from space Monday.

New Tests For Eight GIs On Trial

FORT ORD (UPI) — Eight of 14 GIs on trial for mutiny here for their part in a singing sit-down strike at the San Francisco Presidio will be given new psychiatric examinations.

Law Officer Lt. Col. James Haken yesterday granted the Army's request but stipulated that no new information elicited from the eight could be admitted in the trial if it conflicted with earlier testimony.

Defense attorney Terence Hallinan objected that the new tests would constitute "an out of court cross examination" of the defendants, who were among a total 27 soldiers to demonstrate in the Presidio stockade last Oct. 14.

The defendants said they were protesting injustices at the prison and in particular the shotgun killing of inmate Richard Bunch, 19, by a guard who said the prisoner was trying to escape.

The defendants to be reexamined by Army psychiatrists are Stephen Rowland, Alan Rupert, Francis Schiro, Patrick Wright, Danny Seals, Ernest Trefethin, Danny Wilkins and Roger Duncan.

The prosecution, presenting its rebuttal arguments, put a Catholic chaplain, Maj. Donald Kenney, on the stand. The priest said that while serving as Chaplain at the Presidio he has never had any serious complaints from prisoners.

He said facilities at the stockade were always sanitary. Another witness, Capt. Edward Schmidt, sail he was sanitation engineer at the prison and found no unsanitary conditions in weekly inspections.

The defense has argued that the alleged mutiny was no more than a demonstration which occurred because prisoners were in such a mental state over poor conditions that they could not have deliberately made the judgments necessary for a real mutiny.

Eight of the 27 defendants were convicted in earlier trials, three have escaped and two are undergoing medical treatment.

Convict On Stand In Trial For Murder Of Deputy

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — One of two convicts charged with killing a deputy sheriff in the Lakeport County Courthouse in 1967 took the stand for the first time yesterday.

John Lynn, 24, Ventura, told of the day he and two fellow prisoners were recaptured after their escape from the Konocti prison work farm Sept. 24, 1967.

Lynn and Larry Taylor, also 24, Santa Rosa, are accused in the shooting of Deputy Sheriff William Hoyt during an escape attempt at Lakeport Oct. 11, 1967.

His testimony — which continued today — concerned their encounter with Lorraine Wruble at the home of Beatrice Lanza near Kelseyville, three days after they fled from the prison camp.

Mrs. Wruble had testified earlier that two armed men met her outside the unoccupied Lanza home as she came to feed the dog, and then tied her up.

Lynn described how he and Raymond Pettis, the third convict who later took his own life in a San Quentin cell, met Mrs. Wruble. "We tried to calm her down, to reassure her she would not be harmed," he said.

He said Pettis tied her up and he helped tie her to a bed before they drove away.

Lynn related the trio planned to go to Oregon after their escape and had found a rifle, shotgun, pistols and about 800 rounds of ammunition in the vacant Lanza home.

He said they took Mrs. Wruble's car and had only gone a short distance before they were stopped and arrested by highway patrolmen at Williams.

Lynn, Taylor and Pettis were at the courthouse to be arraigned for the escape. Hoyt was shot to death.

Conflict At Tam To Be Discussed

Racial conflicts at Tamalpais High School will be discussed by school officials and a student leader on radio station KTIM's "Sounding Board" program at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Speakers will be Raymond J. Bell, vice principal and business manager at the school; Henry A. Marshall, dean of boys; Mary M. Baker, dean of girls and Jacob P. Stawler, an 18-year-old senior and president of the student body.

A portion of the program will be devoted to answering questions phoned in by listeners. The program will be rebroadcast by tape-recording at 10:05 Sunday.

park from the university. Instead, councilmen approved a resolution calling on the university to use part of its land as an experimental park that would be maintained by its users.

A spokesman at the People's Park Negotiating Committee said last night the march is planned to be entirely peaceful.

"I think," said Reagan, "you are going to see an increasing use of assault on the ownership of land and property. It's an attack on the philosophy of private ownership of land . . . this is what they are challenging," he said.

Asked by a reporter if the land wasn't already public property, being owned by the university, Reagan said he feels the protesters regard it as private.

U.C. Chancellor Roger Heyns has said he will not order the fence taken down, as the university owns the land and plans to use if for a soccer field and later for dormitories.

Yesterday afternoon some 300 students and "street people" went to Haste Street next to the fenced-in park and unrolled sod on the asphalt pavement, draping flowers in the fence as 100 Guardsmen bivouacked in the park looked on.

A street dance to a western style band followed, including a brief topless performance by three girls and boys who stripped to the waist but whose cavorting ended abruptly when a playful demonstrator turned a hose on them. The hose was being used to water flowers still inside the park, where National Guardsmen stoically bore the occasional spray of water turned their way.

The crowd dispersed after several hours. The sod was rolled up and taken to "People's Park II" a mile away where the Bay Area Rapid Transit District has offered to lease a small plot of pre-empted ground to the city if it wants to make the park permanent.

At other campuses, which are expected to contribute to the 50,000 demonstrators who may attend the Memorial Day protest here, sympathizers declared a two-day boycott of classes.

At U.C. Santa Cruz, Chancellor Dean McHenry canceled classes Monday and yesterday after picket lines were set up. He called for discussion on the problems of higher education and the violence at Berkeley. Students last night voted to end their strike.

At UCLA, about a third of the student body was reported boycotting classes yesterday, a and 20 students began a hunger strike which they said would not end until National Guard troops are withdrawn from Berkeley.

At U.C. San Diego, Chancellor William J. McGill refused to agree to a strike called by 600 students but met for three hours with 60 student delegates.

At U.C. Santa Barbara, 300 students fanned out into shopping areas to explain the Berkeley

At Stanford, several hundred students heckled Dr. Glenn Campbell, a U.C. regent who heads the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace at Stanford. He defended the U.C. policy on the park. "We (regents) cannot tolerate outside groups taking it over," he said.

At El Camino College in Los Angeles, a sit-in by 100 students at the administration building was abandoned without violence yesterday after sheriff's deputies were summoned. The sit-in was called after President Stuart E. Marsee refused to cancel classes for a convocation in sympathy with the Berkeley protesters.

At Contra Costa College in San Pablo, a one-day general strike was held by students yesterday "to protest recent detions by Gov. Reagan in the Berkeley Crisis."

College Election Completed

Somona State College students elected a student body president yesterday on their fourth try with the winner of all the previous elections losing out.

James Gillette defeated John Owen, a Novato political science major, by a vote of 673 to 650 in balloting conducted on campus Monday and yesterday. Owen hal won a previous general election and runoff which were thrown out in a dispute over election rules and was the leader in lase Wednesday's general election which forced the latest runoff.

Irvin Moore garnered 664 votes in the record turnout to best Richard Saarinen, with 636, for academic vice president, and Greg Jilka beat John Callaway 717 to 582 for chairman of the board.

Saarinen and Callaway were also winners in the previous elections.

Student leaders at the college indicated today there apparently would be no challenges to the elections. Some students had indicated earlier they might challenge the elections because they were set up by the old student body government which went out of office Saturday.

LAGOON

lagoon then would revert to the state.

The amendment was a departure from the usual policy of granting state lands with a 10-year deadline to make "substantial improvements," but without any deadline on planning.

The harbor directors' chief ally in opposing the bill is the California Marine Parks and Harbors Associations, Inc., a San Francisco-based group. Although not listed on Capitol records as a lobbying group, it has sent letters to legislators urging amendment of the bill to provide that development of the lagoon authorized by the bill specifically include "a harbor of refuge."

But county officals, who support the bill, object to this amendment on the ground that it would be an opening wedge to the sort of extensive development that led voters to dissolve the district. The intent of the bill clearly is that only a small boat harbor will be developed in the lagoon.

The board of directors of the San Francisco group includes two legislators, Assemblymen John T. Knox, D-Richmond, and Frank P. Belotti, R-Eureka. Also on the board are three Marinites, Henry C. Hankins of Point Reyes Station, Clyde W. King, manager of the San Francisco Giants, and Bernard Seligman. Former Sonoma County Supervisor Leigh S. Shoemaker also is a director, according to the letterhead.

The influential group has promised to opposed the bill unless the "harbor of refuge" amendment is added, legislative staff members reported.

Oceanic Properties, also of San Francisco, has urged in letters to legislators that the bill be sent to a committee for study this year, thus barring action before next year.

The Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce also has urged that the bill be studied for a year. Letters uring this maneuver have been sent to legislators by Oliver D. Hofman, president of the coast chamber.

The March vote to dissolve the district was 313 to 266.

The lagoon was granted to the harbor district by the state in 1959, and became the center of controversy when the district drew plans for extensive development of the lagoon and its shoreline. Conservationists argued that extensive development would destroy the lagoon's ecology.

GOP Committee Supports Reagan

The Marin County Republican Central Committee voted unanimous support last night of Gov. Ronald Reagan's stand on campus unrest.

Reagan has been criticized from some quarters for keeping the National Guard at the University of California at Berkeley.

Committee chairman Charles Michals said a resolution backing the governor carried unanimously in a voice vote.

In other action last night, the committee supported S B 35, which would repeal all school tax ceilings by June 30, 1971, and voted an undisclosed sum in support of the Republican candidate in the special Monterey County Assembly race June 17.

drug market for almost $120,000.

Gerrit Van Raam, field supervisor for the state Narcotics Bureau, said that finding this amount of hashish was "unique" in the experience of drug agents.

Hashish, which is gum residue from marijuana plants, is imported from North Africa or Lebanon, he explained, already in the brick form. It has a "kick" about 20 times as powerful as plain marijuana and is smoked, chewed or eaten in soup form by devotees.

All of the persons arrested yesterday were new faces to the narcotics agents, who became interested in their activities after hearing of sales in San Diego and tracing the persons involved to Inverness.

All those arrested made bail except Clapp and McCall, who were held with bail set at $6,250 to appear in Marin Municipal Court today. Bail for the others was $1,875. They are to appear in court Monday.

Sindicich was turned over to federal authorities as there was a federal charge against him.

Supervisor Sees Some Troubles At Santa Rita

BERKELEY (UPI)—Alameda County Supervisor Joseph P. Bort said yesterday he found some mishandling of the situation at Santa Rita Prison Farm when he made a surprise tour of the detention center after last week's mass arrest in Berkeley.

"There is an obvious need for improvement at the facility," said the Berkeley supervisor, who said Sheriff Frank Madigan admitted to him some departmental rules were not followed at Santa Rita.

"It is my conclusion that in some cases there was some mishandling of the situation," said Bort, who toured the facility Saturday. "I don't care to get into specifics."

"The sheriff said he was going to investigate the matter and take necessary action," Bort said. "I think we should give him time to study the matter."

Hub Trustees Study Plans For Raises

San Anselmo School District trustees last night proposed that teachers' salaries be raised, increasing the minimum from $6,000 to $6,208 and the maximum from $12,352 to $13,200.

Teachers, reported Supt. Stephen L. Parodi, made a counter proposal asking for a starting salary of $6,500 with a top of $13,848. No action was taken on salaries which are to be discussed again at an adjourned meeting June 9.

The board spoke favorably of granting the teachers' request for a dental plan to cost the district $6 12 per month per employee.

Trustees said they favor raising nonteaching employes 6.67 per cent. The employees have requested 7.5 per cent increase plus a 5 to 10 per cent increase varying with different individuals to get them up to what they consider the proper salary schedule for comparable positions. No action was taken.

The San Anselmo School District also:

request was unchanged.

One of the features of the new request was a proposal for making two-year, rather than one-year appropriations. It would also authorize creation of a private investment corporation to stimulate the flow of private capital into underdeveloped nations.

The President also noted that he is establishing a task force of private citizens to make a "comprehensive review of the entire range of U.S. aid activities" and to look into the future role of American foreign assistance.

If Nixon's request were granted by Congress, U.S. officials estimated that the United States would be spending a total of $4.6 billion overseas during the 1970 fiscal year, including U.S. contributions to international development banks, the Peace Corps and the Food for Peace program.

Boat Shop Burglar Gets Eight Months

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court yesterday sent Bradley M. Zappa, 19, of Santa Venetia to jail for eight months for the burglary of a San Rafael boat shop Oct. 23.

The youth, who was on probation for a petty theft charge, was also told to get and keep a job when he gets out of jail. His new probation was set at three years.

Bradley today told his supporters that "it appears we'll still have to wait some time before we learn how this thing turns out." The then made a quiet appeal, asking his supporters to remain calm after a campaign in which he was accused by Yorty of surrounding himself with black militants.

"Keep the faith in what we've been trying to do," Bradley said.

Yorty had banked on a conservative trend and this carried over in contests for school board and junior college trustees, where candidates regarded as conservatives generally won.

Edmund G. Brown Jr., son of the former California governor, won the greatest number of votes in his maiden vote-getting effort for one of seven seats on the new junior college governing board of trustees.

The 30-year-old Brown cornered 466,073 votes in the race among 14 candidates, with only 16 precincts of 3,503 uncounted.

Former radio broadcaster, Robert J. Stevenson and mortician Don Lorenzen have won seats to the Los Angeles City Council, in final, but unofficial returns.

Hungry Bicycle Rider Arrested In Drive-In Fight

A Kentfield man was placed under citizen's arrest yesterday after he allegedly got into a fight with a man who refused him drive-in service while riding a bicycle, police reported.

The suspect, Robert Marvin Kent, 23, of 445 Center Boulevard, San Anselmo, was booked into Marin County Jail at about 1:30 p.m. on suspicion of battery.

The complainant, Benjamin E. Bagnas, 23, of 351 Olema Road, Fairfax, told police that Kent rode his bike into the vehicle driveway and demanded something to eat. Bagnas refused this service and asked him to leave the vehicle area, he told police, after which Kent allegedly struck Bagnas. The incident was at the Jack-in-the-Box Drive-Thru Restaurant, 830 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate passed 28-0 today a bill making it a misdemeanor for a student disciplined for taking part in violence on campus to return to the campus without permission of college officials.

Sanity Hearing Set For Former Practical Nurse

A sanity hearing has been ordered for 9 a.m. next Wednesday for Vera Mae Walsh, a former practical nurse from Fairfax charged with involuntary manslaughter and forgery.

The hearing was ordered Monday in Sonoma County Superior Court after her attorney, Albert Rizzo, told the court she has not copperated with him in the preparation of her defense. She is due to go to trial on the charges June 10.

Mrs. Walsh, 42, is accused of the manslaughter of her patient, Mrs. Gloria Giannis, who died Jan. 5 from an overdose of drugs at the women's home in Santa Rosa.

She is also accused of forging Mrs. Giannis's name to two checks after her death.

Mrs. Walsh is to be sentenced June 16 in Marin Superior Court for the theft of valuables from the home of a Fairfax couple by whom she was employed.

Span Board Eyes Demonstraters

The rules and policy committee of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District today recommended that public demonstration on the bridge be banned at the discretion of the district's general manager.

Directors shied away from a reommendation hy Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring that all demonstrations be barred. Director Daniel F. Del Carlo of San Francisco predicted a complete ban would "bring those people from Berkeley over here and we'd have nothing but trouble."

Luehring previously complained that traffic was slowed by demostrations for the Biafrans, was well as for returning war ships. Luehring said there would be no problem if demonstrations were scheduled at other than peak traffic hours.

Tiburon Employee In Good Condition

Frank E. Brooks of 1731 Centro West Street, Tiburon, was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital after he was hit by a back hoe yesterday while working on a Tiburon city public works project on Paradise Drive near the Northwestern Pacific Railroad dock.

Tiburon sheriff's deputies said the back hoe, operated by public works Supt. Louis W. Brunini, slipped out of a ditch at 11:10 a.m. hitting Brooks on the foot.

the session," Unruh said.

In the afternoon committee session, Democrat Kenneth Cory of Gardena moved that the bills be sent to the full Assembly. The motion lost on a voice vote.

What happens to the measures depends in part on the author, Assemblyman W. Craig Biddle of Riverside, the lower house GOP floor leader, Bagley said.

"If consensus is arrived at, then we'll send them to Ways and Means and then to the floor . . . That's how we do business around here."

Meanwhile, Assembly Republicans, stung by their first major setback of the year, vowed today to make another try at getting action on the lower house version of the $6.2 billion budget.

Speaker Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, urged the Assembly to pass the spending program for the fiscal year beginning July 1 so the legislature could "clear the decks" for other matters.

The budget bill stalled in the evenly split Assembly yesterday. On the key roll call, the vote was 37-5, far short of the 54 votes needed to send the spending program to the Senate.

The five no votes came from Democrats.

Sunset Strips Have Caretaker

Jimmy Toyoda of 1040 Greenwood Drive, Novato, last night was hired at an undisclosed sum to take care of the center strips on Sunset Parkway at a special meeting of the Lynwood Park Improvement Association board, reported secretary Marilyn Haskell.

Board member Bill Haskell and his wife, Marilyn, resigned. They are moving to Hawaii.

Gerald C. Cullen was named temporary secretary to replace Mrs. Haskell. Harold K. Blue, association president, was named to take her place as representative of the Lynwood Association to the North Marin Federation.

Jail Terms Ordered In Petaluma Burglary

Two Oakland men were sentenced to six months in jail today after being convicted in Sonoma Superior Court of a charge of burglarizing the Petaluma Western Auto Store, 120 North Petaluma Boulevard, on April 30.

Sherman Lee Shaw and Lonnie Cooper, both 23, pleaded guilty to the charge on May 13.

Woman Surrenders As Forgery Suspect

A San Francisco woman, wanted by San Rafael police for allegedly using a stolen or lost credit card to shop in Macy's Jan. 29, surrendered yesterday at Marin County Jail.

Police said the suspect, Kristina May Woodall, 23, also known as Frances Scobeletti, forged the name of the card owner, Mrs. Angelo R. Festa, to buy $79 worth of items. Jailed for investigation of forgery, the Woodall woman was released in her own custody to appear for arraignment in Marin Municipal Court June 17.

'Moral Guidelines' Report— Much Furor, No Guidelines

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Considerable furor has followed acceptance by the California State Board of Education of "Guidelanes for Moral Instruction in California's Schools," prepared by a committee appointed by State Supt. Max Rafferty.

Typical of highly critical "analyses" of the committee's report was one by Ron Moscowitz in the San Francisco Chronicle which styled it "a fundamentalist Protestant, Bible-slapping approach to morality" and declared it "would have been laughed out of the State Building just two years ago."

Much of the criticism has been directed more at the makeup of the committee than at the report itself. Unquestionably, this committee was rightwing-oriented. Just as unquestionably, there have been some committees appointed to help formulate public school policy that have been leftwing-oriented.

LEAVING ASIDE the makeup of the committee, what are the guidelines for moral instruction which it proposes?

Actually, the 80-page report, despite its title, does not present a set of guidelines, although the committee's charge was to do just that. The report consists of quotations, commentary and argument that might be used in formulating such a set. It suggests that the Navy and Marine Corps' "Moral Leadership" program is "especially appropriate to the purposes." But it stops there.

Much of the "Guidelines for Moral Instruction" report deals with belief in a Supreme Being as a basis of United States and California law and tradition. It is this which has brought much of the outcry. However, the committee holds that the California Education Code requirement that teachers "impress upon the minds of the pupils the principles of morality, truth, justice, patriotism (and) instruct them in manners and morals and the principles of a free government" cannot be divorced from the preamble of the California Constitution, which says:

"We the people of the State of California, grateful to Almighty God for our freedom, and in order to secure and perpetuate its blessings, do establish this constitution."

PERAHPS MORE germane to what the committee sees as needed guidelines for moral instruction in the schools is a resolution it adopted last winter (and which occasioned little outcry). In the resolution, it said:

"We lament the growing tendency of the motion picture industry to lure Americans . . . by appealing to their basest instincts in matters of sexual conduct . . .

"We lament that judicial decisions governing the definition of 'pornography' and 'obscenity' have opened the doors to vast publishing endeavors to present our young people with the most corrupt literature of the ages . . .

"We observe that this laxity of moral standards has pervaded our colleges and that the most obscene scenes that man can imagine are on college stages and passed off as 'drama.'

"We discover that . . . 'sex education' . . . materials are being used to 'educate' third and fourth graders which would make most adults blush.

"We . . . are determined to lead California out of the moral decay in which it is presently descending."

ALTHOUGH the San Francisco Chronicle writer suggested that the report "would have been laughed out of the State Building just two years ago," the committee itself noted that its charge was based on a resolution adopted by the State Board of Education in 1963 which related morality to America's history and tradition and declared:

"We want the children of California to be aware of the spiritual principles and the faith which undergird our way of life."

In 1963, Thomas W. Braden was president of the state board and most of its members had been appointed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

WHETHER THE WORK of the committee will do much — or anything at all — to "lead California out of the moral decay in which it is presently descending" remains to be seen.

Also, despite the state board's acceptance of the report, there is still no set of guidelines for use by teachers in fulfilling their obligation to teach "manners and morals."

No Quorum By Hub Parks Commission

The San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Commission did not meet last night due to lack of a quorum, parks director Frank L. Quinn reported.

The next meeting will be at 8 p.m. June 10 at the Robson-Harrington Mansion at which time, Quinn said, a new monthly regular meeting date is expected to be set.

Three Marinites Are Degree Candidates

Robert J. Lund of San Rafael and Richard H. Carpenter and Mark E. Jergesen, both of Mill Valley, are candidates for associate of arts degrees at the Menlo College commencement June 6 on the Menlo Park campus.

The same day, Peter E. Adams of Sausalito and Karrick P. Collins of Kentfield are scheduled to graduate from Menlo School, also on the Menlo Park campus.

Jewelry Stolen

Carol M. Saari of 13 Aztec Road, Forest Knolls, reported to the sheriff's department Saturday that burglars had taken jewelry and costume jewelry as well as a cigarette lighter from her home, officers said yesterday.

New Budgets Unveiled For San Rafael Board

San Rafael Board of Education got its first look last night at preliminary 1969-70 deficit budgets, $4,601,142 in the elementary district and $4,742,671 in the high school district.

(Another board of education story, page 8.)

would be misleading to estimate

Supt. John F. Plank said it tax rates since exact assessed valuation isn't known.

Plank said the elementary district budget includes a 22-cent seventh and eighth grade override tax rate which hasn't been levied since the 1965-66 school year.

(The general purpose tax rate this year is $1.31 in a total tax rate of $3.06 in the elementary district and $1.75 in a total rate of $2.265 in the high school district.)

Plank noted that the maximum legal general purpose tax rate, $2.25 in the elementary district and $1.75 in the high school district, was used to compute income in the preliminary budgets.

The budgets include a 5 per cent salary hike for teachers, who have been seeking increases of 10 to 15 per cent, and a 5 per cent raise for non-teaching employees. The increase is in addition to automatic annual step increases in salary.

The budget also include varying pay raises for administrators ranging up to 7 or 8 per cent, at a total cost of $19,000, Plank noted.

The preliminary elementary budget is $130,257 lower than the current budget, and the preliminary high school budget is $104,627 higher than the current budget.

Budgets would be "deficit financed" in that outgo would exceed income, Plank reported.

Beginning balances of $316,716 in the elementary district and $220,821 in the high school district will be reduced to $120,000 and $38,000 respectively by the end of the year, he said.

The tentative budget indicated no increase in the elementary district enrollment of 4,942, but an increase of 276 students in the high school district to a total of 4,276.

Cuts were made in data processing services, preventative maintenance and capital outlay, Plank reported. No increase in personnel is planned and special education programs not funded by the state have been reduced, he said.

Except for the work-experience program, there are no federal projects in the budget, he said.

Business Mgr. Charles Condrotte noted that special transportation for mentally retarded students has been eliminated, and substitute custodians eliminated in the high school budget.

Board members took the budgets under study and Board President Herman L. Childress said they would be discussed in detail at future sessions.

Alan Ellsberg, principal of San Rafael High School, reported that administrators in the district have formed an association, and feel they should receive a 5 per cent cost of living increase.

Astronauts To Visit California

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The Apollo 10 astronauts will visit California for several days next month at the invitation of Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The governor told his weekly news conference yesterday that dates and cities the astronauts will visit have not been determined but details will be firmed up and announced soon.

Reagan said his staff worked with officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration along with executives of the California aerospace industry to make the visit possible.

He praised astronauts Thomas P. Stafford, John Young and Eugene Cernan for performing "mankind's greatest, most incredible feat in the field of exploration."

No Charges Filed In Beating Incident

No charges were filed yesterday in Marin Municipal Court against Gerald Allen Thompson, 29, of San Rafael, who was arrested Sunday on suspicion of felony wife beating.

Mrs. Thompson declined to press charges, according to the district attorney's office.

School Bus For Deaf Bill Killed

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill to provide school transportation to children in a special program for the deaf or very hard of hearing, introduced by Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, has been killed by the Senate Education Committee.

Committee members agreed the bill (SB 596) would, in effect, reimburse parents for driving their children to the special schools, and thus would not be a legitimate state expense.

Only two such programs in the state, for children between 18 months of age and 3 years old, have been set up, including the one operated in Marin by the county schools office for the past year.

McCarthy's bill would have provided an annual state subsidy of $389 for each student's transportation.

Colombians Riot Over Rockefeller

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Colombia's government enforced tight security measures throughout Bogota today, seeking to prevent a repetition of student protests that preceded the arrival of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller yesterday.

A ceremony today at which Rockefeller was to be awarded an honorary degree was called off after students threatened to sabotage it. A security force of 20,000 men was mobilized in the major cities.

Gen. Luis Leyva, chief of the national security police, said most of the violence yesterday was quelled before the governor arrived in Bogota to start the second of four surveys he is making of Latin America for President Nixon.

Board Allocates $25,588 For Recreation Program

San Rafael Board of Education last night allocated $25,588 toward a joint recreation program with the City of San Rafael, but said it was the last time.

Board members indicated they wanted to get out of the recreation business. The expenditure was reluctantly approved only after trustees agreed it was too late to pull out this year.

Board member John C. Pfeiffer said he was all for recreation, but that the tax costs should be reflected in the city's budget, not in the San Rafael City Schools budget.

In approving the expenditure, the board put the city on notice it wouldn't support the program for the 1970-71 fiscal year.

Board member Carl J. Brown pushed for approval of the contract without any decision about next year, but failed to get a second for his motion.

The funds for the recreation program come from the 5-cent community service override tax rate in both the elementary and high school districts.

Pfeiffer estimated that cutting out the recreation contract could cut about 2 cents overall.

Snyder said he didn't believe the San Rafael City Council "would jump its budget by $23,000" to provide the funds if the schools dropped out.

John Colistra of the Terra Linda Recreation District, asked the board to contribute $500 for 1968-69 and $500 for 1969-70 for the youth recreation program it operates in the Terra Linda area.

Childress said the board couldn't allocate any funds for the 1968-69 year, and Pfeiffer said the Terra Linda program should be funded by the district.

Mill Valley Readers Are Above Norm

Primary grade students in the Mill Valley School District have scored three to six months above the national norm in reading tests administered earlier this year, the district board was told Monday night, according to Supt. James A. Collins.

Collins said first grade students scored three months above the norm in reading achievement, second grade students four months above average and third grade students six months above average.

Mill Valley primary grade students also placed in the 80th percentile in the state, he said.

The Mill Valley School District board also:

LETTERS — Received two letters expressing dissatisfaction with the program offered at Old Mill School and one letter of support for the program.

OLD MILL SCHOOL — Heard that both multiaged and self-contained classes will be offered at Old Mill School next year.

LEAVES — Granted a leave of absence to Thomas Eggert, educationally handicapped teacher at Edna Maguire School, to take graduate study at San Francisco State College.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted the resignation of Gene W. Bradford, Tamalpais Valley School principal, who has accepted a post with the state Department of Education; Elizabeth Smith, now on leave, because she is expecting a baby, and Sharon Justeson, kindergarten teacher at Alto School, maternity resignation.

FILL — Approved a request by Allan-Marin Co. to place fill on the northern boundary line of Tamalpais Valley School.

PROCEDURES — Reviewed procedures for management and care of textbooks and use of school facilities.

INSTITUTE — Granted permission to the Behavior Therapy Institute of Sausalito to rent the portable at Strawberry Point School this summer.

HEALTH COUNCIL — Directed Collins to appoint a health council.

MATERIALS — Instructed Collins to set up procedures to provide effective instructional materials and services.

INSPECTIONS — Amended board policy to require a safety inspection of district schools more than 25 years old every five years instead of every three years as now required.

Graduation Set For 240 Pupils At Rohnert Park

Rohnert Park Junior High has 240 candidates for graduation this year, up from 200 a year ago. Graduation ceremonies will be held in the school's inner courtyard at 11 a.m. June 6.

Student speakers will be David Christiansen and Karin Turner.

Sol Fishman, representing the Petaluma Board of Education, and Asst. Supt. George Castlebury will hand out diplomas.

Mrs. Richard Stout will present the Panhellenic award and certificates will be passed out by Principal Ralph Azevedo and Vice Principal Howard Hill.

Rev. Leon A. Holm of the American Lutheran Church in Rohnert Park will deliver the invocation and benediction.

Bail Refused In Youth's Murder

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Chester Allen Johnson, 22, was ordered held without bond Monday pending a preliminary hearing next Monday on charges of killing Loren Silliphant, 18, the son of Academy Award-winning screenwriter Stirling Silliphant.

Johnson, who is also accused of murdering an Oakland dentist and who has been sentenced to 35 years to life for an armed robbery in Michigan, was arraigned in Los Angeles Municipal Court yesterday.

Silliphant was shot to death last Feb. 12 after an intruder burst into his Hollywood apartment and demanded narcotics.

Nicasio School To Graduate Four

Four students will be graduated from Nicasio School at 7:30 p.m. June 12 at the school, reports principal Jeff Pflugath.

School Bus Cutbacks Urged To Save Money

San Rafael Board of Education last night took under study an economy proposal which would cut bus service to 519 elementary pupils and 573 high school students. (Other board of education stories, page 6.)

John A. Thomson, superintendent of maintenance and transportation, said savings could result from eliminating eight buses, extending mileage limits for pickups and revamping schedules.

He recommended the mileage limit for pickups be extended from two to three miles for high school students and from a mile-and-a-half to two miles for middle school pupils.

For the kindergarten through sixth grade, he recommended "a very tight control" of ineligible riders under the current limits of three-quarters of a mile for K-3 pupils and a mile and a half for grades 4-6.

A cutback to 10 buses would save $30,963, but there would be a reduction of about $8,000 in state reimbursement in the following year, he estimated.

Sale of the eight buses could bring from $12,000 to $20,000 depending upon the market, Thomson noted.

Terra Linda High School and Davidson Junior High School would operate from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. and San Rafael Hight School from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

At San Pedro School grades one through three would be in session from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and grades four through six from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

At all other schools in the elementary district the schedule for grades one through three, 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and for grades four through eight 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

At all other schools in the elementary district the schedul elementary district the schedule 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and for grades four through eight, 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Board members asked for a report on cost of a "mobile classroom" requested by Terra Linda High teacher David Swingle, and for a report on expenditures for field trips during the past year.

The San Rafael Board of Education Also:

GYMNASIUM REHABILITATION —Approved hiring the architectural firm of Marshall and Bowles of San Francisco to prepare working drawings for rehabilitation of the gymnasium at San Rafael High School, estimated to cost $222,000, at a fee of 8 per cent. The gymnasium will be brought up to the earthquake resistant standards.

FIELD TRIP — Agreed to meet at 8 a.m. Friday (Memorial Day) at the Administration Building, Third and E Streets, and depart on a field trip to Short School and the Glenwood Middle School site.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS — Adopted revised graduation requirements for high school, mainly modifications in social science providing flexibility in physical education scheduling and eliminating driver education as a requirement.

HIRING — Approved the hiring of Mrs. Nancy Ridout, currently on leave, as girls physical education teacher at San Rafael High School at $6,000 a year.

PROMOTIONS — Approved promoting William Hedge, custodian at Terra Linda High School, to head custodian I at Santa Venetia Middle School at $6,840 a year; and Loren Tunstall, custodian I at San Rafael High School to custodian II at Terra Linda High School at $5,916 a year.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted the resignations of Dale Alstrom, music teacher, elementary district; Eden Brennan, fourth grade teacher, MacPhail School; Mac Hull, substitute teacher, elementary district; Eleanor Kieran, teacher of French, elementary district; currently on leave; Glenn Leonoff, psychologist, high school district; Elizabeth Musser, music teacher, elementary district, currently on leave; Mrs. Carla Thomas, fifth grade, currently on leave; Mary Ward, fifth grade, Glenwood School; Leonard Dickinson, custodian II, Glenwood School; Minnie Moss, student records clerk, Terra Linda High School; Arlie Sharp, custodian II, Sun Valley; and William Watkins, custodian II, Hartzell School.

The next regular board session will be June 10 at 7:30 p.m. at the Administration Building, Third and E streets.

Board member Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. was absent.

PG&E Personnel Records Closed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Personnel records will not have to be made public by Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

A petition to force the utility firm to make disclosures was denied yesterday by the California Public Utilities Commission.

The California Rural Legal Assistance had filed the action on grounds of alleged job discrimination by PG&E.

CRLA had sought to make disclosure of PG&E hiring records part of any approval for a $37.1 million gas rate increase.

Stereo Equipment Taken From Shop

Timothy D. DeYoung has reported that between 9:30 p.m., Monday, and 10:30 a.m., yesterday, someone forced a bathroom window at his shop, D and D Car Stereo at 111 Red Hill Avenue, San Anselmo, and stole $746 in stereo equipment plus $15 from a cash box.

Among items listed as stolen were three auto stereos, 40 stereo cartridges, a tape recorder and 80 tape cartridges and an FM radio antenna, according to police.

DeYoung has offered a $100 reward to anyone who might have seen any suspicious activity or any vehicles parked in the area of his store Monday night.

Mark Guy Earns Eagle Scout Honor

Mark Guy, 15, of 15 Broadview Drive, San Rafael, has earned the Eagle Award as a member of Explorer Post 57 in San Rafael.

He will be honored in ceremonies June 9 at Davidson Junior Hith School.

Guy, a sophomore at San Rafael High School, has been patrol leader, troop quartermaster and assistant and senior patrol leader of Troop 57. He is a member of the Order of the Arrow.

Guy is a baritone in the San Rafael High School Symphonic/Marching Band. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Guy.

Kenilworth Junior High Rite For 280

James Thomas and Cheryl Matteri, the top-ranking students of Kenilworth Junior High School in Petaluma, will be the student speakers at the school's ninth grade graduation ceremonies at 10:30 a.m. June 6 in the school gymnasium.

A total of 280 students are candidates for graduation, the same size as last year's graduating class.

Adult speakers at the ceremonies will be Petaluma Supt. of Schools Leslie H. Meyer, board of education clerk Clay Thompson and Principal Howard Tingley.

Diplomas will be handed out by Walter Peckhan, the ninth grade counselor, and Rev. Kenneth G. Ohrstrom of the First Baptist Church of Petaluma will offer the invocation and benediction.

Woman Suffers Gunshot Wound

A 64-year-old San Rafael woman has told police she fired a revolver at herself three times Monday night in an attempt to end her life.

The first two missed, but the third struck Mrs. Marie McNeil of 12 Amalphi Place in the chest. She was treated at Marin General Hospital and transferred to Napa State Hospital for observation.

Police, notified of the shooting by a daughter, found no weapon in the home. Mrs. McNeil appeared at the door, not visibly hurt, when officers arrived.

Thieves Hit Sausalito Cars

Thefts from two vehicles last weekend were reported by Sausalito police yesterday.

Alex Rynecki of 63 Spencer Avenue told police someone took two spare tires and a tool kit, valued at $110, from his car outside his home Friday or Saturday.

Richard Torretto of 29 Bulkley Avenue told police someone jacked up his car Saturday night or Sunday in his carport and removed the front tires and rims, valued at $95.

Hub's Town Meeting Criticized

The San Anselmo Town Meeting was planned by a "closed group" and later guided by large numbers of nonresidents, a director of the Sleepy Hollow Homes Association complained last night.

The director, Mrs. Sarah Nome of 77 Alder Avenue, told the city council that the recommendations arising from the May 17 Town Meeting "are certainly not a mandate of the people of San Anselmo, but that of a controlled opinion-forming group."

She said the session was "planned and conducted by a closed group of approximately 20 citizens who did not openly seek the participation of San Anselmo citizens at large, but how met secretly throughout the year . . ."

Mrs. Nome also claimed that the "hands of youngsters in the audience were counted in the 'official' votes summing up the recommendations of the town meeting — and a large proportion (almost half) of those guiding the separate discussion groups were not residents of San Anselmo."

Her protest came as Everett Farey, town meeting chairman, presented the recommendations of the session to the council and was told to submit budget-related items first and return with the others for a special meeting with the council July 15.

"Did you go to the town meeting, Mrs. Nome?" asked Councilman Duane C. Ragan.

'No," she replied. "Did you, Mr. Ragan?"

"No, I was working," he said coldly.

Park Directors Set Budget Talks

Terra Linda Recreation and Park District directors will meet at 9 p.m. tomorrow at the Terra Linda Community Center.

The meeting was delayed an hour because two board members have other meetings to attend earlier.

Mrs. Frederick K. Mulhaupt, acting general manager, said the directors will discuss next year's budget.

Hub Council Argues Neglect Of Quarters

San Anselmo City Councilman Duane C. Ragan criticized the Independent-Jounral and colleague Robert M. Scott last night for a recent story illustrating inadequate police and fire facilities in the community.

Scott, quoted in the May 21 article, described rundown, overcrowded conditions in city hall and attributed them to poor budget priorities. Pictures showing a crowded interrogating room in the police department and torn chairs in the firemen's lounge accompanied the story.

"The article placed the council in a bad light," Ragan said. He added the council always sought better conditions for police and firemen and a special committee was seeking a site for a new public safety building.

He said the story failed to report that new furniture for the firemen's lounge had been ordered at a cost of $162.

"This is intended as a rebuke," Scott said. "Go look at the firemen's bathroom. Enough said." In the story, Scott reported there was only one toilet and shower in the bathroom and paint steadily peeled off the shower.

As he did in the article, Scott criticized the council for spending $31,000 on the purchase and partial development of Robson-Harrington Park, while allegedly ignoring public safety needs.

Councilman James F. Reed, supporting Ragan, praised the park purchase as an excellent buy and denied that the council was neglecting the city staff. He said, "We have the budget of a very small city with ever expanding needs."

The San Anselmo City Council Also:

PLUMBING — Approved amending plumbing code, including elimination of the use of plastic piping until "it proves workable." Reed, arguing that city engineer Charles R. Leitzell approved of its use, dissented.

PAVING — Allowed concrete paving of a sidewalk area in front of the residence of Albert Harding at 15 Broadmoor Avenue because of proximity to a bus stop and school.

REDWOOD ROAD — Advised residents of a portion of Redwood Road to try to form an assessment district to reconstruct a road damaged by construction equipment.

STORAGE — Gave Councilman Scott, 135 Calumet, 60 days to stop parking trucks normally used in business at his residence.

RADIO — Supported county plans to maintain emergency radio equipment, used by San Anselmo and other communities, through private contract and not regular personnel.

BICYCLES — Referred to the parks and recreation commission the county's plan for bicycle paths close to populated areas.

LIBRARY — Authorized City Administrator-Controller Alfred C. Kaeppel to determine the costs of including library employees in the Public Employees' Retirement System.

FESTIVAL — Deferred renewing a contract with Foley and Burk Fun Fair Shows to conduct the Fall Festival in Memorial Park, Sept. 17-21, after Reed complained the company's operation was "low-level."

HOSE — Bought 700 feet of fire hose for $1,433.

BUDGET — Set budget hearings for 8 p.m. June 9, 12, 17 a 19, all in city hall.

Jury Deadlocks In Panther Case

OAKLAND (AP) — Jurors again failed to reach a decision yesterday concerning a Black Panther who was charged with attempting murder during a shootout with policemen.

A jury in December previously had deadlocked in the case of Panther Warren Wells.

Judge Lewis Lercara, after the latest deadlock, refused a motion for a mistrial and set June 9 as the date for a third trial.

Wells and author Eldridge Cleaver were wounded and Bobby Hutton, Panther financial officer, was killed in the shootout on April 6, 1967.

Alioto Issues New Call For Guns

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mayor Joseph Alioto is calling for another San Francisco gun turn-in, to start July 1 and last a month.

He told reporters Tuesday he would make the appeal June 6 when sculptor Benjamin Bufano's "St. Francis of the Guns" will be dedicated. The statue was cast from metal obtained from the 2,000 weapons turned in last year, shortly after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

BART Official Asks Airport Link

SAN FRANCISCO AP — A Bay Area Rapid Transit District official pleaded Tuesday for a rail link to San Francisco International Airport.

Edmund C. Sajor, assistant to BART general manager B.R. Stokes, was speaking before the San Francisco Planning and Urban Association's transportation committee.

A link from the BART system in San Francisco, Alameda and Contra Costa counties to the airport in San Mateo County is the only "realistic and acceptable" alternative to more highways to the airport, he contended.

He predicted that BART would be serving Oakland International Airport via a connecting link by 1973.

Ronald Fisher, who heads WBRTA, told the meeting that a similar connection to the San Francisco airport would probably not be made until 1976.

PUC Denies Plea On Nuclear Plant

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California's Public Utilities Commission refused yesterday to reconsider its decision to permit construction of a second nuclear power plant in San Luis Obispo County's Diablo Canyon.

The Scenic Shoreline Preservation Conference, a conservationist group, had asked the PUC to rehear the application by Pacific Gas & Electric Co.

"No good cause for granting a rehearing has been made," the commission ruled.

PG&E already has a first nuclear power plant under construction in the canyon.

Judge Declines To Lower Bail

Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court yesterday refused to reduce bail from $12,500 for John Peter Kearney, 23, of San Francisco, who is charged with the May 2 burglary of a Greenbrae residence.

Kfarney pleaded innocent to the charge as well as one of having stolen property, and a preliminary hearing was set for Monday.

The district attorney's office said that the property Kearney is accused of stealing is worth between $15,000 and $25,000.

Hub Plans Pressed Despite Cost Hike

The San Anselmo City Council was told last night of a sharp rise in the estimated cost of a new Hub intersection, bringing new cries to delay or abandon the project. (Another San Anselmo City Council story, page 1.)

But the council pushed ahead, voting 3-2 to order final drawings for the remodeling project, now estimated to cost approximately $200,000.

Inflation and more precise plans have driven up the price, the council indicated, from an estimate of $103,000 given when the project was first endorsed by the council in January.

For a time last night, it seemed as if there might be no project. After the 3-2 vote favoring the final plans — Duane C. Ragan and Robert M. Scott dissenting — James R. Reed moved to obtain an appraisal of strips of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard property needed for the widening and reconstruction.

That motion lost, 3-2 — Woodrow V. Capurro joining Ragan and Scott — and the council looked for help in the direction of City Atty. John G. Buresh because it felt it would be unable to proceed with the project if it couldn't obtain the appraisals. But Ragan interjected and said he wanted to see if the project might be too costly.

The council then said it would await final estimates from City Engineer Charles R. Leitzell and George C. Davison of the engineering firm of Whitlow, Hoffman and Albritton before determining whether to go ahead.

Ragan said he feared rising costs, while Scott believed the plans absorbed too much commercial property. Capurro and a member of the audience, Mrs. Sarah Nome, raised objections to a bottleneck that would be caused by funneling traffic onto the narrow Bridge Avenue span.

"What hurts," said another spectator, David Bacigalupi, "is the figure we heard of $103,000. We were here before to pin this down and couldn't. Now it appears that the $103,000 isn't going to touch this."

"It's ridiculous to spend all this money at this time," said market owner Fred J. Lancelotti.

Councilmen Kenneth L. Anderson and Reed argued against delay. Anderson saying the engineers had "studied, surveyed, counted, worked, reworked and reworked" the intersection, and Reed pleading that it was an "absolute necessity" to rework the intersection quickly and along the lines of the engineers' recommendations.

The $200,000 figure was given loosely by Leitzell. He said construction, traffic signals and street lights, landscaping, engineering, construction inspection and provision for a contingency fund would total $182,500. Right-of-way costs would come on top of that.

City Administrator-Controller Alfred C. Kaeppel said the city budget, primed with gas tax funds, could meet the $200,000, but anything above that would have to be switched from other areas.

Bear Killed In Sonoma County

HEALDSBURG (UPI) — A 300-pound black bear was killed yesterday after it made the mistake of lumbering into the outskirts of Healdsburg, a Russian River resort town in Sonoma County.

A housewife first spotted the animal from her kitchen window which led to the formation of a posse of 100 residents. Some claimed there were two black bears, one of which was wounded and hiding and therefore especially dangerous.

But Police Chief George Vannuci said that one wounded bear was moving in circles, causing the illusion of two bears when viewed through the trees.

The slain bear was a male, and because it is not mating season, bears would not run in pairs, Vannuci said.

Mayors Will Hear BCDC Status Report

The Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen will hear a report on the Bay Conservation and Development Commission and consider appointments to the City-County Services Committee and Association of Bay Area Governments tonight at the San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere.

Joseph E. Bodovitz, executive director of BCDC, and Melville Owen, a new appointee to the commission, will speak. A social hour will begin at 6:30 p.m., with dinner to follow.

Volcano Possible In The Cascades

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— New eruptions from dormant volcanoes in the Cascade Mountain Range are considered "inevitable" some time in the future, according to an official of the U.S. Geological Survey.

Mount Baker, Mount Rainier, Mount St. Helena and Mount Shasta were cited as possible threats yesterday by the expert, Dwight R. Crandell.

He was among nearly 300 scientists and government officials who attended a meeting on geological hazards in the Western United States. It was called by the president's Office of Emergency Preparedness.

Crandell said the major danger from future volcanic eruptions would come from mud flows hitting surrounding communities or large reservoirs, which might then overflow.

Variance Plan Vetoed By City Council

By a split 3-2 vote, the Novato City Council last night denied a bank cut variance which had been granted by the planning commission to Hy-Lond Hospitals Inc.

Mayor Harley A. McAskill and Councilman J. Wayne Womack voted against overruling the planning commission.

Betty Machado of 1424 Dawes Street, had appealed the planning commission's decision of May 12 to grant the variance from the limit of a 20-foot cut to a 56-foot cut. She took the action as a citizen with no connection with either the city or the firm.

In making her objections, she said the hill had an old landslide on it and the steeper cut could cause a new slide.

Merle Tharp of 775 Atherton Avenue expressed a fear that if such cuts are allowed, the oak studded hills all around Novato might be cut down and the trees removed.

Jack Hill of Murray and McCormic, engineers of the job, assured the council the bank cut would be subject only to minor sliding and rock fall. He also said it would be landscaped with trees such as the Coast Redwood which grow 10 feet in two years to cover the slope.

Councilmen Babe Silva and Douglas M. Merrill said such a high bank was out of line with Novato's policy.

The Novato City Council also:

WESTERN WEEKEND — Waived the business license tax and granted $900 to Western Weekend Inc. to put on the Western Weekend Country Fair June 12 through 16.

ZONING — Passed ordinances banning residential construction in commercial and industrial zones.

BICYCLES — Approved the Marin County Parks and Recreation Department's proposal for bicycle paths throughout the county.

OPEN HOUSING — Passed resolutions declaring the council is in favor of open housing and fair employment in the city regardless of race. This was done after study with the Novatans for Racial Equality.

DOG CONTROL — Passed an ordinance which changes the present Novato dog control ordinance to conform to the one proposed as a county-wide ordinance. This reduces license fees from $7.50 to $5 for females and from $4.50 to $2.50 for males and spayed females. The new ordinance also leaves the leash restriction out, but makes it necessary that a dog be under the control of a responsible person. City Mgr. Charles A. Brown assured the council Novato would receive the same level of dog control which it is now receiving. McAskill said if it did not, the city would go back to its old ordinance.

LOS ROBLES — Rezoned the Los Robles Mobile Home Park of approximately 30 acres on Bel Marin Keys Boulevard north of Hamilton Air Force Base from Multiple residential to planned residential.

AGREEMENT — Rezoned from agricultural to planned residential, 2.6 acres at the end of Hill Road and authorized Brown to sign an agreement with its owner, Paul Pickart, that the city would have an option to purchase 40 feet right of way for the widening of Hill Road extension for $8,000 anytime within 15 years.

TRAFFIC — Approved the deletion of a stop sign on George Street at Court Road and substituted a yield right of way sign; ordered a stop sign installed at the entrance to Highway 101 on Lamont Avenue which has just been extended west of the highway.

RADIO — Received a report that Marin County might go to private radio transmission instead of continuing the county system. The council voted to urge the supervisors not to terminate its own service until it was sure that the private service was ready and available to take over the job of police transmissions.

Novato's New Budget To Council

A preliminary 1969-70 budget of $1,761,680 — up $153,609 from this year's $1,608,071 — was presented last night to the Novato City Council by City Mgr. Charles A. Brown.

The budget allots $1,314,390 for operating expenses and $447,290 to capital improvement, compared to this year's $1,191,871 operating expenses and $416,200 capital improvement.

Brown said he hopes city revenues will increase so there will not be an increase in the current tax rate of 75 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Department heads had requested a budget of $1,958,205.

The council set 8 p.m. next Tuesday, Wednesday and June 5 at the council chambers for budget hearings.

Departments showing the largest increases in the manager's recommendations are:

Planning, $71,855, up $19,730 from $52,125 this year due to the addition of two planners and a secretary.

Police, $410,870, up $53,550 from the current $357,320. This is for one additional police officer and three which have already been authorized. The department has an authorized personnel of 26 but only 23 employed at the present time.

One of the largest revisions down was in the streets maintenance budget. The current budget is $159,655 and the request for next year is $109,630, a drop of $50,025.

Public works engineering budget is up from the current $120,880 by $6,450 to $127,330. The street lighting budget is up $3,290 from the current $65,000 to $68,290.

The recreation budget request is up $23,920 from the current $85,020 to $108,940, due to expansion of the recreation programs, Brown reported.

The park budget is up $13,955 from the current $17,690 to $31,645 because of the completion of Pioneer Memorial Park.

Other Department budget requests compared to the current budgets the latter in parenthesis are:

City council, $10,700 ($9,250); manager clerk, $40,400 (40,005); finance-treasurer, $39,385 ($44,750); attorney $8,550 ($12,050); non-departmental, $132,660 ($135,390); community promotion, $25,930 ($25,025); municipal election, $2,500 ($2,250); public works safety $31,045 (not in the current budget); tree and parkway work $16,565 (not in current budget); building regulation, $33,610 ($35,661); swim pool $12,540 ($12,325); community house $9,425 ($9,725); unallocated reserve $15,000 (not in current budget), and bond interest and resemption, $7,520 ($7,750).

Items in the $575,990 capital improvement program are: remodeling police department $3,200; Pioneer Memorial Park, $20,000; pre-history museum, $3,000; Marin County airport, $12,000; and street improvements: Highway 101 and Lamont signals $17,240; Arthur Street connection $74,000; Simmona Lane $42,150; Wilson Avenue and Novato Boulevard, $54,900; Hill Road, $36,000; Grant Avenue undergrounding utilities, $72,600; street overlay, $218,600 and corporation yard, $22,300.

Increases in revenues are expected mainly in sales and use taxes, building permits, real estate transfer taxes and motor vehicle in lieu taxes, Brown reported.

Expected revenues for the city for fiscal 1969-70 and the figures for the current year, the latter in parentheses, were given as: property tax, $340,775 ($337,500); sales, franchise and cigarette taxes, $451,000 ($388,000); licenses and permits, $103,050 ($76,500); fines, $45,000 ($37,820); investment earnings, $24,600 ($19,500); alcohol beverage, motor vehicle and gasoline tax $454,520 ($416,100); city fees and charges, $62,530 ($48,450); other revenue, $2,400, ($4,750); reserve funds $277,805 ($348,100). This totals $1,761,680, for next year compared to $1,676,720 for this year.

Teacher Panel Raps Hayakawa

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A San Francisco State College faculty disciplinary panel is urging that S. I. Hayakawa be removed from his post as acting president and reprimanded.

After a three-month study, the committee decided yesterday that Hayakawa accepted the job in violation of usual procedures, that he did so without resigning from the presidential selection committee or notifying its members of his decision.

Committeemen also said he destroyed private property by ripping wires from a sound truck operated by a student.

Novato Hopes Chlorine Will Aid Sewage

The Novato Sanitary District is making a study to see if adding more chlorine to its discharge will help bring the standards of its effluent closer to the new standards set by the San Francisco Bay Region Water Quality Control Board, according to Novato district Engineer-Manager Charles A. Joseph.

The district board Monday night authorized Joseph to write a letter to the board requesting time schedule extension on compliance.

The district submitted a time schedule for engineering and financial studies to be completed by July 1, 1970, Joseph said.

The firm of Jenks and Adams of Palo Alto is making the chlorine study, Joseph said.

The Novato Sanitary District board also:

BOUNDARIES — After consideration of the recommendations of the Brown and Caldwell study on sewage disposal in Marin County, voted to leave the proposed service area boundary for the Novato district at the Sonoma County line which is San Antonio Creek. The North Marin County Water District has also agreed to furnish sewer service studies to the area around San Antonio Creek.

ANNEXATION — Approved the annexation of two lots at the end of Bret Court belonging to Walter K. O'Brien and John Reystead.

PLANS — Approved plans for sewer extensions to Henry Silk at the end of Cypress Court and to Pleasant Valley Unit 6 of 71 lots at Sutro Avenue and Center Road.

METTINGS — Set its next meetings for June 9 and June 23.

Fewer Grads For Petaluma Junior High

Petaluma Junior High School will have its smallest graduating class in several years when 225 ninth graders are candidates for graduation at ceremonies at 10:30 a.m. June 7 in the school's courtyard.

Principal Robert Shawler said the class was 35 graduates fewer than last year's class.

John Rakitnichan and Han Wingate, the top Petaluma Junior High graduates scholastically, will be the student speakers at the ceremony and Supt. Leslie H. Meyer also will address the graduates.

Rev. Richard W. Wilcox of the United Church of Christ will deliver the invocation and benediction. Diplomas will be handed out by Dr. William O'Shea, president of the Petaluma board of education, Clay Thompson, clerk of the board, Dr. William J. Patterson, a board member, and vice principal Ralph Davis.

Widening Plan Is Too 'Urban'

The Corte Madera Board of Design, unhappy with the plan for the proposed widening of Tamalpais Drive, is advising the town council that "the design is urban in concept and inappropriate to our majestic rural atmosphere."

The board also recommended at its Monday night meeting that the traffic island at Tamalpais Drive and Redwood Avenue be improved in connection with plans to beautify Village Square, secretary Betty Long reported.

Design for the proposed Denny's Restaurant at 5839 Paradise Drive was approved.

Fourth Youth Booked In Burglary At Home

San Rafael police yesterday arrested the fourth youth sought in connection with the burglary Monday of the home of Hanlon P. Tharp, principal of Davidson Junior High School.

The youth, Michael V. St. Martin, 18, of 33 Ross Street, San Rafael, was sighted by Patrolman Raymond Maynard walking at B and First streets shortly before noon. St. Martin was taken to Marin County Jail and booked for investigation of burglary.

Police said St. Martin and three companions, Richard Sheldon Knowles, 18, and Casey Lawrence Porter, 19, both of San Rafael, and Michael Anthony Omizzolo, 16, of Fairfax, entered the home of Tharp at 90 Chula Vista Drive and took a gun and more than $500 in jewelry, radios and other items.

Porter, Lawrence and Omizzolo were arrested Monday and some of the loot was recovered. The gun — a .38-caliber revolver believed to have been kept by St. Martin — was recovered yesterday on Robert Dollar Drive, where it had been discarded, police said.

Porter, Lawrence and St. Martin were arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday, with the case put over until today for plea entries.

Coins Stolen

The theft of $120 in silver quarters and $200 in assorted coins from a home yesterday at 15 Sussex Court, Terra Linda, was reported to police by the occupant, Wilbur Van Otteren.

Probe Continues In Sub Sinking

VALLEJO (UPI) — Three congressmen wound up their closed door investigation today into the sinking of the $50 million nuclear submarine USS Guittaro.

Reps. John E. Hunt, R-N.J., William Randall, D-Mo., and Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., were assigned to conduct the special inquiry by Chairman L. Mendel Rivers of the House Armed Services Committee.

They planned to talk to a few final witnesses today before flying back to Washington to report their findings directly to Rivers, D-S.C.

Car Strikes Pole, Killing Santa Rosan

A 61-year-old Santa Rosa man was killed last night when his car hit a utility pole near an off-ramp from Highway 101 in Rohnert Park.

Dead on arrival at 7:25 p.m. at Community Hospital in Santa Rosa was George Anthony Bofferding. Rohnert Park police said his car struck a utility pole near the northbound Wilfred exit near Commerce Boulevard. Cause of the accident was unknown.

Bofferding was alone in the car, police said.

His death was the 37th traffic fatality in Sonoma County so far this year and the first in Rohnert Park. There had been 24 through May of last year, the Sonoma County Coroner's Office said.

Skull Fracture

VAN NUYS (UPI) — A basal skull fracture suffered in a fall in his home today was formally listed as cause of the death yesterday of Jeffrey Hunter, the athletic actor who portrayed Christ in the Biblical film epic "King of Kings."

Larkspur Trustees Vote Teacher Pay Increases

Teachers in the Larkspur School District won a 6.2 per cent salary scale increase last night on a 3 to 2 vote of the district board.

The raise is in addition to the automatic annual increase of 2.3 per cent and will cost the district an extra $72,000.

The board, which has been negotiating with teachers for about two months, approved one of two proposals presented last night — the proposal the teachers favored.

The teacher association schedule went from a bachelor of arts to a B.A. plus 60 hours while the district's proposed schedule went to a B.A. plus 75 hours. Both would have cost the same amount.

Earlier, teachers had asked an 18.6 per cent increase, and in another proposal, a 15 per cent increase. Both were rejected by the board.

Trustees Howard C. Harvey and Leon Persson opposed the teacher's proposal last night because they believed there were inequities in the amounts given to each teacher. However, several teachers in the audience insisted the proposal was the one favored by the teachers.

Attorney Raps Bay Fill Bills

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Proposed legislation concerning San Francisco Bay is "conservation extremism, the product of a real, fanatical, irrational, demagogic movement," a landowner's attorney says.

Speaking before the Barristers Club yesterday was Harry Jackson, attorney for Leslie Salt Co., which owns 40,000 areas of south bay salt ponds.

On hand to dispute Jackson's opinion was Dwight Steele, a Sierra Club leader, who asserted the legislation the conservation organization seeks isn't all it might want but "under the circumstances" is worth taking even if it does permit some bay filling.

Marin 4-H Club Sets Fun Day

Marin Mounted 4-H Club will have a "Fun Day" of riding events at the Sleepy Hollow Stables, 1251 Butterfield Road, Saturday, starting at 10 a.m.

Members of the Tri-Valley 4-H Club from the Los Ranchitos area are scheduled to enter the competition, reported Erin Wilson, club reporter.

Christie Fairchild of San Anselmo recently was elected president of the Marin Mounted 4-H Club, Alisa Murphy of Fairfax, vice president; Cindy Miller, San Anselmo, secretary; and Vicki Martinez, San Anselmo, treasurer.

Randy Koch of San Asnelmo and Greg Gill of San Anselmo are sergeants-at-arms and Erin Wilson and Carrie Benson of San Anselmo are reporters.

Versatile Tomato In Salads

WHO CAN RESIST juicy beefburgers cooked on the grill? Onion rings are chopped into the burgers and also top the fresh tomato slices. A special cheese sauce goes over all on a slice of Italian bread.

Tomatoes, vagabonds in the world of food, table hop from one meal to another brightening menus throughout the day. The taste of fresh tomatoes is not easily described, but luscious says it well.

Tomato ancestry goes back to South America. European herbists mentioned tomatoes early in the 16th Century, though they were treated as an oddity. Popular acceptance was slow in arriving, and our own appreciation lagged behind the Italians who were among the first to use tomatoes in their cookery.

Spring sources of tomatoes are mainly Florida, Mexico and Ohio with California volume large from June through the remainder of the year, and many other states contributing.

We're ushering in two salads that put tomatoes in the lead with cabbage and avocados as co-stars. Juicy, fresh tomatoes and blue cheese have been blended with cabbage slaw. Flavors of the delightful tomatoes, savory cabbage and cheese harmonize in a taste that will tempt you to ask for more. Tomatoes have plenty of vitamins C and A; cabbage abounds with C.

Taste buds will jump for joy with fresh Tomato Avocado Salad, a treat in which avocados and tomatoes hobnob with celery and a murmur of garlic for a memorable luncheon or dinner course.

FRESH TOMATO SLAW

3 cups shredded cabbage
4 medium-sized tomatoes, chopped
¼ cup Blue cheese, crumbled
⅔ cup sour cream
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon minced fresh onion
Dash pepper

Combine cabbage and tomatoes in bowl. Chill. Combine remaining ingredients. Toss lightly with tomato-cabbage mixture. Makes about 6 servings.

FRESH TOMATO AVOCADO SALAD

2 pounds tomatoes, coarsely cut
1 medium-sized avocado, diced (about 1 cup)
½ cup chopped celery
3 tablespoons salad oil
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
1¼ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 small clove garlic, very finely minced
Salad greens

Combine tomatoes, avocado and celery in bowl. Combine oil, lemon juice, salt, pepper and garlic. Pour over tomato mixture, toss lightly. Cover and chill at least 1 hour. Serve with crisp salad greens. Makes about 6 servings.

FRESH TOMATOES star in new version of cabbage slaw so welcome for spring menus. A circlet of tomato wedges is a decorative and delicious garnish.

Juicy Kingsize Beefburgers Favorite For Holiday Weekend

Beefburgers are favorites on the outdoor grill, and everybody delights in new variations. Golden French fried onion rings, chopped into the beefburger mixture, are a delicious flavor surprise, and whole rings are a handsome garnish.

Make the burgers kingsize, and place them on a lightly greased grill, three to four inches above a bed of glowing coals covered with light gray ash.

Turn the burgers with a spatula or long tongs. Do not use a fork. Piercing the burgers will cause them to loose flavorful juices.

Serve the burgers on big oval slices of Italian bread. Garnish with onion rings and tomato slices and drizzle cheese sauce over all. Each burger will be a feast in itself.

GOLDEN GIANT ONION BURGERS

1 can (3½ ounce) French fried onions
2 pounds ground beef, chuck or round
1 egg, beaten
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon garlic salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
6 big oval Italian bread slices (¾-in thick)
6 tomato slices
1 recipe Cheese Sauce (recipe below)

Reserve ⅓ cup French fried onions for garnishing burgers. Combine remaining onions with next 6 ingredients; mix well. Shape meat into big oval patties about 2½ inches wide, 5 inches long, and ¾ inch thick. Broil burgers on lightly greased grill, 3 to 4 inches above the coals, to desired degree of doneness, 12 to 15 minutes. Broil on first side about 7 minutes, turn and continue broiling 4 to 8 minutes on second side. While burgers are broiling, toast bread slices on grids and prepare sauce. To serve, top each bread slice with a burger, tomato slices, onion rings and sauce. Yield: 6 servings.

CHEESE SAUCE

2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 cup milk
1½ cups shredded Cheddar cheese
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon prepared mustard
4 drops Tabasco sauce

Melt butter in heavy saucepan. Stir in flour, salt and pepper. Add milk; cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add remaining ingredients; stir gently until cheese melts. Yield: About 1½ cups sauce.

For Quick Sandwiches Reach For Dried Beef

Six ingredients make six sandwiches in a hurry! This one is different, too, because it uses dried beef from a jar or package with canned soup, cheese and buns.

BEEF-CHEESE TOASTWICHES

1 jar or package (4 to 5 ounces) dried beef
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup
½ clove garlic, minced
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ pound Cheddar cheese, grated
3 buns, split and toasted with butter or margarine

Shred dried beef. Heat soup with garlic and add pepper, cheese and dried beef. Cook slowly until cheese is melted. Serve on toasted bun halves which have been spread with butter or margarine. 6 servings.

Punch Possibilities For The Wedding Reception

So you're finally going to be the mother-of-the-bride and she's decided on a small wedding with the reception at home. While daughter worries about the length of her dress and what flowers to carry, it's up to you to take care of all the other problems, from canopy to canapes.

Regardless of how simple or elaborate your reception is, one of the most important parts is the beverage choice. Punches are a good choice: they're quite easy to make in quantity, simple to serve graciously.

PARADISE PUNCH

2 envelopes (1.8 oz. ea.) lemon flavored iced tea mix
2 envelopes (1.6 oz. ea.) mint flavored iced tea mix
1 quart water
1 can (1 pt. 2 oz.) unsweetened pineapple juice
1 can (6 oz.) frozen concentrated orange juice, thawed
2 bottles (1 pt. 12 oz. ea.) ginger ale, chilled

In punch bowl, combine lemon and mint flavored iced tea mixes, water, pineapple juice and orange juice. Chill.

Just before serving, add gingerale and ice. Makes about 1 gallon or 25 (5 oz.) servings.

BRIDAL PUNCH

¼ cup instant tea powder
2 cups sugar
5 cups water
½ cup lemon juice
¼ cup light rum
1 bottle (1 pt. 12 oz.) club soda, chilled
2 bottles (4/5 quart ea.) champagne, chilled

In medium saucepan, combine instant tea powder, sugar and 1 cup water. Cook, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved. Cool. Add 4 cups of water, lemon juice, cognac and rum. Chill.

Just before serving, pour into punch bowl, add club soda and champagne. Pour into ice filled punch glasses. Makes about 1 gallon or 25 (5 ounce) servings.

Easy Vegetable Ideas

Serve canned corn seasoned with butter in parboiled green pepper cups . . . or mixed with canned lima beans seasoned with butter and sprinkle with chopped chives.

Heat sweet peas seasoned and serve atop wedges of baked acorn squash or in the center of sweet onion blossoms, made by scoring and baking whole peeled onions. Sprinkle onions with paprika before baking and top with butter.

Empty contents of a can of lima beans seasoned with butter into your broiler drip pan. Place rack atop vegetables in pan and broil lamb chops to degree of doneness you prefer.

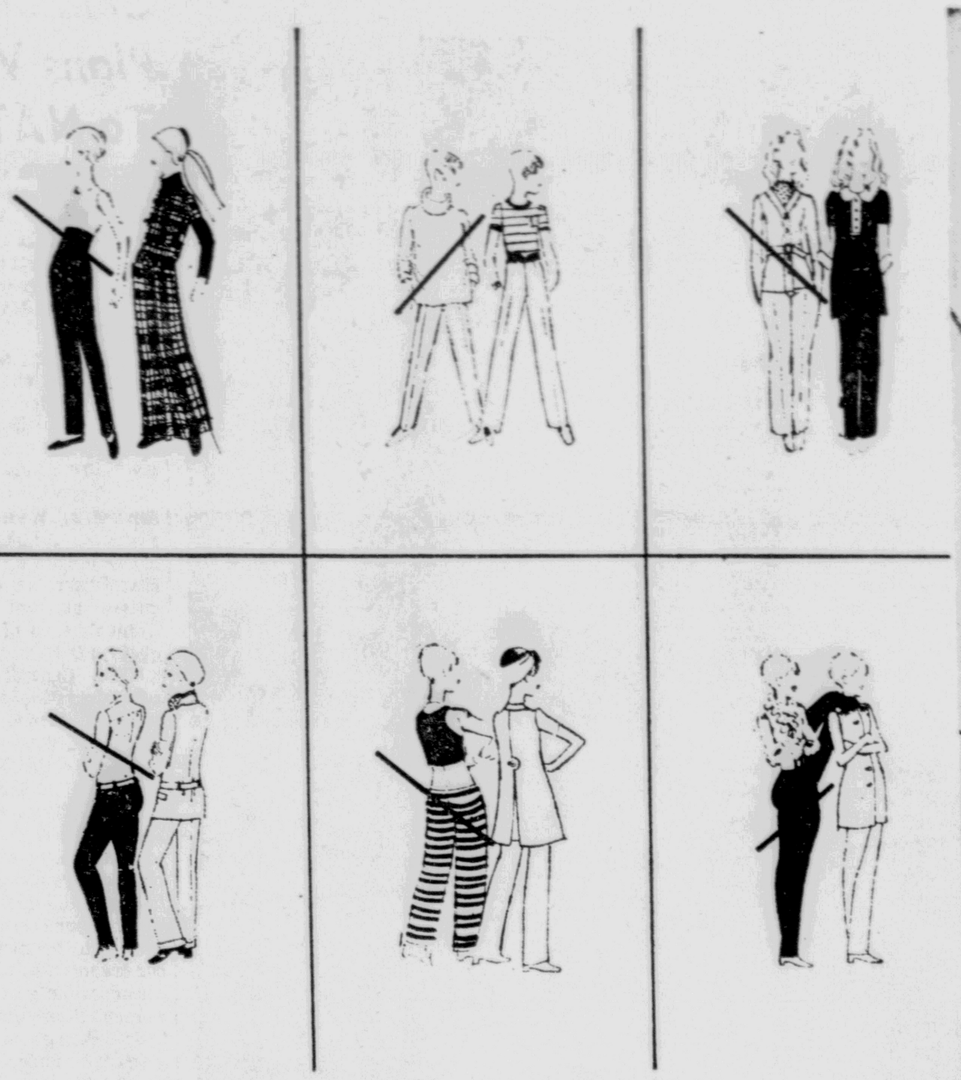
LATEST THING for the affluent woman is this silk outfit of tiny flower-printed two-tone evening pants designed by Donald Brooks, who says it's the perfect way to look for a special summer night. Frog closings, balloon sleeves and a belt covered in the same print adds to the complete look.



PANTS CAN flatter the figure if you know which style to wear. Top left—legs too long?—do wear longish top and wide-legged pants; top center—short legs? — don't wear.... long top; a small fitted one will look best; top right—heavy legs— wear straight-cut legs and long tunic top; bottom left—large bottom—do wear slightly flared pants at hemline and long, loose top; bottom center—big hips—don't wear horizontal patterns or short tops; do wear extra long jacket and slim, straight cut pants; bottom right—saggy tummy—do wear straight cut pants with long top. Don't wear waist-emphasizing belts or tops. Take a good long look at yourself full-length in the mirror when trying on the various styles and coordinate the pants with a variety of tunics, vests and blouses to make your new outfit the most flattering.

Marin Women

Pants For Evening In Popular Prints

Pants have made a major fashion breakthrough. No longer must they be worn just for casual sportswear, shopping or leisure — now they go everywhere.

Women are welcomed at the finest restaurants and social affairs wearing pants. And since comfort and freedom are pre-requisites of today's clothing, this new acceptance is doubly-appreciated.

Soft, flowing, and wide-legged, pants are available in one piece jumpsuits that greatly resemble a long evening dress or are combined with long jackets or tunics. Terrific, too, are the three piece ensembles consisting of printed pants and coat with contrasting solid dress — often gypsy-inspired.

Simply super ... printpants.

And the less-than-perfect body can find a friend in pants by knowing the do's and don'ts.

If you once thought that pants were only for perfect bodies, change your mind — the new pants bend every which way to cover up most figure flaws that pants used to spotlight.

In the spotlight above are designer pants styles and the pants solution to six figure problems.

By DAVID L. ALCOTT

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—In the saloon-busting days of Carry Nation, Beatrice Whitnah made "enemies by the peck" at City Hall in waging her own defiant campaign for social reform.

Today a vigorous but crippled grandmother of 87, Mrs. Whitnah hobbles across the generation gap on crutches to remind City Hall the younger generation's protests are a long-time thing.

MRS. WHITNAH recently used her crutches to pry loose a nuclear bomb shelter sign from the face of Oakland's Hall of Justice. She sees the world's major governments preparing for nuclear war.

"I am perfectly willing to spend the rest of my life in jail," said the gray-haired Gold Star mother after a judge told her to stay within the law and stop tearing down bomb shelter signs.

"I don't think I have to stay within the law," Mrs. Whitnah said. "After all, this country was founded on civil disobedience. I believe in pacifism and non-violence. One's conscience is above the law. What harm is there in going to jail?"

Asserting the life expectancy of her three grandchildren was threatened by possible nuclear war, Mrs. Whitnah hobbled into the chambers of Oakland judge Myron A. Martin the same day he convicted a San Francisco man for tearing down similar signs.

"HE TALKED to me, very nice and cordial, but he wouldn't take my sign," Mrs. Whitnah said. "I went home and wrote him a letter to say my protests must continue."

Looking back on decades of quiet family life that followed her youthful days of protest, Mrs. Whitnah said "I've written letters and letters to congressmen, I've tried to spread a gentle influence but it didn't work."

She entered social work in 1908, three years before the death of Mrs. Nation, the famous temperance crusader who preceded the suffragette movement.

"They called me a copette," Mrs. Whitnah said about her appointment in 1914 as head of a new Women's Protective Bureau in San Francisco. "I made enemies by the peck, but I was mean enough to deal with them."

MRS. WHITNAH'S office, an experiment in social work of those days, extended help to any woman in trouble. "I stepped on the toes of almost everyone in town. But that was a good time in my life—I managed to help people."

After three years her office was shut down and the city council demanded the records she kept on her clients.

"I knew the mayor would have used these records to scandalize people, so I burned them," she said.

Mrs. Whitnah's husband, Joseph Whitnah, was a longtime newspaperman in the Bay Area. He died in 1962. She recalled the press "made fun of me, like Carry Nation," before "I disappearedi nto baby-raising and housekeeping."

Mrs. Whitnah had three children, including a son, Joseph, who died on Oct. 8, 1943 in a bombing raid over Germany. The Gold Star mother keeps in close touch with her surviving children and their grandchildren.

Poole-Mason Wedding Held In Corte Madera

Holy Innocents Episcopal Church in Corte Madera was the setting Saturday afternoon for the wedding of Mattie LaRean Mason to Donald Louis Poole of Larkspur.

The bridal attendants were Vicki Gatley, maid of honor, from Santa Ana, and Carol Contos of Belvedere, the bridesmaid.

After a wedding trip to Oregon the newlyweds will live in Larkspur.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Mason of Corte Madera. A graduate of Redwood High School, she attended the College of Marin and is employed with Wells Fargo Bank in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Poole of Ross are parents of the bridegroom. Donald also is a Redwood High School graduate and attended College of Marin. He is employed with First California Co. in San Francisco. Russell, William and Janine Poole of Ross are Donald's brothers and sister.

Debra Ruhl Is Engaged

The engagement of Debra Lynn Ruhl to Charles Dean Robinson, both of San Anselmo, has been announced.

The daughter of Mrs. Lloyd G. Ruhl of San Anselmo and the late Mr. Ruhl, Debra will be graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School next year. She is the sister of Lloyd G. Ruhl Jr. and Curt E. Ruhl, both of San Anselmo.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Robinson of Mill Valley, Charles was graduated from Tamalpais High School and is employed at Drake High School with the Tamalpais School District. He is the brother of David and Jack Robinson and Mrs. Bob Van Roelsel and Mrs. William Menz.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

DEAR HELEN:

Yesterday I ran out with my kitchen trash basket to catch the garbage man just as he was leaving. He stopped and got out of the truck to dump my refuse, even walking back to meet me. He was so kind and polite I got to thinking about the hard row garbage men have to hoe.

They don't have heaters or air conditioners in their trucks, and besides being constantly hot or cold they must carry those huge cans on their shoulders. Mailmen get little carts to use for hauling mail, and it isn't nearly so heavy. Why shouldn't we do something thoughtful for garbagemen? Think what our city would be without them?

You hardly ever hear a kind word for the garbageman. Why not? — SORRY FOR HIM

DEAR SORRY:

Perhaps because he is taken for granted, as is almost every service person, until he disappears.

Altogether now, let's hear it for our garbagemen. Without them the world would be a stinking mess. Just ask New York City. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

About this "women should walk ten paces behind and barefooted" syndrome: In my first marriage, I went along with the idea that the husband was the head of the house and his wife's whole life was to keep him happy and keep the peace. I became a doormat and finally a divorcee.

Later a minister explained to me: "God made woman not from man's skull bone so that she might be at his head, not from his foot bone so that she would be trampled, but from his rib, so that she might be by his side."

A truly stable man does not need a servant to make him feel secure. Those men who maintain a man's right is a wifely salve often seek the company of other women who have spirit and personality. On the other hand, there are women who stop growing in mentality or personality the minute they catch their man. They want to be inferior slaves, and they get what they ask for.

I am to be re-married soon to a wonderful, successful man. He appreciates me for my individuality and independence, and we make a team, not a dictatorship. — S. D.

DEAR HELEN:

"Not a Nursemaid" is not even human. What kind of a woman would want a divorce just because her husband lost his leg in the service of his country? And to expect a pension or alimony in addition. How low can you get?

I wish this woman could come with me on my visits to veterans' hospitals. In talking to the fellows, I often find their troubles really started not with their injuries but with the dear John letters they got afterwards. Maybe she would see what a low down creature she is.

Her husband may be very lucky to have lost her early in their marriage. You can learn to live with just one leg, and it hardly slows you down these days, but living with a selfish, self-seeking woman all your life could ruin all chances for happiness. — MARY

P.S. My guy will be home from Vietnam this summer. All I ask is that he gets home alive.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

TIBURON SAILING

A sailboat off Tiburon makes a perfect setting for Pendleton's colorful ombre sweater, worn with marching blue pants and a short-sleeved, white mock turtleneck. Ombre, the graduation of color from the center to the sides, gives a handsome three-tone effect.

Keeping Your Pool Maintained And Equipped Leads To Healthy Summer

Doctors in California see many cases of irritation and infection of eyes, ears, nose, throat and skin traceable to improperly maintained pools, and accidents (including drowning) to children continue to occur. To safely enjoy the health and recreational benefits of your pool, it is only common sense to follow many of the rules governing public facilities, says the California Medical Association. For example:

Fencing or covering — when adults or competent older youngsters are not present, be sure your pool is adequately fenced or covered to keep younger children from danger. They should never be left to use the pool without suerpvision.

Depth markers — depth of water should be plainly marked at shallowest and deepest points and (no more than 25 feet apart) at depth changes in larger pools. To prevent small children from suddenly stepping off a ledge into deep water there should be no break in the gradual slope until a depth of five feet is reached.

Handholds, ladders, steps — where overflow gutters do not serve the purpose, there should be a handhold not more than nine inches above normal water level. Steps or ladders should be provided if the distance from the bottom of the pool to poolside is over two feet. Treads should be non-slip.

Walks — paved surface around the pool shold be be non-slip and adequately drained away from the pool.

Lighting — if pool is to be used at night, it should have underwater lighting that will light the bottom and entire volume of the pool with no blind spots, or equally effective overhead lighting. Waterproofing of overhead circuits should be checked by a competent electrician at the beginning of each summer session.

Water supply — shall be from a community water system holding a State Board of Public Health permit or from some other source approved for the purpose by the health officer.

Pool skimming — floating scum, sputum and debris should not be allowed to accumulate in the pool. The bottom and sides of the pool should be cleaned as often as necessary to keep free of slime and algae.

Disinfection and pH control — pools in use should be continuously disinfected by a chemical which imparts a residual effect. Chlorine level and alkaline condition should be maintained at recommended levels, as measured by dependable testing kits.

Bacteriological and chemical quality of water—it is possible to adjust the concentration of chemicals in the water to achieve algae and bacteriological control and clarity of water without causing eye smarting, skin irritation or other objectionable physiological effects. This is done by maintaining a consistent pH, which means proper balance of chlorine (acidity) and alkalinity.

Clarity of water — your pool should not be used at any time when a black disc, six inches in diameter, on a white field, placed at the bottom of the deepest point, is not clearly visible at all distance up to 10 yards.

Managers of public pools may obtain regulations from Environmental Sanitation, State Dept. of Public Health, 2151 Berkeley Way in Berkeley.

For specific guidance in proper care of your private pool, contact your city or the county department of public health. Follow sensible practices so that family and friends can safely enjoy every splashing moment in your pool.

Club Leader Plans Visit To NATO

Stressing the importance of a closer understanding of NATO, Mrs. Walter Varney Magee, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, has planned a conference of clubwomen to be held at NATO in Brussels June 28.

Mrs. Magee, accompanied by 105 women, plus 10 husbands, will leave Cleveland June 7 immediately following the 78th annual GFWC convention. After the NATO conference the group will meet with members of the American Women's Club of Brussels. Ambassador John Eisenhower and Mrs. Eisenhower are expected to be guests at the American Women's Club of Brussels banquet June 28.

"The General Federation," said Mrs. Magee, "has always been a strong supporter of NATO and it seems most fitting to hold the GFWC International convention in Brussels this year when NATO is celebrating its 20th birthday.

"Personal conferences with club leaders and government officials in the countries we visit, enhance our concept of what we can do to be most effective in our organization work. When one considers the growing stature of women throughout the world, their emergence from the obscurity under which they labored in many countries simply because they were women, there is no doubt that women deserve the recognition they are being accorded. Then, most of all, we want to discuss ways and means by which all women can work closely together to foster understanding among the peoples of the world and how we can accomplish that one dream for which we all fervently pray — a peaceful world in which to dwell."

Mrs. Magee and her party will also visit with women in Canada, Ireland, Great Britain, The Netherlands, Denmark and Austria before returning to the U. S. on July 8.

Untermann-Allen Rite In Placerville Church

Merrie Sue Allen became the bride of Thomas Untermann of San Rafael in a ceremony Saturday at the Federated Church of Placerville.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Allen of Camino, the bride chose Sally Bagietto of Pittsburg as her maid of honor and Carol Perkins of Woodland, Linda Magill of Davis and Gail Ohanesian of Sacramento as her bridesmaids.

Dennis Untermann of Fairfax served as best man, and ushering the guests were Walt Lowen of Shafter, James Allen of Los Angeles, and Michael Ruhkala of Rocklin.

After the nuptial rite a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents.

The couple will make their home in San Rafael after a wedding trip to Yosemite.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of the University of California at Davis, and she attended Pittsburg High School. Thomas is a San Rafael High School graduate and is employed with West End Nursery in San Rafael.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Untermann of San Rafael are his parents.

Do No Wait For Cleaning

SILVER SPRING, Md. (UPI) — Never store a soiled garment and never let stains remain in a garment for longer than a week.

The advice comes from the National Institute of Drycleaners, which warns that in some cases even seven days is too long. Faster action is urged for cooking oils, mayonnaise and salad oils, whose stains oxidize in a hurry and become permanent.

Redecorate For Safety

NEW YORK (UPI)—Redecorating the house this spring? Decorate it for safety as well as appearance.

The Council on Family Health, a non-profit organization sponsored by the drug industry, offers these suggestions:

Red and yellow are the best attention getters. A splash of yellow behind the top shelf of the medicine chest can alert the family that medicines in that section are to be taken internally. Paint the middle section red and store medicines for external use on those shelves. Paint the back behind the bottom shelves a bright blue —and store toiletries here.

If shelves and drawers in children's furniture are painted different colors, neatness is easier. And neatness prevents clutter which causes falls. One color could identify space for books and games, another toys, still another for hobby materials.

Basement stairs, where many accidents occur, can be made safer if handrails and bottom and top steps are painted a color different from the staircase.

Denise Marie Gatfield Becomes The Bride Of Ronald J. Tocchini

Denise Marie Gatfield became the bride of Ronald J. Tocchini of Fairfax in a Saturday ceremony at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church in Mill Valley.

Janet Brennan of San Francisco was the maid of honor, with Madeleine Peanisi of Mill Valley, Colleen Gallagher of Point Reyes, Susan Tocchini of San Francisco, sister of the bridegroom, and Mary Lou Seidl of San Mateo as the bridesmaids.

Loring Tocchini of San Francisco served his brother as best man and ushers were another brother, Fred Tocchini of San Francisco, John and Paul Gatfield of Tiburon, brothers of the bride, and David Heanessy of San Rafael.

Denise, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Gatfield of Tiburon, is a third year student at the University of San Francisco. She was graduated from Marin Catholic High School.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Remo Tocchini of San Francisco, was graduated from St. Ignatius High School in San Francisco and the University of Notre Dame and is a teacher at Marin Catholic High School.

Artists Set For Benefit Music Event

The program and musicians have been announced for the Education Corps benefit concert to be presented Sunday at 8:30 p.m. in the Fine Arts Theater at the College of Marin.

After an introduction by Austin Thompson, executive director of the Human Rights Commission, with whom the Education Corps works in support of many minority group projects, violinist Jeanne Marvin of Greenbrae and San Francisco pianist Roy Bogas will play the Vivaldi Sonata in A Major and the Beethoven Sonata in G Major, Opus 30, No. 3.

Then soprano Margot Power of Tiburon, accompanied by pianist Barbara Baum of San Rafael, will sing a group of songs by Poulenc. Following intermission Miss Power will sing the Ballatella from "Pagliacci" by Leoncavallo and five Argentine popular songs by Ginastera.

Concluding the program will be Franck's Sonata in A Major performed by Jeanne Marvin and Bogas.

A violin prodigy at 9 in Brazil, Jeanne Marvin came to the United States at 11 and was graduated at 19 from the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia. She was the winner of the Heifetz award at the Berkshire Music Center at Tanglewood in Massachusetts and in 1961 won the San Francisco Symphony Foundation competition and played as soloist with that orchestra. She is a member of the San Domenico School music faculty.

A laureate of the second international Tchaikovskyy piano competition when he achieved world-wide recognition in Moscow, Bogas began his concert career at 14 with the San Francisco Symphony and has appeared many times with that orchestra and others.

He has toured as an accompanist with Yehudi Menuhin, Zara Nelsova and Joseph Szigeti.

A graduate in music of Syracuse University, Margot Power was a regional winner of San Francisco Opera auditions and has appeared as soloist with many orchestras, Spring Opera of San Francisco, Children's Opera of Oakland, San Jose Opera Company and at the Carmel Bach Festival. She will return for her third season there this summer.

Petaluma Substitute Teachers Ask Raise

Petaluma's substitute teachers association last night asked the Petaluma Board of Education for a pay raise from $25 to $35 a day, a move that would cost the district an approximately $18,000 to $20,000 during the next fiscal year.

The board agreed to study the matter and to consider action at its next meeting June 10.

Baron McClean, a former teacher at Petaluma High School and now a frequent substitute teacher, told the board that substitute teachers should be paid a daily wage equal to that of a beginning teacher.

Most substitute teachers are not only more experienced than beginning teachers, said, they frequently have done more college work.

He said substitutes have not received a pay raise for six years and during that time, the cost of living has increased 23 per cent.

In its presentation to the board, the association, which claims to represent at least two-thirds of Petaluma's substitute teachers, asked that the substitute teacher budget be raised from the current fiscal year's $45,000 to $65,000. The district's proposed substitute budget for next year now is

The Petaluma Board Of Education Also:

SCIENCE —Received a report on changes in next year's junior high science program the major one to move the required science course from the ninth to the eighth grade. This would put family life education in eighth grade because, school officials said, seventh grade is "too early" and ninth grade is "too late."

PHYSICAL EDUCATION — Received a report on a pilot physical education program among second graders and fifth graders at Penngrove School which has significantly im-

GRADUATION — Amended its graduation requirements policy by lowering the number of semester units necessary for graduation from 230 to 220.

SALARIES — Amended its classified salary guide to provide a 2.5 per cent salary raise to classified employees and authorized Supt. Leslie H. Meyer proved the students' performances in physical education. to send out new contracts to teachers reflecting a general 5 per cent salary increase approved by the board several weeks ago.

COMMITTEE — Approved appointment of Newton Petersen, representing Dunham School of Petaluma, and Lawrence Millard, representing John Reed Elementary School of Rohnert Park to the northern area advisory committee.

GIFT — Accepted the gift of a tape deck, microphones and stands from the band and chorus of Rohnert Park Junior High School for use in the Petaluma High School District.

MEETING — Set the organizational meeting for the new board to be elected June 10 for July 8 at 8 p.m.

EMPLOYMENT — Approved hiring of teachers Linda Beltz of Rancho Cotate at $7,423 annually; Dorothy McHenry for McNair School kindergarten at $9,138; Ernesto Rodriques for Kenilworth Junior High at $7,423; Richard Wright for Kenilworth Junior High at $7,423; John DeJong for adult personnel management course for dairy employers at $5.89 per hour; and Carol Stephens as a campus supervisor at $2.10 per hour.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations of Willa Fox, who has accepted another teaching position in Oregon, and Scott Kifer, who is seeking employment in another state.

CLOSED SESSION — Met in a 10-minute closed session to discuss what Meyer said involved a matter of a possible future charge against a district employee. He would not elaborate or say whether the person was a teacher. No action was taken, Meyer said.

Drug Suspect Is Arrested

A 26-year-old San Rafael man was arrested by San Rafael police on suspicion of being under the influence of drugs after a van carrying him and a companion was halted shortly after 3 a.m. today on B Street.

A man had telephoned police earlier to report seeing a man fitting the description of the suspect, Robert Peter Sundberg of 803 Fourth Street, climbing a fence into the yard of Crockett's Van and Storage at 522 B Street.

The van was halted near the storage yard. Police said that Sundberg had numerous puncture marks in his arm and was believed to be under the influence of speed (methadrine). He was booked into Marin County Jail on bail of $35 to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

'Snow White' Staging Slated For Saturday

The two performances of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" by the Magic Circle, a youth theater group, will be held Saturday, not Sunday as reported yesterday in the Independent-Journal.

The new dramatization of the fairy tale will be at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Saturday at the Memorial Amphitheater at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

Tamworth hogs originated at Tamworth, England.

Study Asked Of Penngrove Structure

The 44-year-old main building of Penngrove School is unsafe for occupancy during an earthquake, the Petaluma Board of Education was told last night.

David L. Messinger, a partner in the Oakland structural engineering firm of McClure and Messinger, gave the board a detailed list of deficiencies under state requirements for earthquake resistance.

After hearing the report, the board told Messinger to study cost of either bringing the school up to state standards or replacing it.

The study also would involve evaluation of the school's educational program, the board indicated.

Messinger told the board he felt the building could be upgraded to meet state safety standards less expensively than a replacement could be built. Generally, he said, if the cost of improving a building exceeds 60 per cent of the cost of a new one, it is not economical to improve the old building.

The big weakness in the Penngrove School, the report indicated, is structural weaknesses in the roof and floor, which would probably cause the roof and floor to separate from the walls during an earthquake comparable to the 1906 San Francisco quake.

This could result in a ceiling collapsing, he said, with resulting loss of lives.

April Imports Hit High Mark

WASHINGTON (AP) — Imports of foreign merchandise hit another all-time high in April, the government reported today, topping $3 billion for the first time in history.

Despite the surge in imports to a seasonally adjusted $3.2 billion, the Commerce Department said, the United States posted a $177.5 million foreign trade surplus for the month since exports climbed to $3.4 billion.

Shipping was still showing hangover effects from the strike of dock workers at East and Gulf Coast ports, a government spokesman said.

Canadian NATO Pullout Decried

BRUSSELS (UPI) —U.S. Defense Secretary Melvin Laird, concerned with a Canadian decision to withdraw its troops from NATO, said today the United States considers maintenance of U.S. troops in Europe essential to American security.

The pointed statement followed a warning to Canada by the NATO defense ministers that a Canadian withdrawal of the bulk of its troops from NATO could weaken the alliance by leading other nations to do the same to save money. They asked no pullout until other arrangements can be nade.

Under a plan approved by the Canadian government last month and outlined today to the defense ministers, Canada would withdraw its 10,000-man ground and air force, including nuclear strike units, before the end of the year.

Nixon-Kosygin Meet Not Foreseen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House described as "totally speculative" today a report that President Nixon would meet with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin in Vienna in July.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said, "There is no plan on our schedule to meet with him in Vienna."

San Rafael Co-Eds Will Visit Israel

Four San Rafael high school girls will study this summer at Hebrew University in Jerusalem under auspices of the American Institute of Foreign Study.

The four will be among a group of 14 young people, all high school and college students, traveling to Israel with Rev. and Mrs. Charles Washburn of Ingleside Presbyterian Church, San Francisco, as chaperones.

They are San Rafael High School Juniors Tina Griffin, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Charles C. Griffin of 80 Jewell Street, and Bebe Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryce W. Anderson of 304 H Street. Barbara Ladow, Terra Linda High School Junior, daughter of Mrs. James Kerwin of 111 Corillo Drive, and Lori Enos, Terra Linda Senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Enos of 1 Cushing Avenue.

The group will leave New York by jet airliner on July 23. They will stop in Rome for a two-day visit, then continue to Jerusalem, where the students will attend special summer classes in Israeli history and conversational Hebrew at the university and visit sites connected with Old and New Testament history. En route home, they will stop in Athens to visit historic Greek sites, returning to New York Aut. 29.

Hill Diplomas Slated For 231 In June 12 Rite

Hill Junior High School in Novato will graduate 231 students at ceremonies at 2:30 p.m. June 12 at the Novato High School football field, according to Principal Frank Raney.

Steve Heffelfinger and Maria Craft, first and second semester student body presidents respectively, will conduct the ceremony.

Trustee Gordon Leathers, assisted by his son, Brad, who is president of the Junior California Student Federation, and Supt. James G. Bunker will present the awards to the students.

Budget Workshop

The Marin Junior College District board will hold a workshop session at 8 p.m. today on the capital outlay budget for 1969-70 in the testing office of the Student Personnel Center.

Benefit Set For Biafra, Library

An arts festival to benefit Biafra and the Red Hill School library will be held June 7 from 11:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the school in San Anselmo.

The festival will include band and rock concerts, art works, films, a play, and folk singing, the school reported.

Proceeds will be donated to the Biafra Fund through St. Anselm's Church. There will be no admission charge.

CONGRESS SITS IN SAN RAFAEL

Young Lawmakers Aid Park, Kill Off ABM, Impeach Agnew

By JOANNE GRANT

Funds for the completion of Point Reyes National Seashore were approved yesterday while the controversial antiballistic missile system was defeated in a special session of the House of Representatives marred by an assassination attempt on the president.

The "special session" was held at San Rafael High School — a mock Congress far more lively and more speedy than the real thing.

The Senate passed a resolution approving a cease-fire in Vietnam; a constitutional amendment to allow prayer in public buildings, and approved a Department of Consumer Affairs — before it sat as a court to impeach the vice president.

The students, members of government classes at San Rafael High, had been working as major congressional committees for about two weeks, preparing for the mock session.

Virginia Franklin, social studies teacher in charge of the day-long experience in government, explained the students chose their party and state and major area of committee interest and then became specific senators and representatives in line with their preferences.

The students then researched their senator or representative so they could speak and vote like them, rather than as high school students, she explained.

When a student did deviate as one "representative" did briefly, he was quickly pulled back into line by House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Massachusetts, (Steve Bacon), with a terse, "You're a congressman, not a student at San Rafael High School."

One teacher observed that while students maintained their roles while speaking, they sometimed forgot and voted like students.

Preparation also included correspondence with senators and representatives to obtain copies of real bills for use at the mock session.

The students seemed absorbed in their roles yesterday, lobbying, debating, cheering and booing in a sometimes carnival atmosphere. The smaller Senate was more sedate than the House of Representatives, but even there the proceedings were punctuated with frequent cheering and applause.

However, the House was where most of the action was.

During the morning, representatives defeated a bill prohibiting sending firearms through the mail.

Later, President Richard M. Nixon, usually known as Nick Carpou, addressed a joint session on his legislative program and as he was leaving the platform, a student shouted "communists" and fired a noisy toy gun.

The president was not injured — the "bullet" struck a Secret Service man. The assassin attempted to flee but was stopped by another contingent of Secret Service men.

"Now do you think it's time we talk about the firearms bill?" asked student Bebe Anderson as Rep. Robert L. Leggett, D-California.

The House also approved bills creating a volunteer army and controlling air pollution but defeated one which would have lowered the voting age to 18.

One of the most spirited debates came during a discussion of a bill to amend the Internal Security Act to make it a federal crime to bear arms on campus to do anything to provoke violence on campuses.

The major targets of the bill were the Students for a Democratic Society, Black Students Union, Ku Klux Klan, the Black Panther Party and "all other organizations outlawed by the attorney general."

The bill's author, Chris Smith as Richard H. Ichord, D-Missouri, spoke eloquently for his bill and defended his inclusion of the Klan against the fiery southerner, Steve Meeks as Thomas G. Abernathy, D-Mississippi.

Abernathy maintained, in a syrupy southern drawl, that the Klan is "the backbone of America" and warned of the horrible injustices that would face white southerners if the Klan were forced out of existence.

"We must have some consideration for the minorities here," Ichord roared back, almost better than the original. "They are human beings — they have children," he shouted and drew a standing ovation.

The amendment to withdraw the Klan failed and moments later the full bill also went down to defeat.

It was also the house where impeachment proceedings began against Allan Bloom as Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

The House Judiciary Committee contended Agnew violated constitutional senatorial immunity by interrupting the orderly business of the Senate and "compelling the Hon. Senator Case to attend a vaguely defined 'executive hearing and investigation'." When Agnew was similarly summoned, he refused to leave.

The committee also charged he was going beyond the legal powers of the president of the Senate; that he has been partial in debate, and that he threatened senators leaving a meeting with not announcing when a vote is to be taken.

Representatives approved a resolution that he be bound over to the Senate for trial.

Senators enthusiastically approved halting the regular order of business to hold the trial but when time came for a vote, they couldn't muster a quorum and Agnew held onto his job as the day ended.

Hospital Board Discusses Tax For New X-Ray Room

The possibility of levying a tax for hospital equipment — primarily for a new special procedures room for X-ray — was discussed last night by the Marin Hospital District board.

The special procedures room, for use of the latest techniques in X-ray therapy, has been under discussion in long range planning sessions for some time and last night, Dr. Gus Raney, head of the department, appeared before the board.

He proposed turning one of the ground floor conference rooms into a special procedures room and estimated remodeling would cost about $10,000. Equipment would cost in excess of $100,000.

Dr. Raney reported the price of the equipment is scheduled to go up 9 per cent July 1, but if orders are placed before that, current prices would be charged.

Becker said the board did not discuss figures for the tax, which it can levy without a vote, but noted a one-cent tax produces about $50,000 in revenue.

No action was taken on the proposal last night because two board members, Marion C. Ibach and Thomas K. Proctor were absent for vacations. The item will be considered at the next meeting, June 24.

The Marin Hospital District Board also:

SOIL ENGINEERING — Approved hiring Harding, Miller, Lawson and Associates for soil engineering services in connection with the new parking area at an estimated fee of $3,000 and in connection with the realignment of Bon Air Road at an estimated fee of $1,500. Work on filling for the parking area began yesterday.

BIBLE PAGES — Acknowledged the donation of 12 antique Bible pages by Stanley B. Slotkin of Los Angeles. The pages, which date to the 15th and 16th centuries will be placed in the medical library.

DONATIONS — Approved a request by the hospital volunteers to donate about $11,000 worth of equipment; accepted a donation of $10,000 from the late Sarah Shaw of Mill Valley, a former volunteer, and authorized administrator Ray K. Bolinger to use it for equipment.

Marinite Gets Top College Post

A San Anselmo man has been appointed president of Laney College in Oakland, the Peralta Junior College District has announced.

Steven P. Morena, 48, of 1000 Butterfield Road, has been assistant dean of student personnel services. He replaces Wallace Homitz as president. Homitz resigned March 1 because of ill health.

Morena received his doctorate of education in guidance and administration in 1963 from Stanford University.

Credit Card, Wallet Stolen From Auto

Thieves yesterday broke into a card in Marin City and stole a stereo player, clothing valued at $150, a credit card and a wallet containing $75, sheriff's deputies reported.

Deputies said Greg Farrar of Scottsdale, Ariz., and Mark Buono of Fresno were visiting card to Farrar and the clothing at 79 Cole Drive at about midnight. At 9 a.m., deputies said, they returned to Farrar's car to discover the thefts. The wallet belonged to Buono, the credit car to Farrar and the clothing to both, according to deputies.

Bolinas Trustee's Quick Resignation

One Bolinas-Stinson School District trustee abruptly resigned under a cloud of mystery and another admitted that things other than those permitted under the Ralph M. Brown Act were discussed in a 90-minute closed session of the board last night.

Elise Thompson, amember of the district board for nearly 12 years, announced her resignation immediately after the closed session as the board was settling down to discussion of the proposed district budget for next year.

"Madam Chairman, this is so incongrous after what we have just gone through for an hour and a half, I submit my resignation and ask permission to leave this board," Mrs. Thompson said. She then left the meeting, obviously distraught.

Jane Phillips, chairman of the board, made no comment at the time and continued with the budget hearing. When asked after the meeting if she had accepted the resignation, she said she hadn't had time to, since Mrs. Thompson had left so abruptly. None of the other trustees could or would shed any light on Mrs. Thompson's actions.

The meeting was to "discuss personnel matters," according to Mrs. Phillips, who would say no more.

Trustee Jesse Reasoner also said that most of the meeting was taken up with "personnel matters" but said that there had been some discussion about upgrading the educational setup in the district.

"Personnel matters" are not legitimate reasons for closed meetings, as spelled out in the Brown Act. Boards and councils may meet in private only to hire, fire or hear charges against an employee.)

Last night's closed session was called by Mrs. Phillips, who last week found a group of parents meeting before a regular session with Supt. Clarence B. Larison and Mrs. Reasoner to discuss problems in a teacher's classes. Mrs. Phillips called the meeting illegal but Mrs. Reasoner and Larison said it was legal because no quorum was present.

The five trustees were joined behind closed doors last night by three members of the staff of the county superintendent of schools, Stanley H. Friese, deputy county superintendent; Robert E. Spain, director of administrative services, and Kenneth E. Barnes, coordinator of curriculum.

Immediately prior to the closed session, two trustees-elect, Erik Lund and Warren Fairbanks, were asked to leave the meeting room and District Supt. Clarence B. Larison was excluded by a 3-2 vote of the board.

Larison asked Mrs. Phillips after the budget hearing if he would be informed of the actions taken in the closed session to which Mrs. Phillios replied: "It was a closed meeting."

When a member of the audience asked what the incongruities were to which Mrs. Thompson referred he was gaveled down by the chairman and threatened with removal if he didn't confine himself to the budget.

Lorison said "Mrs. Thompson's resignation is deeply regretted and she will be missed by the staff very much. She was very attentive to ideas expressed to the board by the community."

Budget Drop, Tax Hike Forecast

Taxpayers in the Bolinas-Stinson Union School District can look forward to a lower budget for the next year but the tax rate will probably increase by a minimum of 10 cents to $2.24 per $100 valuation, district trustees were told last night.

The trustees approved a preliminary budget of $199,585 as opposed to this year's budget of $201,626, a drop of $2,041.

Supt. Clarence B. Larison said this situation was brought about because some tax monies allocated were not collected and the district actually operated this year on approximately $10,000 less than the amount budgeted.

The budget made no provision for teacher salary scale increases and no additional health and welfare benefits.

Also cut were proposals to move two classroom buildings from the Stinson school to the Bolinas campus and funds for repair of the Bolinas school which has been declared unsafe for student occupancy.

There will be three more meetings on the budget before final adoption unless the trustees cancel them.

In other business last night, the board upheld a previous decision to hold graduation exercises for eighth grade students in Stinson Beach School the night of May 19. John Slater, one of the graduates, made a plea for an afternoon ceremony, saying that nine of his classmates favored afternoon rites and five liked a night ceremony.

Boys, Plastic Bag And Two Citations

Two San Rafael youths were cited to the probation department on suspicion of possession of marijuana after they were stopped on a routine traffic violation yesterday in Ross, police said.

The boys, one 16 and the other 17, had a plastic bag containing what appeared to be marijuana and a box containing five hand rolled cigarettes believed to contain marijuana, police said.

A Wayward Bus And Five Bookings

Five Marin City teen-age boys who decided not to "Leave the driving to us" and swiped a Greyhound bus last night ended up with the bus ignominiously mired in the mud and charged with grand theft.

The adventure never really got underway as the boys were able to drive the bus only about 400 feet from a Greyhound storage lot at the south end of Richardson Bay into the bay goo.

Sheriff's deputies called to the scene about 8 p.m. by a report that they were "driving down the railroad tracks" watched through binoculars as the youths fled and took a ride from a passerby.

They were quickly caught, however, and turned over to juvenile authorities.

Booked into Juvenile Hall were Kep Curtis Cook, 14, and Craig Lee Cook, 15, both of 981 Drake Avenue; Bradley Charles Van Dyke, 11, of 35 Drake Avenue; Steve Craig Smith, 13, of 171 Drake Avenue, and Lloyd Dora, 14, of unknown address.

SAN JOSE (AP) —A five-day mobile home and recreation vehicle show featuring nearly $2 million in equipment opened today at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds.

REDESIGN NECESSARY

Tam Creek Work Not Resumed Yet

Work was still stalemated on the Tamalpais Creek portion of the Corte Madera Creek flood control project today pending redesign work by the U.S Army Corp of Engineers.

Col. Frank C. Boerger, San Francisco District Engineer, said that this might involve installing some rock and sheet metal piling to support forms for the cement walls.

A meeting was set for 3 p.m. today, when the enginers will discuss what to do next with Donald R. Frost, Marin County public works director.

The exact date as to when work will start was not known, said Boerger, but he made it clear the engineers don't intend to tarry.

The design work of the 450-foot long Tamalpais Creek project had to be changed following damage incurred last Thursday after vandals wrecked two pumps which caused the excavated creek to flood, undercutting the banks and saturating the soil.

Loss is estimated at $100,000 at this time — $50,000 because of the damages and $50,000 because of the holdup in the time schedule which affects the rest of the project.

In addition, Ralph C. Noah said today he estimates $500 in damage to the Ross Valley Sanitary District caused by the breaking of an eight-inch sewer pipe when the banks caved in.

Noah, district manager, said he expects the corps to meet the cost. He explained that the sewer pipe was plugged and the flow reversed toward Goodhill Road.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of Marin Superior Court dissolved a stop work order Monday which enables work, held up 10 days now, to continue on Tamalpais Creek.

Orange County Girl Arrested

A 16-year-old Orange County girl was cited to Marin County Juvenile Hall yesterday for shoplifting after she allegedly took a barbecued chicken, valued at $2.28, from the Top Hat Market, 393 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, police reported.

Store clerk Gary Wallaham told police he found the chicken under the girl's coat when she left the store at 5:35 p.m.

Police said the girl had hitchhiked to Marin two weeks ago from her home and had been living on a beach nearby.

Asphalt Antitrust Suit May Aid Marin

Marin County could recover $100,000 to $200,000 in damages for overpriced asphalt products purchased in the last 10 years, if the state Attorney General succeeds in his antitrust suit against asphalt suppliers.

This estimate came yesterday from County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney. He said the Attorney General will include Marin in his antitrust action authorized by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Supervisors approved a resolution adding Marin to the suit.

The suit alleges price-fixing by major suppliers of asphaltic products.

During the past 10 years, Marin County paid out about $100,000 in direct purchases fo asphalt products for county road repair and substantially more for indirect purchases by contractors doing road work for the county.

Maloney said if the state wins the antitrust action, damages paid would be triple the amount of the overcharge. He said the $100,000 to $200,000 recovery for Marin is just a rough guess.

The price-fixing allegation stems from the fact that bids for asphalic material always come in at precisely the same price from various suppliers, said Maloney.

Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

SIGN ORDINANCE — Set 9 a.m. June 10 for a hearing on amended county sign ordinance that would ban billboards and set maximum height and size on freestanding signs.

FIRE PROTECTION DISTRICT — Set 1:45 p.m. June 10 for hearing on creation of a fire protection district in areas outside cities and fire districts where no protection exists against structural fires.

MARINA APARTMENTS — Set 3 p.m. June 10 for hearing on a request for 112 units of marina aprtments at Strawberry Point. Leonard B. Fleishman of Belvedere wants to put in the apartments on seven acreas of land on the south side of Seminary Drive east of Ricardo Drive.

BOLINAS LAGOON — Voted unanimous support for Assembly Bill 2295, which would dissolve the Bolinas Harbor District and give the county three years in which to present plans for development and preservation of lagoon tidelands. If the county fails to submit an acceptable plan to the state in three years, the tidelands will revert to the state.

MENTAL RETARDATION — Hired Elliott Russell of Berkeley as evaluation analyst for the Community Mental Health Services mental retardation program at a salary of $15,816 per year.

MUIR BEACH — Approved $1,750 in overtime patrol work by sheriff's deputies at Muir Beach for the two-week period from April 27 to May 11. For future overtime patrol, the sheriff must submit overtime requests as needs arise, the supervisors decided.

DOCUMENT REPRODUCTION — Set a fee schedule for charging the public for reproducing public documents when more than five pages are requested. Over five pages, the charge will be 25 cents for the first page and 10 cents for each additional page.

AUDITORIUM TESTING — Approved an additional $2,500 to pay Abbott A. Hanks Inc. for testing structural welding on the Veterans Memorial Auditorium. A total of $3,250 had been authorized previously. Supervisor Louis H. Baar protested that such testing should be borne by the contractor, not the county, but he voted for the additional outlay, making the vote 4 to 0. Chairman John F. McInnis was out of county.

SERVICE STATION — Unanimously rejected a request by Pierre Faure for commercial zoning for his property at the corner of Maple Avenue and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard next to the Kentfield firehouse so that a service station can be built.

PLANE MISHAP — Rejected a claim by David Kweder for $1,500 to $2,000 damage to his airplane, caused when the right wheel of his airplane went into a ditch at Marin County Airport May 18.

NEW CAREERS — Put over until budget time a $63,100 plan to open 14 new positions to New Careerists and to allow 10 existing positions to be filled by New Careerists when vacancies occur. Aim of the program is to allow persons without formal college training to work themselves into professional positions.

LAGOON ACQUISITION — Authorized condemnation proceedings for 17.53 acres of tidelands owned by Helen F. Wilkins and family at the northwest end of Bolinas Lagoon where Highway 1 and the Olema-Bolinas Road intersect. This is part of the county's acquisition program for Bolinas Lagoon Park.

LIBRARY — Postponed to budget sessions a request by Supervisor Michael Wornum of Mill Valley that the city of Mill Valley receive $40,000 from the county as reimbursement for use of the city library by nonresidents. The other supervisors told Wornum the city should either enter the county library system or charge users.

ROAD IMPROVEMENTS — Allotted about $300,000 in federal aid to straightening out bad curves on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from Grenbrae past San Quentin Prison and to widen and improve Novato Boulevard between Novato Creek Bridge and San Marin Drive. The work is expected to start in the fall of 1970, financed from funds that cannot be used in time for widening Sir Francis Drake in Kentfield.

GALLINAS VILLAGE — Reset for 4 p.m. next Tuesday a hearing on P. J. Tarrant's proposed 56-unit apartment on La Brea Way in Gallinas Village, after bitter neighborhood complaint over postponement of yesterday's hearing on account of the absence on a trip of Supervisor John F. McInnis.

Sit-Ins Flayed By Black Judge

NEW YORK (AP) — A Negro judge, lashing out at self-appointed protectors of black people who break laws with their protests, sentenced 24 Brooklyn College militants, 21 of them white, to five days in jail for a sit-in last year.

"I don't know who appointed you to defend the cause of the Negro," Criminal Court Judge Albert R. Murray said yesterday to the students, who stood stunned before the bench. "None of you have my permission to fight my battles."

Eleven co-eds were sentenced separately to five-day terms. The 35 students were charged with criminal trespass after taking over the college registrar's office last May to demand more black and Puerto Rican students, faculty and courses.

Pension Refused

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Arthur J. Goldberg, former Supreme Court justice and U.N. ambassador, has declined a $25,000 a year pension offer from a former employer—the United Steelworkers Union.

Army Offers Stone-Like Design For Creek Channel

The controversial Tamalpais Creek channel in Kent Woodlands, between Kent Avenue and Goodhill Road, can be lined with simulated stone texture concrete at no extra cost to the county.

This proposal from the Army Corps of Engineers won unanimous approval of the four-man board of Marin Supervisors yesterday. Chairman John F. McInnis was on a trip out of the county.

Col. Frank C. Boerger, district engineer for the corps, suggested the textured concrete in a letter to Public Works Director Donald R. Frost.

The colonel added that the proposed six-foot fencing along the channel can also be lowered if desired. Frost recommended that the fence be kept at least four feet high to prevent children from falling into the creek.

On the legal front, County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney reported that Marin Superior Court Judge Samuel W. Gardiner had dissolved the stop-work order on Tamalpais Creek, because the flood control work had progressed too far already.

Maloney said the one-week stop-work order and the flooding of the creek through vandalism probably will result in a series of damage suits "that will take three or four years to resolve."

"We suspect that the contractor will try to sue the Army, the Army will sue us, and we will sue Kent Woodlands Properties Inc."

Technically, the county was not involved in the courts' stop-work order, said Maloney. "But the Army would not appear (in court) so we felt it best to appear."

"Did the contractor have insurance against vandalism?" asked Supervisor Michael Wornum.

"That's one of the points we'll have to look into," replied Maloney.

Marin Demos Urge U.C. Guard Recall

The Marin County Democratic Central Committee urged last night that Gov. Ronald Reagan immediately withdraw the National Guard from Berkeley, reported chairman S. Robert Politzer.

The committee "deplored and condemned" the use of gas and buckshot, Politzer said, and recommended that a "People's Park" be given to hhe citizens of Berkeley. But the committee's resolution did not say where the park should be, or who should pay for it.

The committee also voted to donate $50 to Fred Farr's assembly campaign in Monterey County for the seat vacated last month by the death of Assemblyman Alan G. Pattee, R-Salinas, and set up a six-member finance committee chaired by Joseph Dahlman of San Rafael.

Former California Public Utilities Commissioner William M. Bennett of Kent Woodlands spoke before the committee, which met in the County Courthouse, San Rafael. Bennett said President Richard M. Nixon was deliberately trying to oust the liberal members of the U.S. Supreme Court because the court had ruled against the El Paso Natural Gas Co., a firm represented by Nixon's former law firm, Politzer reported.

Morse Estate Value Is $10 Million

The will, filed for probate yesterday included 291,000 shares of stock in Del Monte Properties, each valued at $30. Morse, 83, died May 10.

Official Bares RCA Tax Debt

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assessor Irene Hickman has told county supervisors that Radio Corporation of America owes the county $600,000 in taxes on $12 million worth of computer equipment.

The firm hasn't filed a tax return on the equipment leased to the state in 1967, she told the board as it considered selection of a new computer system. RCA and IBM were competing for the county business.

Larry Watts, an RCA official, said he was not aware of the tax matter and that it had nothing to do with the discussion at hand.

Sausalito Teacher Says She Was Partly Misquoted

Valerie Joy of Larkspur, who has resigned as teacher of French and Spanish at Martin Luther King School in Sausalito, said today she was in part misquoted in a story in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

Mrs. Joy was quoted as saying that "teachers are unable to control their classes and the biggest reason is a lack of support from the school administration."

She said today that she had not said teachers are unable to control their classes "since it's impossible for me to be in every class so I would have no way of knowing."

Difficulties in discipline are caused at Martin Luther King School, she said, by "kids wandering around in the halls during class time." She said "a whole series of substitutes" during the current semester have added to discipline problems.

She reaffirmed her contention that lack of support from the school administration has made "a proper learning situtation impossible."

Mrs. Joy said she did not report constant friction between black and white students in her classes. "This was not true in my classes," she declared.

Mrs. Joy, who teaches half time, resigned as of the end of this year. Her resignation was accepted Monday night by the Sausalito School District board.

Cash, Keys Taken

A purse containing $11 in cash, keys and other items owned by Esther Hummell of 1325 McKenzie Drive, Petaluma, was stolen from a locked car parked near Petaluma High School yesterday, police said today. Also taken was a bathing suit, cap and towel, they said.

Sausalito Council Sets Pay Session

Sausalito city employees won't have to wait long this year to learn what sort of pay raises they will get. At its first budget session last night the Sausalito City Council agreed to take up salaries at tomorrow's budget meeting at 7:30 p.m. in city hall.

After presentations by department heads, City Mgr. George M. Patterson, employees' representatives and employees, the two-man finance committee will take salaries under study and make its recommendations at the June 10 budget meeting.

ASKS INCREASES

Patterson has recommended 7½ per cent increases for everyone except himself, department heads and four other employees. Some department heads asked 10 per cent for their employees, however.

The council last night got a general review of the 1969-70 budget from Patterson, but didn't get down to specifics.

Patterson recommended expenditures of $1,252,220, a drop from this year's estimated expenditures of $1,306,634, and said that figure will hold the total city tax rate at $1.315, same as this year's.

The only change in the tax rate funds which Patterson recommended was a half-cent in the general fund and a half-cent increase in library operating fund. That would make the rates 91 cents for the general fund, 15.2 cents for library operations, 5 cents for library building fund and 20.3 cents for retirement fund.

The tax rate would remain constant despite the budget drop because this year the city spent gas tax funds for streets and sea wall funds for Bridgeway widening, both accumulated over several years.

The city's assessed valuation will produce an estimated $2,745 per penny of property tax rate, Patterson said.

He projected total current revenues of $1,257,995, including $377,000 in property tax, $255,000 sales and use taxes, $9,500 hotel occupancy tax, $35,900 cigarette tax, $16,900 for franchises, $43,000 in business licenses, $70,000 from parking meters, $124,600 from municipal parking lots, $140,000 in traffic and parking fines, $50,521 in gas tax, $11,000 in alcohol tax, $46,198 motor vehicle in-lieu tax, and $21,000 in county grants.

STREET SWEEPERS

Patterson said the 7½ per cent salary raises would put Sausalito in a "sound position" in competing for employees. He recommended a 10 per cent increase for a heavy equipment operator who will sweep streets, working a six-day week starting at 5 a.m. He recommended 5 per cent increases for the assistant fire chief, who got a 12½ per cent raise last year, and for two parking enforcement officers.

Patterson also recommended minor improvements in fringe benefits, including a raise in daily hospital payments from $45 to $50 and extending maximum major medical benefits over a five-year period from $10,000 to $15,000.

Neighbors Win Store A New Lease On Life

The people of San Rafael's Sun Valley area like the Sun Valley Market at Fifth and California avenues, and want no additional commercial zoning to permit a neighborhood shopping center.

They made that abundantly plain last night to the San Rafael Planning Commission, and the commission responded by turning down unanimously, in 1-2-3 order, rezoning of two lots adjacent to the market which would have extended commercial zoning to Humboldt Avenue, a use permit for a Speedee 7-11 Store which would replace the present market, and architectural approval for a building to house that and related shops.

Before the commissioners were one petition with 296 names, another with 11 names, and eight letters — all in opposition to the proposals, along with a recommendation by the planning staff for denial. And before them, too, were about 100 Sun Valley residents in the audience.

Among those speaking against the changes was Tom Zitelli, who owns the only other commercial lot in Sun Valley, across California Avenue from the market, and operates a cleaning shop there. Zitelli said the 7-11 Store "would be to my extreme advantage — my business would be enhanced. But in the interest of the public and the community this is something that would be injurious." The drive-in business attracted would make hazards to children at the intersection "10-fold worse," he asserted.

When chairman Joseph J. Garbarino asked for a show of hands in favor of the changes, the only hands raised were those of Joseph L. Giomi of 15 Eye Street, the property owner and applicant, and Robert Burgess, Giomi's agent.

When he asked for a show of hands in opposition, almost everyone else in the hall responded, among the many hands raised being that of City Councilman Fred Jensen of 246 Center Street. The rezoning application will automatically go before the city council on June 2.

The planning commission refused to go along with Planning Director Herbert G. Hotchner on two resolutions which he said were preparatory to a probable application later this year for federal funds for park acquisitions.

The first called for investigation of park and recreation uses of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. power line right-of-way; the second, for preparation of an amendment to the subdivision ordinance requiring dedication of park land or an in-lieu fee in each new subdivision.

Instead, the commission passed two modified resolutions, both proposed by Commissioner Jorgen V. Lunding. The first, approved unanimously, directs the staff to meet with PG&E representatives to discuss the use of the rights of way. The second directs the staff, in cooperation with the parks and recreation department and others, to prepare a program for systematic acquisition of park and open space areas. It passed 4-2-1, with chairman Garbarino and Commissioner Pat Hetherton opposed and Commissioner John J. Adams abstaining.

The San Rafael Planning Commission also:

JACK-IN-THE-BOX — Approved subdivision of the Mayfair Market property (former Dexter Rambler building and lot) at 1804 Second Street, splitting off the northwest corner for a Jack-in-the-Box drive-in cafe and rearranging a previously approved parking layout for the Mayfair Market. Commissioners Lunding and Thomas R. O'Toole questioned the provision for left turns from Second Street with installation of a holding lane (to be installed at Jack-in-the-Box expense) but went along with approval.

KARATE SCHOOL — Approved unanimously a permit for an East-West Karate School at 1414 Fourth Street.

AUTO WRECKING — Rejected unanimously application for an auto wrecking and storage yard at 2031 Francisco Boulevard by Lee R. Ceccotti.

SMALL WORLD LEASING — Approved a sign for Small World Leasing, to occupy the former 188 Variety Store property at 871 Fourth Street.

INFRA-RED ENERGY — Granted Dohemann Co. permission to put two removable building units on its property in Northgate Industrial Park for one year for a laboratory for Opto-Electronics Inc. Tom Burns of Dohemann Co. said Opto-Electronics "does research and development in detection of infra-red energy," and plans are under way for a 20,000-square-foot building for it in the industrial park, with the size probably to be doubled within two years.

AUTO SHOP CHANGE — Approved changes in the building and parking area of Isi Auto Repair at 623 Irwin Street to convert it to truck-tractor sales and auto repair. For this item, Garbarino absented himself at request of Hotchner, since he had intervened on behalf of the applicant.

Verbal Fireworks Erupt Over Height Of A Fence

The fence line war did not die with the Old West.

One battle in a fence line war was fought out in words and sound effects — but without gunplay — last night before the San Rafael Planning Commission. The antagonists were two neighbors in Loch Lomond.

David Elliott Stovall of 51 Lochinvar Road had applied for permission to erect an eight-foot length of eight-foot high fence between his property and that of Homer Freed of 60 Kinross Drive.

Stovall charged that Freed had "filed formal complaint as to the existing fence" between the two lots, that a light in Freed's back yard shines into the windows of his house, that Freed's bedroom is on direct sight-line from his living room, that "identifiable flying objects" including a ball (which he displayed) and "dog defecations" had been thrown over the fence. Further, he ridiculed the city's six-foot fence height limit as "pretty fallacious."

Freed responded by saying Stovall, who "rents the home, is not the owner," and "whom I have never met, incidentally," has a pyracantha hedge growing to 11 or 12-foot height for a distance of 40 to 45 feet, contrary to the ordinance. "If he ever gets around to talking to me, maybe he can give me his formula" for making it grow so high, Freed suggested.

He charged also that Stovall refuses to prune a large tree that overhangs the Freed property and drops leaves into the stack of Freed's swimming pool heater. As to the "identifiable flying objects," Freed said "it is an out and out lie" that they have been thrown from his yard. His light, he said, does not shine onto Stovall's property.

The sound effects were provided when Stovall played a snatch of tape recording of girls' giggling which he said came from Freed's swimming pool "all day Sunday" — which Freed also denied.

The commission denied Stovall's application, noting in doing so that his pyracantha hedge is in violation of the height limit, and left the neighbors to fight it out.

Judge Protects Newsmen Status

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI) — Newsmen are not required to divulge the sources of information given in confidence, Judge Dan Dwyer ruled yesterday.

Three reporters for Wichita newspapers, Bernie Ward of the Beacon and Gary Lester and Howard Inglish of the Eagle, had answered other questions but refused to reveal the sources of information contained in stories written by them about the slaying of Robert Koons, 22, Palestine, Tex.

The three had been subpoenaed by the attorney for Randall Hill, 22, Wichita, accused of first degree murder in the shooting of Koons April 13.

Negro Problem Held Insoluble

STANFORD (UPI) — Neither reason nor violence will solve the "black problem" in the United States in the foreseeable future, according to Carl Rowan, former director of the U.S. Information Agency.

The Negro columnist, broadcaster and lecturer told an audience at Stanford University yesterday "the problems are too big and too deep — they go back 300 years."

Rowan, who served as deputy assistant secretary of state under President John F. Kennedy, said the black man in America will achieve his birthright "only when he can compete with the white man on an equal basis."

"The black man has got to get out there and meet or beat whitey on his own ground," Rowan said. "I know what it is because I've done it for the past 27 years."

Bond Sale Approved For Cotati Addition

The Cotati School District board last night decided to go ahead with the sale of $50 000 in local bonds for a seven-classroom addition to the Waldo Rohnert School although a state agency has advised the sale must total $55,000 to be legal.

Cotati School District administrative secretary Miriam Horne reported that the district would cancel the bond sale if the state Board of Allocations did not approve it next month. The district then would go back to the state agency with a proposal for a $55,000 bond sale for approval, she said.

A progress report on construction of the Thomas Page School given school trustees last night showed that all work except on the heating system was more than 90 per cent completed.

The report said the heating work was half done. The school is scheduled to open this fall.

The Cotati School District board also:

HIRING — Interviewed in closed session, then hired in open session, Beverly Don Brandt of Santa Rosa to teach at John Reed Elementary School at a salary of $8,000. Hired Sue Eggertsen and Irvin Wasserman for $800 each for six weeks as summer school demonstration teachers and hired 14 district teachers for summer school at $400 each.

CONTRACTS — Approved service contracts for a variety of items like piano tuning and pest control totaling $868.50.

SUMMER SCHOOL — Received a report from summer school Principal Annagene Cornish indicating that 445 have enrolled for summer school starting July 7 compared to 496 a year ago.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations of Magdalena Armbruster from John Reed School and Edward Morrison from Cotati School, both of whom have taken other jobs.

AGREEMENT — Approved an interdistrict attendance agreement under which Annette M. Creel of Penngrove can attend the Cotati School.

Wallet Stolen

Donald J. Labbe of 965 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, complained to police yesterday that, while he was at work at Ames Ford at 619 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, a thief stole his wallet containing $308 and credit cards from his jacket while it was on a hanger.

Rohnert Park, Landowners Agree On Property Prices

The Rohnert Park City Council last night came to agreements with two landowners, leaving only two left to clear the way for completion of a new frontage road and a new Highway 101 interchange in the west part of the city, City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan reported today.

Callinan said the council approved paying $10,750 in severance damages to James Groom because the frontage road splits his property and leaves one of his buildings away from the new road. Groom in turn agreed to drop a court suit contesting the action.

Under the agreement, Groom paid $4,800 in assessments on the property and $2,500 for a parcel of city land in exchange for dedicating two parcels of less than an acre each to the city.

The other agreement was with Chris Knudtson on 1.43 acres just north of Copeland Creek. Callinan said Knudtson paid an assessment of $18,046 and deeded the right-of-way valued at $9,000.

No major problems are anticipated with the other two property owners, Callinan said, and the frontage road should be completed within two months. This will clear the way for the State Division of Highways to go ahead with work on the new interchange, he said.

Transit Board Session Delayed

Next Wednesday's meeting of the Marin County Transit District board of directors has been postponed to June 18 at the Civic Center, the time to be announced.

General Manager Seymour Kashin said he consulted with chairman John F. McInnis, and they decided that the meeting should be put off for two weeks to avoid conflict with budget hearings which the board of supervisors will be holding during the first two weeks in June, to provide additional time for Kashin and his staff to complete the final report and recommendations on the proposed bus system between Marin and key points in San Francisco and to complete arrangements for inviting San Francisco supervisors and directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to a joint meeting to receive the report on the proposed bus system.

Pope Says Religion Still Legitimate

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI said today religion is still valid and legitimate in a changing world full of scientific and technical improvements.

The Pope spoke on the transformation and developments of modern life in such fields as medicine, sociology, political sciences and psychology at his weekly general audience in St. Peter's Basilica, attended by about 5,000 persons.

Lady Luck Gets The Blame For Loss By A Poor Player

"Very unlucky," South thought after the play of today's hand. "I lost two finesses and ran into a bad spade break. Maybe this isn't my day." South never thought of taking full credit personally for losing the game and rubber.

ONE DOWN

South took the ace of diamonds and led the queen of hearts for a finesse. East won with the king of hearts and returned a spade. West naturally took two spade tricks and led a third spade for East to ruff. Down one.

South would have made his contract if the heart finesse worked, or if East had the queeen of spades or even if East had started with more than two spades or with only one trump. It was all very sad, but South should have made his contract just the same. See if you can find the right line of play before you read on.

LEAD QUEEN OF HEARTS

It is quite all right for South to lead the queen of hearts at the second trick. If West has the king of hearts and is foolish enough to play it, South will be happy to capture the king with dummy's ace.

But if West plays a low heart on the queen, declarer must play dummy's ace and then return a low heart. This costs a heart trick if West happens to have the king, but the contract is still safe. No matter what West returns, South can draw trumps and can then cheerfully give up two spade tricks.

If it turns out that East has the king of hearts, South's refusal to finesse doesn't cost anything since the finesse would have lost. Declarer's best chance is to get all of the trumps out before East can lead spades. Then East will be unable to ruff a spade, and South will lose only one trump and two spades.

DAILY QUESTION

Dealer opens with one heart, and your partner bids one spade. The next player passes, and you are next, holding:

♠ — J 10 7
♥ — A 9 8 3
♦ — 8 3
♣ — Q 10 7 6.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two spades. Your partner should have at least five spades for his overcall, so your J - 10 - 7 are amply trump support. You should raise an overcall with a light hand to make it difficult for the opening bidder to get back into the auction. If your side cannot make two spades, the opponents must be abie to make a juicy part score, and you will be happy to lose 50 or 100 points to talk them out of their hand.

WEE PALS By Morrie Turner

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, May 28, the 148th day of 1969 with 217 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase.
The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn.
The evening stars are Mercury and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1798 President John Adams was empowered by Congress to recruit an Army of 10,000 volunteers.

In 1905 the Russian Fleet was defeated by the Japanese Navy, virtually assuring Japan's victory in the Russo-Japanese War.

In 1934 the Dionne quintuplets were born near Callender, Ont.

In 1940 the evacuation of British, French and Belgian troops from Dunkerque on the English Channel coast of France began. A total of 337,000 reached Britain safely; more than 13,000 were killed.

A thought for the day—Victor Hugo said: "The supreme happiness of life is the conviction that we are loved."

Elementary Rites For Tomales Bay

Tomales Bay Elementary School will graduate 28 pupils at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Tomales High School gymnasium.

The theme, "Times Are Changing," is the subject to be discussed by the student speakers, Eileen Pozzi, Barry Matulich, Donna Tremari and Ingrid Angress.

G. Walton Burbank, president of the board of trustees, will present the diplomas to the students.

ELBOW ROOM SLEEPY HOLLOW
If you have a large family, a spacious and comfortable four-bedroom home awaits you. Situated in a quiet, residential area close to schools, this home offers both privacy and convenience. The huge family room opens onto the patio, with a heated and filtered 18x38 pool. And, your children will be perfectly happy to play in their own back yard—which is large and level. With features such as an all-electric kitchen, beamed ceiling and massive brick fireplace, you owe it to yourself to take a look at this outstanding home. Price, $55,000.

DECORATOR'S DELIGHT SAN RAFAEL HTS.
Imagine a beautiful, custom-built home situated on a rustic and tranquil half acre. The four bedrooms and three baths include a deluxe master bedroom and Roman bath. Gold leaf tiling in the sunken living room is just one outstanding feature of this elegant home. You will spend many relaxing hours in the pool area, which is complete with cabana, BBQ pit, and a deck which completely surrounds the house. Owner will consider an all-inclusive deed of trust. Price, $59,500.

LIVE A LITTLE KENTFIELD
Live it up in this home you'll love a lot! It is a gracious two-story colonial home on a large, level, secluded cul-de-sac in Kentfield that could be your dream home for life. Just a few of the many custom features: Built-in color TV and stereo system with speakers to the deck overlooking the 9 ft. deep heated 20x40 pool with sweep. Large formal dining room easily seats 16. Enjoy a fire in the living room or in the sunken oversized family room with built-in wet bar and disposal. Both fireplaces are floor-to-ceiling brick, of course! The separate upstairs playroom is begging for active children and mother will love the peace and quiet she deserves. Dad: No painting for at least five more years with the ten year guarantee provided on the Guard-Coated texturized plaster outside. Sad owners leaving Marin. Call now. You can assume a 7½% $60,000 loan. Total price, $87,950.

TEENAGERS?

Do you have a house full of teenagers? Do they need a room of their own? Perhaps they could use a rumpus room for when the gang comes over. Chances are that father and mother could use some breathing room too.

Here is a house big enough for all. It has a gracious entry hall, a sunken living room, a separate dining room, 5 bedrooms, including a luxurious master suite, an efficient kitchen with loads of cupboards and a separate breakfast room. And on a lower level a simply great rumpus room that will appeal to both generations. A handsome home. 2 years old. $70,000.

Drake To Award 386 Diplomas On June 13

Sir Francis Drake High School will hold its graduation exercises at 8:30 p.m., June 13, in the boys' gymnasium at which time 386 seniors are expected to be graduated.

Mike Levy, student chairman of the graduation, will give the welcoming speech and other speeches will be given by Kathy Frakes, George Gray, John Cherry and Becky Reist.

The theme of the five speakers will be taken from the Simon and Garfunkel song, "America" and will include the lines, "I'm empty and aching and I don't know why," "Counting the cars on the New Jersey Turnpike" and "We've all come to look for America."

The talks will be followed by presentation of scholarships, awards and diplomas.

Candidates for graduation are:

Congress Prodded On Point Reyes

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A resolution urging congressional approval of a bill to complete acquisition of Point Reyes National Seashore was endorsed yesterday by the Senate Committee on Natural Resources.

The authors of the resolution are Marin's two state legislators Sen. John F. McCarthy and Assemblyman William T. Bagley, both San Rafael Republicans.

Failure to complete acquisition of the park would be "contrary to the public interest in recreation and conservation," their resolution stated. It also asked the National Park Service to purchase immediately the 2,500-acre Lake Ranch, due to be subdivided.

Of the 64,415 acres originally planned to be bought for the park, 29,155 remain to be acquired, according to the resolution.

Reps. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, and Don H. Clausen, R-First District, have introduced a bill to raise the authorization for the park to $57 million. The government has spent most of the $19,135,000 previously authorized.

Senate Approves Pay Hike For Governor, Officials

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate passed a bill today boosting the salaries of major state officials, including the governor who would get $49,100 a year.

The chief executive's salary now is $44,100.

The measure passed 25-2 after about one minute of explanation by its author Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, and no debate. It now goes to the Assembly.

Collier called it a "compassion" increase. The legislature has increased the salaries of No. 2 men in departments and agencies until they are virtually the same pay as the top men, Collier said.

The bill boosts the salaries of the other state constitutional officers by $10,000 a year, from $25,000 to $35,000.

The increases for the elected officials go into effect on Jan. 1, 1971.

A bill to boost legislators' salaries from the present $16,000 a year to $19,200 also is moving through the legislature. There is another measure to hike the pay of persons such as the governor's aides.

Collier's bill passed today also establishes a seven-member commission on executive salaries to study and recommend future salary changes.

The State Personnel Board has recommended such studies.

It reported that state executives' salaries weren't competitive with those paid by private industry.

Collier's bill boosts the pay of the finance director and the four agency secretaries — resources, business and transportation, human relations and agriculture and services — to $35,000.

The directors of mental hygiene and public health would go to $32,500 a year and the president of the Public Utilities Commission, $31,500.

Most department directors would be paid $30,000 compared with the present $24,675.

The mental hygiene and public health directors now get $27,300 while the finance director gets $32,835 and the agency secretaries receive $28,875.

Many university and college administrators and judges in the state make more than the state's top executives.

The bill also boosts the salaries of fulltime members of various state boards and commissions.

The legislative analyst estimates the cost at $336,690 a year with indirect annual increased costs of $412,500.

Collier said the boosts were proposed by the state's Little Hoover Commission.

Photographer Booked In Pot

Andrew Dennis Chute, 23, a San Francisco photographer, was booked into Marin County Jail today on suspicion of marijuana possession after he was stopped on Highway 101 in Sausalito, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Chute's car was stopped at 1:45 a.m. because it had no 1969 tag on its license plate. In trying to produce identification, the patrol said, Chute reached into a camera bag inside the car and an officer saw in the case a plastic bag containing what appeared to be marijuana.

Chute was held to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Heyerdahl In Wrong Vessel?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Thor Heyerdahl is using the wrong kind of boat trying to prove Egyptians could have reached America 3,000 years ago, according to a University of Pennsylvania scientist.

Dr. Froelich Rainey, director of the University Museum, said today Egyptians had wooden boats as well as papyrus boats like Heyerdahl is uing. Heyerdahl sailed Sunday from Safi Morocco, in his 12-ton handwoven boat.

Rainey said the Egyptians built beautiful boats of Lebanese cedar.

Freezer, Meats Fraud Suit Filed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch said today he would file suit to halt "allegedly fraudulent operations" of a food freezer and bulk meat sales organization in 15 Northern California counties including Marin.

He said the suit would be filed in Santa Clara County Superior Court in San Jose against Richard B. Karp, operating as Bay Area Meat Co. and Bay Area Food Service. Also named is AVCO Thrift, a finance company.

The suit asks for an injunction halting illegal business practices, a $2,500 penalty for each violation of false representation laws and $50,000 punitive damages against each defendant.

Lynch charged Karp sent crews of salesmen into various cities to sign persons to three-year freezer contracts and to 5-to-7 month food contracts. He said that when the area had been "saturated" with the firm's contracts, its "service centers were closed, if any were in fact opened."

Customers would find that their contracts had been assigned to a finance company which demanded payments be made on the contracts, Lynch said.

The attorney general accused Karp's organization of 27 specific misrepresentations, including promises customers would receive a free week's supply of groceries, the food freezer was "free" as part of a food program, the quality of the customer's food was unconditionally guaranteed, customers could save 5 to 40 per cent on food purchases under the program, and contracts would be canceled immediately if the customer was not satisfied.

Pro-Fluoridation Bill Defeated Third Time

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A measure calling for fluoridation of the state's drinking water has been washed away for the third consecutive year by the Assembly Health and Welfare Committee.

Assemblyman John Vasconcellos, D-San Jose, got only three votes of the seven members present of the 13-member committee after a lengthy hearing last night on his bill.

The measure would require all water systems with 200 or more outlets to be fluoridated by 1971 and those with less than 200 outlets by 1972.

This year Vasconcellos provided that if a community did not want fluoridation, a petition by 5 per cent of the electorate could trigger an election on the issue.

The hearing was attended by a large audience mostly opposed to fluoridation.

"The question here is of facts versus fear," Vasconcellos said.

Vasconcellos said estimates of the capital outlay to fluoridation all drinking water in California ranged from $7.5 million to $22 million with annual costs about $2 million, figuring 10 cents per year per person in the state.

The bill had the support of the California Dental Association and the State Department of Public Health. A health department report estimated fluoridation would by 1980 result in dental care savings to persons in the state of $1.8 billion.

The measure also had the support of Dr. Ellis Sox, director of public health in San Francisco which has fluoridated its water since 1953 with .95 parts fluoride per million.

Soxs' claim there was no damage found to artificial kidney patients at the Northern California dialysis center was disputed by the chief witness of the antifluoridation forces. Dr. Albert Bergstahler, a professor of chemistry at the University of Kansas.

Mrs. Virginia Shaffer, San Jose city councilwoman, said 52 California cities had rejected fluoridation, 12 of them two different times.

Bribery Charges Against Ex-Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former top level Post Office Department official was indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges of bribery, corruption and conflict of interest.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said Joseph P. Doherty, an executive assistant in the department during the Johnson administration, was accused in a nine-count indictment returned by a special grand jury in Baltimore.

The indictment charged Doherty with seeking and agreeing to accept a $20,000 bribe from Dominic Piracci Sr., a Baltimore builder, and the Piracci Construction Co. of Baltimore.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Inquiries About Fractures And Tippling Methyl Alcohol

VAN DELLEN

E. B. from Kankakee, Ill., writes: "Your answer concerning wood alcohol was interesting. Years ago, my Dad told us about bums who became blind after drinking alcohol from car radiators. Could you elaborate?"

Your father was correct, although not all victims obtained the alcohol from radiators.

For example in 1904, 153 cases of blindness and 122 fatalities were reported. In 1930, there were 200 deaths. Not all victims were skid row bums in that wood alcohol was used as a combustible, industrial solvent, and an adulterant of alcoholic beverages and medicines.

METHYL ALCOHOL was obtained chiefly from gasoline stations. The "boys" were known to siphon off radiators for a badly needed drink. I say this advisedly, because the poisonous liquid caused excruciating abdominal pain, generalized weakness, and muscle twitching and cramping.

Incurable blindness was the most serious and frequent side effect. In some instances, loss of sight occurred after taking less than a tablespoonful.

The high toxicity was not due to impurities, but to the slower elimination of the substance. Methyl alcohol remains in the tissues for more than a week. The ethyl alcohol in gin and whisky is eliminated from the body within 24 hours.

MISS W. WRITES: "My aunt has a stress fracture but she does not recall falling, turning her ankle, or being injured. X-rays demonstrated a cracked bone and I'm skeptical even though she is mighty spry."

Don't be a doubting Thomas. Physical stress can fracture a bone and the condition is frequently missed because the break is not associated with damage to the surrounding muscle tissue or to swelling due to hemorrhage under the skin. Stress fractures occur to athletes, and to overactive women and children who roughouse. Healing is spontaneous, but the process can be hastened if the fracture is recognized early and the limb is put in a cast.

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J)

NUMBER AND CONTENT

T. R. writes: What is the difference between a blood count and a hemoglobin test?

REPLY

Hemoglobin is the iron content of the red blood cell (coloring matter). The blood count refers to the number of cells per cubic millimeter. Hemoglobin varies between 12 and 15 grams per 100 millmeters; the red cells from 4 to 5 million; and the white cells from 5,000 to 10,000 per cubic millimeter.

SHOCK FOR DEPRESSION

A reader writes: I'm depressed and my physician wants to give me shock therapy. What good will this do?

REPLY

Psychiatrists have found shock therapy a mechanical aid in eliminating the factors that trigger depressions. The exact mechanism by which good results are achieved is not known.

PAREGOIRC ADDICT

A reader writes: A friend of mine is a paregoric addict and she wants to break the habit. Should she cut down gradually or stop all at once?

REPLY

ROACHES AND DISEASE

A reader writes: Do roaches transmit disease?

REPLY

Yes. Viruses capable of causing encephalitis, for example, have been isolated from the gastrointestinal tracts of cockroaches.

PSORIASIS AND CHOLESTEROL

A reader writes: Is there a relationship between psoriasis and a high cholesterol level in the blood?

REPLY

Many victims of psoriasis have a high blood cholesterol but there are enough with a normal or low level to rule out cholesterol as the culprit.

NEW HAT THERAPEUTIC

A reader writes: What suggestions can you offer a 53-year-old housewife to prod her forgetful, inattentive mind?

REPLY

Buy a new hat and get your hair done. These measures and a more stimulating environment have lifted the spirits ofmany women.

BODY-BUILING PROTEINS

T. T. writes: Are any foods especially good in building healthy tissues?

REPLY

Proteins such as meat, milk, eggs, cereals have this reputation. However, it is better to rely upon a combination of foods rather than single items.

THROBBING VEIN

Mrs. K. I. writes: Can varicose veins in the legs cause throbbing while walking?

REPLY

Yes, but this is not a common symptom.

TURNIPS AND GOITER

A reader writes: Can a person with a goiter eat turnips occasionally?

REPLY

Yes. Certain vegetables such as turnips, cabbage, cauliflower, brussels sprouts, and kohlrabi are said to encourage goiter formation. But tremendous amounts would have to be consumed. Iodine deficiency plays a more important role.

SHORTAGE OF VITAMIN C

T. M. P. writes: Please list the obvious indications of vitamin C deficiency.

REPLY

'Boone Country' To Open Next Year

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — Boone County, Ky., across the Ohio River from Cincinnati, will be billed as "Boone Country" with the opening of a family entertainment park there by the summer of 1970.

Fess Parker, television's Daniel Boone, is investing $13.5 million in the park, to be called "Frontier World." The park is to depict the various frontiers in American history, from the Pilgrims up to contemporary science and space frontiers and beyond.

Factory Spoils Lunch Savings

NEW DELHI (AP) — Workers for the government's aircraft plant at Bangalore found a cheap way of providing food for their families.

The plant has a cafeteria which sells a meal for 41 paise (about 5.2 cents) and a second helping for 10 paise (1.3 cents). Plant officials found employees were carrying lunch boxes into the canteen, eating the first helping at noon and taking the second helping home in the lunch box.

Lunch boxes have been banned.

India's Population Boom 'Terrifying'

NEW DELHI (AP) — The implicatons of India's rate of growth are "terrifying," Family Planning Minister Satyanarayanan Sinha told a meeting here.

He said India is increasing each year by the total population of The Netherlands and even now "we do not have enough resources for even the existing population, whose per capita income is one-third of the international povery line of $240."

Angels Disheartened Over Firing Of Rigney

ANAHEIM (AP) — California Angel players appear disheartened, some sullen and none very pleased at the announcement that Bill Rigney, the only field manager the Angels have ever known, is fired.

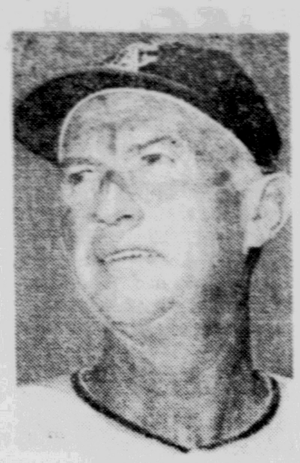
"He was a hell of a guy to play for," said slick-fielding shortstop Jim Fregosi. "He taught me how to play the game."

Rigney, 51, was fired yesterday by first-year general manager Dick Walsh. The announcement wasn't unexpected. Rumors started early in the season and became more virulent when the Angels ended a recent road trip with 10 straight defeats.

Named to replace Rigney was Harold "Lefty" Phillips, 50, the club's director of player personnel. No sooner had the switch been made than the changes started to come.

Phillips started last night's game with Cleveland by using one-time bonus baby Rich Reichart at first base. It was the eighth first baseman the Angels have tried this season and a position Reichardt, normally a lef fielder, has never played in four previous major league seasons.

Then club officials started talking trade. And the one on the lips of insiders reportedly had Reichardt and outfielder Roger Repoz going to Washington for Mike Epstein, Tim Cullen and Ken McMullen.



BILL RIGNEY
He's Out

Epstein, a Los Angeles high school star, would be the key man. He is a good-fielding first baseman who has hit with power this year. But the deal was still in the talking stage.

Then Phillips made a third change by shifting his batting lineup around and the Californians stopped their 10-game losing streak by beating Cleveland 2-1. It was California's 12th victory in 40 games this season.

But the loss of Rigney could be felt in the heavy atmosphere of the dressing room. Most of the players said they wouldn't comment on the firing.

Fregosi, however, said:

"He gave me my chance to play in the majors. I suppose it's part of the bame but I've lost a manager I played for for nine years."

Upset, Fregosi made two errors last night.

Rigney has two years left on his contract with the Angels and Walsh said he would be paid for them.

"We waited for the ship to right itself," the general manager said, "and it finally became time that a decision had to be made. We would either forego the entire season or make a change."

Rumors also began last year that Rigney's job was in jeopardy after a miserable start. But the Angels got hot in September and closed fast, finishing eighth in the American League.

"LEFTY" PHILLIPS
He's in

The tall, thin, white-haired Rigney was noted in his managing career for going to the bench at the least sign of trouble. He was an excellent infielder with the New York Giants and began his managing career with the Giants' Minneapolis team in the old American Association in 1954.

Two years later he became pilot of the Giants and moved with the club to San Francisco. On June 18, 1960, he was suddently fired by Giants' owners.

He became manager of the Angels in Los Angeles when they joined the American League in 1961 and the following year, Rigney was named manager of the year when his team finished third, with an 86-76 record.

"Naturally I'm disappointed," he said after the firing announcement. "I know something had to be done. It's a part of the game. I've seen this club good and bad and they're in one of their bad streaks now.

"I'm not bitter but I am disappointed the club didn't perform as well as we expected them to."

Rigney said he wasn't considering any new offers right now because "I'm still under contract with this club for another two years."

A's Top Tigers, Win Gate War

Bando Homer Does It

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland A's were double winners last night and the world champion Detroit Tigers lost twice.

The A's snapped a six-game losing streak as Chuck Dobson beat the Tigers 4-3 with a four hitter. Oakland also won the first round of the Bay Area attendance battle with rival San Francisco.

An announced crowd of 7,272 watched the A's and 6,608 paid to see the Giants across the Bay at Candlestick Park.

It was the first direct conflict in scheduling between the teams.

The Tigers, in addition to losing the game, also lost ace pitcher Mickey Lolich, who was hit on the left elbow by a line drive off the bat of Oakland's Danny Cater in the fifth inning. Lolich, Tiger World Series star last fall, was taken to Merritt Hospital for X-rays.

NO BROKEN BONES

There were no broken bones, but Lolich's arm was badly bruised.

Manager Mayo Smith of Detroit said he will learn later if Lolich, 6-1, would miss a pitching turn.

Oakland won last night's game the same way they had lost the previous six — by the margin of one run.

That margin was provided by Sal Bando's seventh inning homer off relief pitcher Don McMahon.

Bando said, "I don't know if it was a bad pitch by McMahon. It looked all right to me. I knew it was out of the park as soon as I hit it."

The ball landed in the left field bleachers, 370 feet from the plate.

LAST MAN

Cater drove in two other Oakland runs, and Mickey Stanley drove in a pair for Detroit.

Dobson struck out only two batters as he evened his record at 4-4. The second strikeout victim was dangerous Bill Freehan, the final batter in the game.

"That's always a good way to end things," Dobson said. "I was nervous in the early part of the game, but settled down."

The Tigers loaded the bases with no outs in the second inning, but Dobson got out of it with only one run scored when Don Wert hit into a double play and Lolich struck out.

The A's and Tigers met again today, with Earl Wilson, 3-4, pitching for Detroit and John Odom, 7-2, for Oakland.

McCovey, Giants Top Cubs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willi McCovey crashed one of his longest home runs, Bob Bolin did some of his best pitching, but both were overshadowed by a bizarre eighth inning at Candlestick Park.

Both the San Francisco Giants and Chicago Cubs scored three runs in the weird inning last night, but only one run was earned as the clubs received seven walks, two hits and two errors.

The Giants' rally, featuring a game-winning, bases-loaded walk to pinch batter Jim Davenport from reliever Ted Abernathy, gave San Francisco a 5-4 victory after the Cubs overcame a 2-1 deficit in the top of the inning.

McCovey's homer was his fourth in five games and gave him the National League lead with 13.

"I hit that ball as hard as I possibly could and I didn't have the elements with me," said the tall, lanky first baseman who led the league last season with 36.

Bolin took a 2-1 lead and a three-hitter into the eighth but pinch hitter Bill Heath opened with a walk and with two out, McCovey dropped second baseman Ron Hunt's throw after a ground ball.

Joe Gibbon relieved Bolin and walked Williams, loading the bases. Frank Linzy, the eventual winner, walked Ron Santo, forcing in the tying run, and Ernie Banks followed with a two-run single for a 4-2 lead.

Cooper Drops British Title Over Dispute

LONDON (AP) — Henry Cooper, British heavyweight boxing champion for 10 years, resigned his title today because British authorities would not recognize his proposed fight with Jimmy Ellis of Louisville, Ky., as a world title bout.

In a letter to the British Boxing Board of Control, Cooper said:

"Due to the shabby way the board has treated us over the Ellis fight we wish to relinguish the British title which I have been proud to hold for 10 years."

The dispute arose when the board refused to sanction the proposed Cooper-Ellis fight for the world title. The British board recognize Joe Frazier of Philadelphia as the world champion.

Ex-Champ Is Dead

TORONTO (AP) — Albert "Frenchy" Belanger, 63, who came out of the tough Cabbagetown area of Toronto to win the world flyweight boxing title in 1927, died yesterday. Death was attributed to pneumonia and a heart attack.

Mafia Linked In Ring Probe

NEW YORK (AP) — Nino Benvenuti, boxing's middleweight champion, and several other fight figures find out today why they were subpoenaed to appear before New York District Attorney Frank Hogan.

"I don't know what it's all about, but we will cooperate," Benvenuti said yesterday after Hogan's investigation first came to light.

Also subpoenaed were Dick Tiger, who upset Benvenuti in a nontitle bout Monday night; Bruno Amaduzzi, Nino's manager; fighter Frankie DePaula and his manager, Gary Garafola.

DePaula, a lightheavyweight, was to have fought on the same card as Tiger-Benvenuti, but he was suspended after he and his manager were arrested on charges involving the theft of $80,000 in copper from a New Jersey pier.

Hogan's investigation reportedly does not specifically involve the outcome of the Tiger-Benvenuti fight but rather possible Mafia involvement in the fight game.

The New York Post said yesterday subpoenas also have been served on a number of key Mafia figures known to be prominent in gambling operations.

According to the New York Daily News, a source said several persons connected with the Monday night fight have been under investigation for some time.

"They have been watched eating, drinking and associating with top underworld figures," the News quoted one source as saying.

Those persons who were ordered to appear at Hogan's office today also were expected to be called to testify before a New York County grand jury.

Benvenuti, meanwhile, also was concerned about his right hand in which he suffered a fractured bone against Tiger.

Trainer, Horses Die In Vancouver Blaze

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — A trainer died of a heart attack and at least 18 race horses died in a flaming barn early today after fire broke out in the stabling area of Exhibition Park, on the Pacific National Exhibition Grounds in this western Canadian city.

Arson is suspected.

Jack Russell, 48, of Vancouver, a public trainer, was dead on arrival at hospital after collapsing soon after the fire started.

A senior Fire Department official said he counted 18 carcasses of horses personally in the center barn of a row of 14. That barn was destroyed and two adjoining barns were damaged.

Another thoroughbred was reported to have been killed when hit by a car on a nearby street, after a number of horses turned loose from the barns stampeded in terror. One was sighted more than two miles from the park.

Some 800 horses were stabled in the park, where racing is held each Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday. Most are British Columbia-owned, but some are from the prairies and the United States.

The fire broke out in the feed section of the center barn in a row of 14 just before midnight and was brought under control about an hour later. The center barn was destroyed and two others damaged.

One Fire Department captain said the blaze appeared to be arson. He said a man had been seen running away from the center barn.

"We have every reason to believe the fire was set in the middle of the barn," he said.

Pistons Move Again, Fire Chief Scout

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Pistons, who named Bill van Breda Kolff new head coach last Wednesday, made another staff change yesterday by firing Donnis Butcher, chief scout and former coach, effective in September when his contract expires.

Paul Seymour, who took over the coaching duties from Butcher in December, was named as scout and adviser on the player-procurement when Van Breda Kolff took over. The switch made Butcher expendable.

Decision Due On Majestic Prince Bid

NEW YORK (AP) — The turf world will know definitely early next week whether Majestic Prince will try for racing's Triple Crown in the Belmont Stakes June 7.

"I plan to work him at 1⅛ miles or so early next week," said trainer Johnny Longden today. "After that it will be up to Mr. McMahon."

The trainer referred to Frank McMahon, owner of the winner of the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, who changed his mind a week ago about shipping his unbeaten colt back to California and instead vanned him to Belmont from Pimlico.

CHANGED MIND

McMahon and Longden had said after the Preakness at Pimlico that they were passing up the Belmont Stakes, the last leg in the famed Triple Crown, which no horse has won since Citation did it in 1948.

McMahon changed his mind a few days later and said Majestic Prince would be given a chance to win the Triple Crown "if he is ready and able to run in the Belmont."

The Belmont at 1½ miles is the longest and considered the sternest test of the Triple Crown classics. It long has been known as The Test of Champions.

Majestic Prince worked a sharp five furlongs in 58 2-5 seconds at the Long Island track Tuesday and galloped out six furlongs in 1:11 1-5.

GOOD WORK

"It was a real good work," said Longden modestly after he dismounted from the 3-year-old colt unbeaten in nine career starts. "The horse seems to be doing all right."

McMahon watched the workout and seemed pleased.

Art and Letters, the colt beat in photo finishes in both the Derby and the Preakness, also turned in a sharp workout yesterday. He went six furlongs in 1:10 2-5 and galloped out a mile in 1:37.

"He worked faster than I wanted him to," said trainer Elliot Burch. "But then he always does."

THE FAVORITE—South African Gary Player, at the top of his game, is given an edge in the Memphis Open Golf Tournament. (AP Wirephoto)

Player Is Favored In Memphis Open

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Tough little Gary Player and smooth Gene Littler ruled the favorites today for the $30,000 first prize in the rich Memphis Open Golf Tournament, with old pro Julius Boros and a number of other top names among the missing.

"Boros told me last week he'd be here," tournament director Vernon Bell said, "but he was doing some television filming on fishing and it got delayed by weather. So he called Sunday and said he wouldn't be able to make it."

TIME OFF

All simply are taking some time off.

Australian Bruce Crampton, on the tour regularly, complained of being tired after a practice round yesterday and asked to be excused from his commitment. Tournament officials agreed.

The field of 144 that will tee off tomorrow in the first round on the tight, 6,485-yard, par 70 Colonial Country Club course includes such standouts as flamboyant Lee Trevino, the U.S. Open champion; veteran Dan Sikes; Bert Yancey, winner of last week's Atlanta Classic, and defending champion Bob Lunn.

"It's not all that long," Bell said, "but actually it's a drivers' course. It places a premium on the accurate tee shot. A bad shot can put you in trouble.

IN PLAY

"There's some four-inch clover in the rough out there that you just can't get out of.

"I think that's why Player always has done so well here. He keeps it in play."

The little South African, winner of all the world's major golfing titles, moreover, is at the top of his game. He's finished first, second and fourth in his last three starts in this country and has won over $50,000 in scattered starts.

The veteran Littler, a former U.S. Open champ, is enjoying perhaps his best year ever. He's already won two titles this year and banked more than $100,000 in official money, a career record.

Sweet Surprise For Rader

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Doug Rader likes surprises—especially the kind he got from Luis Peraza last night.

Peraza, a 25-year-old rookie reliever for the Philadelphia Phillies, was called on to face Rader with the bases loaded and none out with the score in the Houston-Philadelphia game tied 2-2. Rader then slugged the first grand slam of his pro career to give Houston a 6-2 victory.

It was Houston's 10th victory in the last 22 games after the Astros had lost 20 of their first 24. The Astros' surge started with Don Wilson's no-hitter on May 1 and Wilson got the victory against the Phils to boost his record to 5-4 on a six-hitter.

Wilson and Grant Jackson were locked in a 2-2 duel until Jackson was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the top of the ninth. Bill Wilson started the ninth and walked the first three batters before Peraza came on and allowed the winning hit by Rader.

Elsewhere in the National League, San Francisco topped Chicago 5-4, Atlanta beat St. Louis 5-3, Los Angeles beat Montreal 5-3 and San Diego edged New York 3-2.

St. Louis continued to have its trouble. The Cards were beaten by Atlanta, 5-3. Felipe Alou had four straight singles, knocked in a run and scored one to pace Atlanta. Pat Jarvis, 5-2, went 7 1-3 innings to gain the victory. Ray Washburn took the loss.

Tom Haller and Wes Parker homered to back Bill Singer's four-hit pitching and carry the Dodgers past Montreal. Haller's two-run homer in the sixth snapped a 3-3 tie after Montreal had rallied for three runs in the sixth to tie the game. Reliever Dan McGinn was charged with the loss.

Roberto Pena greeted reliever Don Cardwell with a run-scoring single to cap a two-run sixth inning and give San Diego the victory over the Mets. Al Santorini gave up 12 hits and walked two more but still stranded 11 baserunners while going all the way to gain the win and even his record at 2-2. Jim McAndrew, who left in the sixth inning with a blister on his hand, suffered the loss.

Simpson Drops Loan Demands

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — O. J. Simpson has dropped a $500,000 loan demand for signing with the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League in the face of a strong defense by Bills' owner Ralph Wilson Jr.

But, Wilson and Simpson, it was reported yesterday, remained a difficult $400,000 apart after a negotiating session Monday in Detroit.

The money gap sparked a comment from Wilson that he "would consider" trading the 1968 Heisman Trophy winner.

Wilson said Simpson and his signal callers, agent Chuck Barnes and lawyer David Lockwood, made the concession "for an increase of $50,000 in the bonus and salary previously requested."

Simpson, the No. 1 choice in the combined pro football draft, originally requested $600,000 salary and bonus in addition to the loan, it was reported.

The Bills' owner said he had been prepared during Monday's session to increase his original offer, reportedly $250,000, to Simpson.

"But in view of this new demand, which I felt unreasonable, I stood pat except to offer inducements on the basis of performances." He added, however, his terms were not inflexible.

Wilson said his "performance" inducement was rejected by the Simpson group and they brought up the discussion about trading the USC All-American.

"I said I would consider it," Wilson said. "I don't know how seriously, but I will give it some thought."

Wilson, according to this year's rules, could trade O. J. only to one of the other nine AFL teams.

Wilson added, however, "When the Simpson negotiators decide to come down to a practical figure I will start to come up as I did Monday."

Brundage Raps Ski Federation: 'Submit Or Else'

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, warned the International Ski Federation yesterday to submit to olympic regulations or "leave our organization."

Brundage, of Chicago, made his remarks during a speech at the headquarters of the Spanish Olympic Committee. Brundage is on a three day official visit to Spain as a guest of the Spanish Olympic Committee.

Brundage repeatedly criticized the organization of the 1968 Winter Olympic games in Grenoble, France, during his speech.

"If they do not submit to olympic regulations, they will have to leave our organization," Brundage declared.

Billie Jean Has Trouble In Winning

PARIS (AP) — Mrs. Billie Jean King, the Wimbledon titleholder from Long Beach, Calif., again had difficulty in the French Open Tennis Championships today, being forced three sets to win her second round match.

She defeated Laura Rossouw of South Africa 6-4, 4-6, 6-2. She also had to go three sets in her first round match.

Placed on an outer court watched by only a couple of dozen spectators, both players were erratic. Mrs. King lost the second set after leading 3-1. Ann Haydon Jones, British professional, also gained the third round with a 6-1, 6-2 victory over Valerie Ziegenfuss of San Diego, Calif.

In a match postponed from Tuesday, Ken Rosewall of Australia, the defending men's champion, advanced into the second round by beating Michel Leclercq of France, 7-5, 6-4, 6-2.

A Win At Indy Could End Career

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — If veteran driver Lloyd Ruby wins the Indianapolis 500 Friday he'll be fired immediately, but not for the usual reasons.

"Winning the 500 would put him on easy street for life," said John Laux, manager of the Gene White racing team at the Speedway. "Lloyd has had three $100,000 years in a row now, and winning the 500 is the only thing left for him."

Laux, a long-time friend and associate of the Wichita Falls, Tex., driver, said yesterday it would be up to Ruby to decide whether he wanted to continue racing should he win the world's richest auto race.

"But so far as our team is concerned, this would be it—win Indy and he will no longer be our driver," Laux said. "We'd hope to go in business with him, either in racing or some other area."

Ruby, at 41 a veteran of 23 years on the tracks, will start his Winn's Spitfire turbocharged Offy in the Memorial Day classic in 20th position in the 33-car field.

It was one of the worst qualifying efforts in his 10 years at the Speedway.

Laux and the other members of the team had expected the car to do better than the 166.428 miles per hour average it posted for four laps, or 10 miles. Ruby had hit 168-plus in practice, Laux said.

"We're still in good shape, but we'll be half a lap behind almost from the start. Our hope is that the Offy will prove more reliable than the Fords," Laux commented.

Laux and the team had the No. 4 racer completely disassembled in the garage area Tuesday. "We're going through it, checking every minute part," he said. "Maybe we'll come up with something new by race day."

Acceleration tests and pit crew practice were the only items on the Speedway agenda today. The acceleration tests will give drivers some badly needed practice on the 2.5-mile course.

Ruby will e starting his 10th straight 500. His best finish was third in 1964, but he leads all other active drivers in miles driven at Indy, 3,902.5 in nine races.

Phillips Makes Good In Debut As Manager

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Lefty Phillips may have had only 21 days managerial background before taking over the California Angels yesterday but he seems to have the key to success.

It's a little something called experience.

One of Phillips' first moves upon assuming control from Bill Rigney was to revamp the starting lineup. He moved Rick Reichardt to first base for the first time in his major league career, inserted 35-year-old Lou Johnson in left field and switched Bubba Morton, 36, to right.

Johnson responded by knocking in both California runs as the Angels snapped a 10-game losing streak with a 2-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Elsewhere in the American League, New York downed Chicago 5-3, Washington beat Minnesota 5-1, Kansas City edged Boston 5-4, Seattle blasted Baltimore 8-1 and Oakland nipped Detroit 4-3.

EXCITING MOMENT

Morton and Johnson smashed back-to-back doubles for the first California run in the second and Johnson singled home Reichardt from third in the seventh with the deciding run.

"This had to be the most exciting moment of my life," said Phillips.

Phillips climaxed his official managerial debut by calling in 45-year-old Hoyt Wilhelm in the eighth. Wilhelm pitched two innings of hitless relief, struck out three and recorded his eighth save of the season in preserving Jim McGlothlin's fourth victory against three defeats.

Mel Stottlemyre smashed a two-run homer in the eighth inning to lift the Yankees over the White Sox and become the first major league pitcher to win eight games.

With the score tied at 3-3, Frank Fernandez opened the eighth with a single and two outs later, Stottlemyre drove Wilbur Wood's first pitch into the lower deck in left field for the third homer of his major league career.

Brant Alyea blasted a 450-foot homer—a two-run shot in the first inning—to help the Senators snap a six-game losing streak with their victory over the Twins. Alyea homered after Frank Howard reached first on Leo Cardenas' error. Eddie Brinkman also drove in two runs for Washington.

Jackie Hernandez blooped a two-run single over first base with two out in the seventh inning, capping a three-run rally that carried the Royals past the Red Sox.

Sal Bando's bases empty homer in the seventh inning broke a 3-3 tie and powered Oakland over the Tigers, snapping the Athletics' six-game losing streak.

Tommy Davis' two-run single highlighted a five-run fifth inning rally and Ray Oyler, Mike Hegan and Gerry McNertney hit solo homers to pace Seattle over the Orioles.

The Oldest Rivalry

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Chicago Bears-Green Bay Packers series is the oldest rivalry in the National Football League, the two teams having met 100 times with the Bears holding a 54-39-6 edge.

Sterley Vs. Petterle In Peacock Gap Meet

Jack Sterley will be going against Elmo Petterle in the championship flight finals of the Peacock Gap Spring Handicap golf tourney Saturday at the San Rafael course.

Sterley reached the finals by defeating Nathan Pinkus 1-up in last Saturday's semifinals, and Peterle made it by downing Bob Bond, 2 and 1.

In addition to the championship flight, finals will be held in four other flights.

Seagren Is Hurting, Still Wants Record

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bob Seagren may not be able to pole vault for a few weeks but he'll aim at the NCAA title he was unable to win last year.

Seagren, a University of Southern California senior, is suffering from a pulled stomach muscle so sore "he can't even bend over to tie his shoes," Coach Vern Wolfe said Tuesday.

Seagren probably won't vault in the John F. Kennedy Games in Berkeley this Saturday, Wolfe said, but he will probably be healthy for the NCAA meet Jun. 19-21 at Knoxville, Tenn.

"He shouldn't have vaulted last week," Wolfe said, "but if you show a fire horse a fire, he'll run." Seagren was second to John Pennel last Saturday at the California Relays but nearly made 17-10, which would have bettered his own world record by an inch.

GOLF

PINEHURST, N.C. — Curtis Preston of Memphis and David Goldman of Dallas tied for the first round lead yesterday in the Western Seniors Golf Championship. Each shot four-under-par 68s.

HORSE RACING

NEW YORK — Bold Tribute, $19.20, drew out in the stretch and won the City of Hope Purse at Aqueduct by five lengths.

CHERRY HILL, N.J. — Desieger, $3.80, won the Keneseth Purse at Garden State Park by three-quarters of a length over Balouf.

BOSTON — Russell Rullah, $8.20, scored by one-half length over Bobb Jacks in the Dorchester Purse at Suffolk Downs.

CHICAGO — Timely Miss, $5.40, raced to a one-length victory over Egloga in the $7,500 Royal Patrice Purse at Arlington Park.

INGLEWOOD — Dovecote, $9.40, held off a late challenge by Diane's Theme and won the $10,000 feature at Hollywood Park by a neck.

MISCELLANEOUS

BUDAPEST — Ferenc Toeroek, Hungarian pentathlon ace who won the individual gold medal at the Tokyo Olympics in 1964 and the team gold medal in the Mexico City Olympics last year, announced his retirement Tuesday.

MADRID, Spain — Jose Alvarez de Bohorquez of Spain won the Barreiros Gold Cup on Pajello at the International Horse Show Tuesday.

BOSTON — Sam McCracken of the Boston Globe was elected president of the New England Turf Writers Association last night.

Last A's Champ

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Ferris Fain was the last player on the Athletics to win the American League batting crown. He did it in 1951 and 1952 when the franchise was still located in Philadelphia.

JIM MURRAY

Cubs' Ernie Banks: An Eternal Pollyana

Worried over the Vietnam? The Bomb got you down.

Kids doing poorly in school? The boss on your back? Wife running around with the wrong crowd? Husband coming home too late at night?

Riots depress you? Toss and turn all night, do you? Hate to see the sun come up? Tension creeping up? Headache? Back hurt? Feel people are talking about you, do you? Think the world is going to pot? Wish you could get away from it all? Wish you weren't born?

I have just the thing for you — five minutes with Ernie Banks, the last of the big time Pollyannas, the Bluebird of Happiness. You'll come away shamed of yourself.

I mean, what's the matter with you anyway? The sun shines, doesn't it? Flowers grow. Birds sing. The moon belongs to everyone. The best things in life are free. Happiness grows right under your toes.

YOU WOULD THINK that 17 years of riding the rods of the National League, hitting 480 homeruns and driving in over 1,500 runs for a team that couldn't even keep the rest of the league in sight, would give a guy the nice sweet outlook on life of a guy whose feet hurt and wife ran off with the milkman.

Ernie stood around the batting cage in Dodger Stadium the other night and pretty soon there was a rainbow around our shoulders. "Willie!" he said, spotting Willie Davis in the cage. "Isn't it great to be in the big leagues? Is there anything you'd rather do than play a game tonight?" He asked it as if the answer were a foregone conclusion. But Willie Davis gave it careful thought.

Ernie clicked his heels and hummed a little. "My kind of town, Chicago is . . . " he began. He spotted the opposing pitcher, Claude Osteen.

"Claude!" he shouted. "I trust you're feeling well tonight?" Osteen thumped his chest. "I feel strong. Strong! Be ready up there tonight, Ernie."

ERNIE SMILED sweetly. The world was a barrel of fudge. Ernie walks the sunny side of the street. Every place he looks, he see cherries. He can see good in the man-eating shark. "Smiling, the boy fell dead," could have been a poem written about Ernie Banks. He would stand on a scaffolding and compliment the hangman for the efficiency of his knot. He would have dessert and a toothpick with his last mean and say, "My compliments to the chef," and stop to brush a fly off the warden's jacket on his way through the green door. Ernie would say, "Well, it's a nice night for it" if he was on the deck of the Titanic. He would smile at a firing squad, console the guy who ran into him with his car.

Ernie plays the Glad Game on and off the field. He wouldn't complain if a guy stood on his foot all the way across the country. He has been known to murmur, "It was a good pitch, wasn't it?" as he took a called third strike with the bases loaded. His helmet doesn't have a dent in it from being thrown against a dugout wall. He's never done anything to a water cooler but draw a glass of water.

THREE YEARS in a row now, manager Leo Durocher has tried to retire him. Ernie cheerfully accepted and led the cheers from the bench. His demotions only lasted until the ptichers began curving 'em. Pretty soon, Leo had to put his All-American Smile back in the infield.

Ernie could make Hubert Humphrey look gloomy, Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm seem like an old grouch. The manger calls him "Shirley Temple." The record book calls him "Great." If he gets into the World Series, he will be the only one in it with 2,500 lifetime hits, 500 lifetime homeruns, and 20 million lifetime grins. Ernie would have to wear a mask at a funeral. Maybe even his own. He would look as if he were enjoying himself even then. He's not only sure there's a heaven, but that there are only fast balls and day games and a true hops up there.

Don't worry about Vietnam. Both sides will win. The mortgage? You'll burn it in a year. The kids? One of them will grow up to be President. Rain is just pennies from heaven. Be sure that your umbrella is upside down. Smile, my honey dear. The World Series? The Cubs can't lose. But if they do? Well, somebody has to.

Annual Redwood Baseball Features Enlarged Field

An enlarged field of ten teams will provide the sparks in the sixth annual Redwood High School Tournament of Baseball Champions, which kicks off Thursday at Albert Field in San Rafael with a three-game slate.

Some of the top teams and most touted players in Northern California will be there, battling in a dizzy three-day span.

Here's the schedule for the first two days:

On Thursday, Jefferson High School of the Northern Peninsula League meets Lincoln of San Francisco in the lid-lifter at 4 p.m. At 6 p.m. defending champion Oakland Tech of the Oakland Athletic League takes on Irvington of the Mission Valley League. The final game tomorrow has St. Elizabeth's of the Catholic Athletic League taking on Arroyo of the Hayward Athletic League.

On Friday, the winners of the first two games will battle at noon, followed by a game between the losers of the first two games at 2 p.m. At 4 p.m., Analy, North Bay League champ, meets Richmond of the Alameda Athletic League. At 6 p.m., the winners of Thursday's 8 p.m. game tangle with the winner's of Friday's noon game. And in the Friday windup, Marin County Athletic League champ Novato meets Diablo Valley Champion Antioch.

Oakland Tech, Richmond and St. Elizabeth's are the only returnees from last year's tournament. St. Elizabeth's has been to all the tournaments without winning a title. Oakland Tech won last year by downing MCAL champ Terra Linda in the finals.

The MCAL has had only one champion in the tournament's history and that was when Marin Catholic's proud underdogs took it all in 1966. Santa Cruz won it in 1964, followed by El Camino in 1965, Marin Catholic, Petaluma in 1967 and Oakland Tech last year.

Here's a rundown on some of the opposition Novato may be facing in the tournament.

Antioch (17-5) is topped by outfielder Bob Vera, an all-leaguer with a .420 batting average, and all-league second baseman Rich Head, who hit at a .342 clip.

Irvington (16-6) won its league behind hurler Dick Ruthzen, who had a 9-0 league mark and a 12-1 overall record. The top hitter is third baseman Ben Mozzetti (.358).

Richmond has the best record in the tournament at 22-3 and one of the top pitchers in Daryl Dickens, who had a 9-0 league mark highlighted by two no-hitters and five shutouts. Centerfielder James Juniel is hitting .425.

Oakland Tech has all-tournment catcher-pitcher Ron Dyson returning with a .380 batting average and the distinction of never having lost a game as a pitcher with a 10-0 record for the past two seasons. Pitcher-outfielder Bob Adams is 4-0 on the mound and is hitting .390. Oakland Tech is 13-5 on the season.

St. Elizabeth is topped by pitcher-outfielder Gary Key with a 7-1 record, a 1.01 earned run average and a .358 batting average. Catcher Tom Kainey is hitting .320 with 14 runs batted in.

Lincoln has a 17-7 record, beating Sacred Heart in the San Francisco playoffs. Greg Sicora is the top hitter at .370.

Mrs. Young Wins Captain's Trophy

Mrs. Sam Young won the captain's trophy at the San Geronimo Women's Golf Club's medal play tourney yesterday and Mrs. Roger Williams took low gross honors with an 84 at the Indian Valley Women's Golf Club's Guest Day Tourney in Novato yesterday.

Athletics Sell Wyatt, Release Sub Pagliaroni

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Athletics sold catcher Jim Pagliaroni to the Seattle Pilots Tuesday and gave pitcher John Wyatt his unconditional release.

At the same time, the Athletics called up pitcher George Lauzerique from their Des Moines, Iowa, Triple A farm club and recalled catcher Gene Tenace from Birmingham of the Southern Association.

Pagliaroni, a 31-year-old veteran of nine seasons in the majors, was hitting .148 in occasional duty with the A's and had one home run. Wyatt, 34, was 0-1 with a 5.42 earned run average with the club.

Lauzerique, a right-handed pitcher who will be 22 in July, had a 5-0 record with a 1.47 era in Des Moines. Tenace, 22, is hitting .364 with eight home runs at Birmingham.

MARINITES IN BUSINESS

State College Honors CBS Radio Executive

Neil E. Derrough of San Rafael, vice president of the CBS radio division, and general manager of KCBS, San Francisco, recently received the San Jose State College Alumni Association's outstanding business alumni award.

Derrough, a 1958 graduate of San Jose State College, was cited for his "outstanding contributions to the community through excellence in public service editorial broadcasting. He lives at 42 McNear Drive.

Sawdon

CROCKER-CITIZENS National Bank has named Victor H. Sawdon as assistant manager of its East San Rafael office, where he served as operations officer from November 1965, until June 1968. Sawdon most recently served in the bank's West Bay regional office in San Francisco. He has been with the bank since 1947, and is a former director of the Ross Valley Kiwanis Club.

GERALD A. BURKHART of San Anselmo has been appointed secretary-cashier of Barclays Bank of California in San Francisco after serving as vice president and cashier of the Independent Bank in Orange County.

GIRARD J. DOYLE of 412 Forbes Avenue, San Rafael, has been promoted to staff claims director at the home office of Fireman's Fund American Insurance Companies in San Francisco, where he was supervisor of property claims during the past year.

MARVIN W. WEISSENSEE, for six years a newspaper distributor for the San Francisco Chronicle, is now associated with Brockmann Realty, 36 Tiburon Boulevard, Mill Valley. A nine-year resident of Marin, Weissensee lives at 141 San Francisco Boulevard, San Anselmo.

THE SCRIMSHAW, an art gallery and mariners' shop, has opened above the No Name Bar in Sausalito. Peter Bowen, William Gilkerson and Brooks Townes are owners, with Townes as manager. Townes said he hopes to entice sailors to come into the shop to spin sea tales, and merchandise will include cannons, harpoons and such.

Prime Rate Fears Hurt Wall Street

NEW YORK (UPI)—A growing belief that a hike in prime bank interest rates is in the offing touched off another stock market decline today in moderately active trading.

But losses were not so sharp as in the previous session because some members of the banking community were opposed to boosting these rates on the grounds an increase would not cut back borrowing appreciably. Currently the rate is at a record 7.5 per cent.

Steels generally were under mild pressure. Production and orderings were cut back last week.

Building materials were mixed, although a private survey indicated that construction contracts in April climbed 3 per cent from the previous month.

Profit taking hit several oil issues after recent strength but Natomas, up sharply last week, continued in high gear. The concern has an interest in oil exploration in the East Indies.

Conglomerates were mixed, but chemicals and rails were mostly lower. Penn Central and Northwest Industries ranged about a point or so lower in their group.

Airlines were narrowly mixed. There were several point-plus movers in the electronics, but the group lacked a definite pattern.

American Telephone was on the weak side.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Greyhound Offers More Than Bus Travel Alone

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I hold a considerable amount of Greyhound Corp. stock, but the price action is disappointing. Is my confidence in the company misplaced? —D. S.

Q. I have a small loss in Greyhound; should I hold? I am interested in short-range investments. —P. M.

A. To questioner No. 2: Although I suggest holding for recovery, you picked the wrong stock for short-term trading. However, for questioner No. 1, who has held Greyhound since 1959: Your patience should be rewarded.

Greyhound has made considerable progress in its diversification program. In 1968, 70 per cent of revenues came from transportation operations, down from 95 per cent in 1961 when the program was initiated. Company goal is 50 per cent for bus revenues with the remainder coming from leasing, financial, food and service operations. It would appear that the expansion program is beginning to pick up momentum, and gains from segments of the transportation business are also showing greater promise of profitability.

In addition to intercity passenger transporting, Greyhound has carried on an express package delivery service. Larger freight compartments in a newly adopted MC-6 bus will allow this function to grow without noticeably adding to operating costs. Parcel express revenues, which have grown at a 15 per cent annual rate, should reach $50 million this year.

Cash Deal Only

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Rusco Industries, Ind., said it was aware of reported Mafia ties of some officials and directors of Hazel Park Racing Association in Michigan, which it is seeking to acquire. For that reason, Rusco said, the deal will be for cash and if it goes through, there will be a fairly complete change in management.

ON VIOLENCE: The Bomb Creates Violent World

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Poison gas in World War I was so "violent" a weapon it has not been used since except by Egyptians experimenting with Russian-made bombs in Yemen.

Nuclear weapons have not been used in the 24 years since Hiroshima and Nagasaki. No power wanted to chance sparking an atomic war.

The same destructiveness which makes nations reluctant to use "nukes" makes it necessary for the great powers to build their major defenses around these systems, tying up a hefty share of their strength in normally "usable" weapons. Atomic warheads have, in many instances, lost their "credibility" as a threat.

This destructive power has created among many people in the major developed nations a stronger revulsion to all kinds of war than has been apparent in the past. These signs have been particularly marked in Japan, the United States, Britain, France and West Germany. There is some reason to believe that this same revulsion has grown amongst those ruled on the other side of the Iron Curtain.

THIS NUCLEAR destructiveness combined with war revulsion has created a new kind of unbalance:

A weak nation with three or four missile-firing submarines may soon be able to practice nuclear blackmail on the major powers.

Tiny countries, such as Ghana or North Korea, can defy the stronger nations — even to capturing their ships or shooting down their planes. To date, neither Moscow nor Washington has found a solution.

As a corollary, it has become much more difficult for major powers, even acting in concert, to prevent smaller aggressive nations from preying on their weaker neighbors.

NATIONS WHICH have mastered the art of underground subversion are in an especially good position to wreak havoc on their weaker neighbors. In such cases, the strong powers find it especially difficult to bring their restraining power into effective play.

As a result of the nuclear-caused polarization around two superpowers, small nations now can more effectively play one power against the other, threatening to switch to the "other side" if they don't receive the arms, economic aid and political backing they desire. This encourages an increased degree of small-nation political and military irresponsibility. The small nation knows that even when it acts quite irrationally its sponsor may not dare cut off aid and other backing.

THE TYPE of violence typified by assassinations, sabotage, kidnapings, arson and handset bombing is gaining in importance in international aggression. By these means, small units of determined violent men can produce very great effects indeed.

But there's another side to the coin.

The fear of nuclear havoc is producing strong political strains. Equally great economic strains are resulting from the growing cost of creating and constantly updating mammoth nuclear forces on top of conventional armies.

These strains could lead the Soviet Union and the United States eventually to reach some accommodation on arms control.

Drugs: Unreal Debates And Too-Real Tragedy

The increase in drug use, particularly among young people, has been the subject of much agonized and agonizing discussion the past few years.

Reasons for youths' "turning on" with hallucinatory drugs have been discussed by psychiatrists and sociologists, debated by parents and teachers.

Lawmakers have struggled with how to fit legislation to control of the new drugs, some of which are potent in such small quantities as to often defy detection. Physicians have begun to delve into long-suspected but unproved long-term effects of such "mild" hallucinogens as cannabis.

ENDLESS PUBLIC meetings have attempted to define the causes that send youths seeking "release" through drugs. Teachers and sociologists have blamed the parents; parents have blamed the teachers; youth have blamed police; police have blamed the courts.

School administrators have alternated between belittling the problem and insisting that it is not their "bag" and they cannot control drugs on campus.

How users progress from the milder to the more dangerous drugs has also been the topic of interminable debate. Prison records and reports from the admitted "former dope addicts" at Synanon have shown a typical pattern of beginning with marijuana, then trying something with more "kicks," progressing through the methedrines, "speed," sometimes LSD, and at last, heroin. Yet some psychiatrists and other physicians have insisted there is no proof that marijuana leads to more powerful drugs.

THE "DRUG SCENE" is reported almost daily in the pages of this newspaper. In March of this year, seeking to cast light into the dark corners of the somber and confusing picture, we presented an in-depth series on drugs by famed Associated Press science writer Alton Blakeslee.

Yet with all this searching, all this debate, all this hand wringing, the picture of what drugs really do to the user remains for most of us but two-dimensional. Fault-finders and apologists alike seem often to be talking about something that is not quite real to them.

We still hear those — including some in high places, and professing expert knowledge — who equate drug use with the 5 o'clock martini or the six-pack of beer.

We have, perhaps, become so familiar with drugs at second hand through the reading, the discussing, the debating, that we have become immunized against realization of the actual menace.

ON THE PAGE opposite this today, in Larry D. Hatfield's "Reporter's Notebook," is an account to shake us out of this feeling of unreality.

It contains no scientific jargon, no sociological cause-seeking, no breast beating, no hand wringing. It is a factual report of an evening spent with two young people.

In reading it, remember that these are but two of many in the strange society which has grown up around drugs.

Foxgloves — Wild And Tame

Those tall spears of bell-like blossoms, mostly lavender or white, flecked with brown spots, irregular as paint spatters, are carefully cutivated, highly prized Marin garden plants. We refer, of course, to the foxgloves.

These plants are native to Europe and Asia, and their leaves have been used for centuries as a heart stimulant. Digitalis is still used in modern madicine in the same way as in ancient times. However, it has now been synthesized, which is supposed to make it a more precise strength. Being shade-loving plants, foxgloves quickly took to the woods in Northern California.

Now, they seem quite at home, growing among the bracken in the shade of the monarchs of the redwood forest.

Memorial Day: Two Meanings

Friday is Memorial Day in the United States, set aside to honor the nation's war dead.

In Biafra, the day has a different significance. Two years ago Friday, the nation of Biafra was created by secession from Nigeria.

There is a similarity, though. Perhaps two million Biafrans have died in the two years—from starvation, bombs and gunfire.

We may mourn Friday, not only for our own war dead, but for these victims of 20th century tribal warfare in Africa.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Reader Misses 'Country Parson'

What has happened to the Country Parson?

Of the many fine articles, news items and special features in the I-J, this is one small item that I feel is needed and enjoyed by many and missed by me.

Please don't remove this spiritual thought for the day. I'm sure there are others who will agree.

Forman Cartoon Is Misunderstood

The idea conveyed in your editorial cartoon of May 20, that the churches of black people are preying on the white community, seems to me outrageous, unjust and dangerously irresponsible. If a case can be made against the demands presented by a specific person named "Forman," then surely Mr. Forman could be identified, and some pertinent factual information given. Has the Independent-Journal constructive alternatives to propose?. . . .

(Editor's note: The National Black Economic Development Conference recently adopted a "black manifesto" demanding that Christian churches and Jewish synagogues give $500 million for "reparations" of the Negro race. James forman, a director of this organization, disrupted Riverside Church service in New York May 4 to read this demand, along with other demands.)

Your cartoon (May 20) from the Los Angeles Times is the first racist cartoon — undeniably and unmistakably racist — that I've ever seen. You are, I think, to be condemned for printing it.

Board Meeting Is Disillusioning

Prior to Thursday, May 1, I was a concerned citizen of America, 100 per cent in favor of working within the system for the needed changes to better our potentially beautiful country. The College of Marin board of trustees meeting that passed a motion allowing the Army Corps of Engineers to enter college grounds, along with numerous board of supervisors and state parks and recreation "public hearings." has changed my viewpoint from such a nieve (sic) one.

Letters to "What Our Readers Say" are welcomed. Only letters with signatures and addresses will be considered. Please keep them under 200 words. We reserve the right to cut letters.

I have found it true that a small number of greedy Very Important People are controling our basic natural rights, and there is no other choice than to secure release from their threats of arrest, suspension from school, etc. to do what I know is right.

In your April 30 editorial concerning the creek, you correctly stated that some "over-30" people are leading students to practice open defiance of orderly process. But these people are not Marty Kent Jones, or Lawrence Halprin, they are the board of trustees, the supervisors, the military, the senators, the electoral college, the governors, the president. I was ambitious enough to overcome my apathy, only to find out first hand that our system relies on uninformed voters and apathy.

At public hearings, the people are not listened to, or not allowed to speak. "We're tired, We want lunch," says the state Parks and Recreation Commission, and as a result, Angel Island is subject to becoming another Disneyland. . . .

I was not born black; I have not realized my second-class status all my life, therefore, I have already established a reverence for peace as I've had time to do so. Many others haven't. Listen to them. John F. Kennedy said, "Those who make peaceful revolution impossible make violent revolution inevitable." It's up to you.

Concerned Students Put In Quandary

My permanent home is San Anselmo; I know what it is to read of student disturbances while sitting in my pleasant home and to dismiss them as the work of "radical Communist revolutionaries suppressing the majority."

My temporary home is the University of California at Davis; I know what it is to listen at a rally as the administration, faculty, and "silent majority" of the students disprove my former illusions.

The problem thousands of us "apathetic Aggies" are now working on is: how can we communicate with the public? If we have a rally, the media broadcasts the emotional speeches and ignores the rational ones. If we march to our administration building, we are presented as an army and not as 3,000 student supporters of our chancellor. If we march in Berkeley, Davis, or Sacramento, we are received not as actively concerned human beings with a message but as arrogant disturbers of the peace.

Thes leaves us with the alternative of silence, or do-nothingism. . . .

But we do care and so we do rally and we do assemble and we do march and we do keep asking ourselves, "Are they listening?"

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

INTERNATIONAL spies aren't the only ones who intercept important notes. Here's the correspondence spirited away from a boy and girl who sat next to each other in a third grade class. Wrote the boy, "Dear Judy: I love you. Do you luv me? Jonathan." Answered the girl, "Dear Jonathan: I do not love you. I hate you. Love, Judy."

Ex-Secretary of Agriculture Freeman ran into a spot of trouble when he agreed to address a group of bigwigs in the farm set at Minneapolis one afternoon. He began modestly enough: "There must be a thousand men operating in the field of agriculture who know more about the subject than I do," but then, aware that he was tarnishing his reputation as an expert, he blurted, "but I don't see any of them in this room!"

MARQUIS CHILDS

Chance To End The Arms Race Recedes As Months Slip By

WASHINGTON — The Johnson administration left behind for the incoming president and his foreign policy advisers a vitally important document. Duly initialed after months of effort by both Russian and American representatives, this paper laid down the agreed principles under which the arms limitation talks, theoretically soon to begin, were to be conducted.

So far as the Russian side is concerned nothing more has been heard of that document. In fact, except informally at a level well below the top, no approach has been made to the Russians in the nearly four months since the Johnson administration left office. A great silence has prevailed. The reasons for the silence lie in the obstacle course still to be got over before the United States can meet at Geneva to talk with the Russians about ways to prevent another enormously costly upward turn in the nuclear arms race.

THE BARRIERS on that obstacle course are formidable, suggesting it may be well beyond early summer before negotiation can start. The obstacle course runs through the Pentagon, the National Security Council, and the final barrier is approval, or at any rate sympathetic understanding, by America's allies. So far there have been only trial runs over this course.

One of the achievements of the Johnson administration was to get agreement from the Joint Chiefs of Staff on a negotiating position. Whether, in light of the antiballistic missile controversy, this agreement among the military has been eroded is a question. A further doubt is over future tests the military have scheduled for KIRV, the multiple independently targeted reentry vehicles, giving each warhead the capability of direct hits on eight or nine separate targets. Should the United States go ahead with these tests, the Soviet Union can be expected to insist on the right to similar tests.

THOSE FAMILIAR with the negotiations leading up to the nuclear test ban and the nuclear nonproliferation treaties are convinced that any attempt to get approval for specific negotiating points from our allies will mean a long delay. They see it as a kind of trap in which the United States can be bogged down indefinitely while the chances for checking the arms race go glimmering. The West Germans, with their complex involvement in eastern Europe and their deep suspicion of anything Russian can stall for weeks.

Henry A. Kissinger, the President's assistant for national security affairs, is highly critical of past negotiation. He believes the nonproliferation treaty is in limbo today, with key nations withholding their approval, because the allies were not kept current with the various stages of the negotiating process. Germany, Japan, India, Israel and Brazil are among the nations that have not yet signed the treaty.

Those who worked over the years negotiating the two treaties say every possible effort was made to keep America's allies, and in particular West Germany, up to date at each successive stage. A German observer was always present. Each week the then head of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, William C. Foster, gave a report to the North Atlantic Council in Brussels on the exact status of the talks.

With the days slipping by, the great unknown on the American side matches the unknown on the Russian side. The delay of five to six months will have erased the last best chance to stop and look at how high the stakes are in this race.

Wilson, Tough Bulldog, Won't Quit Under Fire

JOSEPH W. GRIGG

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson is up to his neck in trouble. He is taking a lambasting from the nation's big labor unions and sizeable sections of his own governing labor party.

But his aides say the one thing that can be ruled out is that he will quit under fire.

'I know what's going on," Wilson said in a recent speech. "I'm going on and this government is going on."

YET WILSON is playing a very tough game of political poker — some even call its Russian roulette — over legislation designed to curb wildcat strikes. He hopes to get it through paliament before fall.

The unions and up to 60 per cent of the 350 Laborite members of parliament are opposed to sections of the bill providing for a mandatory 28-day "cooling off" period and possible fines against wildcat strikers and unions that back them.

Wilson insists these "penal clauses" are vital in order to curb the wildcat walkouts that have plagued Britain increasingly in recent years.

The Conservative opposition favors them too, but plans to vote against the bill on the grounds it does not go far enough towards reforming the unions.

Most British newspapers have taken the same line, though some have voiced doubts that a mandatory "cooling off" period or the type of fines provided in the bill would be really effective or even workable.

WILSON ADMITS this dispute has caused a "deep fundamental split" between the political and union wings of the Labor Party.

But Wilson told union leaders he is prepared to stake his government's life on passage of the bill—including the "penal clauses."

These threats are, in fact, a form of political brinkmanship. Wilson is using them in an effort to bulldoze the recalcitrant unions and labor party left wing into swallowing the legislation.

Wilson's main leverage stems from the threat that if he is defeated and forced to resign and call parliamentary general elections, the labor party faces near-annihilation.

It has suffered an unbroken series of disasters in local government elections and parliamentary by-elections in the past 18 months. Recent straw popularity polls have given the Conservative opposition a 25 per cent lead over labor.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

'But He's Not Like That All The Time—It Can Be Beautiful'

"This is Mark. We live together. Does that shock you?" Linda asked as a slight, sallow youth with pale blue and distant eyes stepped into the dingy apartment not far from downtown Petaluma.

"No. Should it?" I answered the pretty but slightly faded girl I had known a long time ago and had just met again by chance.

"He's on speed. Does that?"

"Not especially."

"WHO IS THIS guy?" Mark asked. He is a boy of no more than 20 who, I found out later, was the son of a prominent Chicago physician and who lived in the same tony North Shore suburb where Linda had lived when I'd known her. Linda is 24.

"I just thought it might," she said to me. To him, she said, "He's okay. He's straight but he's okay. I know him."

Mark picked up a jug of wine — the kind that comes in a gallon jug for 99 cents and which I had refused earlier — and took a drink, walked to the sink in the same room and spat it out. Then he sat and stared at us — me mostly.

Linda and I chatted, mostly about unimportant things. She was, she said, not doing anything but "living free" and "loving and being loved."

AFTER A WHILE, Mark got up and left the room. A short time later, he returned with a hypodermic holding a faintly cloudy substance. "That's speed," Linda said quietly as he looked at me — defiantly, I thought — and injected himself. His arm bore evidence of previous needles.

"You want me to go?" I asked as he sat down again, still silent. "Why?" Linda asked. I stayed.

After a while, Mark got up and walked to a bare, flower print-papered wall and rubbed it with the palms of his hands. He did this for 10, maybe 15 minutes, occasionally making soft, gurgling sounds but nothing else. He seemed oblivious to us.

"HOW LONG has he taken drugs?" I asked. "As long as I've known him," Linda said. "Out here, I mean. We never did in school, except for marijuana. But you knew that, I think."

"How long have you?" I asked. She said just since she had come to California, several months ago. "Not very often."

She was quiet, then said softly, "Lars, don't tell my parents or Jon (her brother) will you?" I assured her I would not but asked why she cared if, as she had told me, she had really "checked out of this rotten society."

"I just do," she said.

MARK TURNED and looked into the corner of the ceiling and said, "It goes. It goes. It goes." He reached into the air and rubbed thin air just as he had done the wall. "It goes," he repeated. He then spoke of stars and other things I couldn't quite understand and again returned to "It goes. It goes." Then he laughed and looked at us.

Chuckling quietly to himself, Mark sat down on a wooden chair — where he had sat and stared before — and closed his eyes. In a few seconds, he went into something resembling catatonia with his muscles stiffened and expression frozen.

"IS HE LIKE this every time?" I asked.

"Sometimes it's like this but it's different almost every time," Linda said. 'Sometimes Mark is like this even when he hasn't taken anything."

He sat there for maybe a half hour as Linda and I exchanged fruitless arguments about drugs. The only point I scored with her was when I said I felt the use of marijuana should be a matter of choice not law.

"Look, not everybody gets like Mark," she argued. "Very few do. Look at me. I'm what you call normal and I think I'm productive. For myself at least. And Mark's not like that all the time."

"BUT WHERE does it end? And is the whole thing worth it when something like that does happen to Mark?" I asked.

"I don't know," Linda said, "but it's not as dangerous or as bad as you say. It can be beautiful. It is for a lot of people."

We were diverted as Mark opened his eyes and chuckled lowly. He talked, lucidly and intelligently, for a while, then lapsed into silence again.

Then he cried.

For several minutes, tears streaked down his face and he intermittently made a sort of choking, sobbing sound. Then he leapt from the straight-backed chair and went out the door.

WE SAT THERE. "Don't you think you should go after him?" I asked. Linda said he was just going to the place where he had got the needle in the beginning. "He's okay there. They take care of him."

I left a short time later and am not ashamed to confess the whole scene had left me shaken.

I have covered race riots in Washington, Baltimore and Salisbury, Md., have been shot at, was clubbed and arrested by federal marshals at the Pentagon demonstration in 1967, covered and was arrested during the madness in Chicago at last summer's Democratic convention, witnessed the last legal hanging in the state of Iowa, have seen people decapitated and shot and have watched heroin addicts and alcoholics on withdrawal.

But never have I been quite so scared (for the future of the Marks and Lindas and all of us) as I was then.

I've never seen any of the countless barbarisms of which the human animal is uniquely capable that was more chilling.

Branson School Graduation For 34 Scheduled June 7

Thirty-four students will be graduated from Katharine Branson School, Ross, at 11 a.m. June 7 at the school. Top students will also be honored that day in traditional Prize Day awards.

Misses Amonette, Hooper, Decker and Dudli have received membership in the school's Cum Laude Society.

Streptococcus Tops County Disease List

Streptococcus infections headed the list of communicable diseases reported in Marin last week with 56 cases, Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officers, has reported.

Second was gonorrhea with 19 cases. There were two cases of salmonella, a stomach disorder, two of infectious heptatitis, one of syphillis, and one of German measles.

15 Graduates Due Diplomas At North Marin

North Marin High School in Novato will graduate 15 students in ceremonies at 11 a.m. June 12 at the Novato Community House, according to Principal Joseph D. Gargiulo.

Jon D. Nutter will be the student speaker.

Visiting dignitaries will also make short speeches, Gargiulo said. These include Supt. James G. Bunker, Deputy Supt. Ralph Giovanniello, County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis and Mayor Harley A. McAskill.

Test Area Hot With Anthrax?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An area in Utah has been permanently contaminated with pulmonary anthrax, a disease that can kill a few days after contact, and represents a hazard to man and wildlife, according to Rep. Richard McCarthy, D-N.Y.

McCarthy identified the "germ warfare" disease yesterday in a letter to Secretary Robert H. Finch of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. McCarthy, who has been conducting a running campaign against the Pentagon's chemical and biological warfare testing, previously revealed the contamination but did not specify the disease.

The contaminated area, he said, is at the Dugway Proving Grounds in Utah where a nerve gas experiment last year killed 6,400 sheep.
